FLOOD SWEEPS 30 TO DEATH

BOARD REORGANIZED AT STORMY SESSION

"Bald-Headed Ostrich," "You Think You're Smart," "Undesirables," Hurled by School Directors

IN the most explosive of a series of steam-heated meetings, the lid blew off the Board of Education last night with a bang, paving the way for a complete reorganization of that branch of the city government and marking the practical retirement of Secretary J. W. McClymonds from the position he has held for a quarter of a century.

All supplies for which the department has not already contracted will, for the balance of the year, be bought through the purchasing department of the city of Oakland; School Superintendent McClymonds will resign as the executive officer and secretary of the Board of Education, and new departments will be created, with the assistance of the Civil Service Commission, to take care of the business side of the board's affairs. The various activities of the Board of Education will be systematized and reapportioned and an endeavor will be made to end the chaos in which the directors now find themselves hopelessly lost.

This understanding was reached last night with the same spirit of harmony and mutual admiration that might be expected from a bunch of Kilkenny cats with their tails tied together.

HARSH "WOIDS" THESE.

Director Harry L. Boyle referred to Secretary McClymonds as a "bald-headed old ostrich"; he told Director A. S. Kelly that the latter ought to be ashamed of himself, and he informed the board generally that they were "undesirables." Director John Forrest, who seldom if ever loses his urbanity, got to his feet and delivered a scholarly rebuke to Director F. B. Cook and Cook remarked that he wouldn't let any man talk to him like that and proceeded to berate Forrest. McClymonds denounced Boyle and Bronner and Boyle each told the other that "they were not afraid of any man, at any time, and at any old place." Director Annie Brown, not to be outdone, scored McClymonds, Orr, Bronner and Dr. Kelly, individually and collectively. Sometimes they found themselves all scoring at the same time and had to stop and ask each other what it was all about. When they found out they started all over again with the happy enthusiasm of Mexican revolutionists.

McClymonds, himself termed by the pugnacious Boyle as "the greatest politician in Alameda county," started the boiler rattling with a carefully prepared statement advising the adoption of a resolution turning over to the city purchasing department all school supplies for which the board had not already let the contracts.

THUNDER WAS STOLEN.

This was stealing the thunder of the minority members of the board, who met early this week with the rules and regulations committee, headed by Boyle, and prepared a program which was intended to restrict McClymonds to just the duties of school superintendent and clerk and to pave the way for a complete reorganization of the department. In fact, Director Annie Brown had up her sleeve a diplomatic resolution to that effect and she charged that McClymonds had prepared his statement with the knowledge that she was going to present one, too, and with the hope that he might adroitly remove

RUDOLPH SPRECKELS HITS THE PROGRESSIVES

Telegram to United States Senator Works Raps Meyer Lissner and Lieutenant-Governor Wallace

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Rudolph Spreckels, banker of this city and an ardent supporter of Senator La Follette for the presidency, but who has declared himself for Dr. Woodrow Wilson since the Baltimore convention, has taken a stand against the California Progressives headed by Lieutenant-Governor Wallace and Meyer Lissner in their controversy with United States Senator John D. Works.

It became known today that Mr. Spreckels had sent the following telegram to Senator Works when he learned of the demand of the Progressives that the Senator resign.

"During the Presidential primary campaign I issued several public statements calling attention to the fact that many of the men who had been successful in the elections against the Southern Pacific machine had organized a machine of their own.

"Today the bosses of this new machine have demanded that you resign as Senator. The demand was not based upon your attitude or vote upon matters before the Senate, but because you dared make a protest against the improper action of these bosses. As a true progressive I regret that political success has turned the heads of so many men in the Republican progressive movement. The people will not be free until they learn to vote against boss rule of every kind and uphold with their votes public men who fearlessly take issue against the bosses."

Democrats Abandon Filibuster Plans

WASHINGTON, July 19. — The abandonment of the Democratic filibuster in the Senate, following the agreement for votes next week on the tariff bills, permitted business to start with a rush today.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was taken up and an effort will be made to pass it with little debate.

Senate Objects to Army Promotions

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Opposition has developed in the Senate to the confirmation of Clarence R. Edwards as brigadier general and W. W. Wotherspoon as major general in the army.

It is understood that in the case of General Edwards, who until recently was chief of the bureau of insular affairs, many Senators believe he has had too little experience in the line of the army, while in the case of Wotherspoon objection is that his advancement to a major generalship would carry him over the heads of several other officers.

Two Men Killed in Explosion of Films

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19.—An explosion in the film room of the General Film Company, makers of moving picture films, resulted early today in the death of at least two men and a property loss of $200,000.

The known dead are:

ABRAHAM LINBERLAN.

ISADOR STRATFORD.

The latter dropped five stories with his clothing ablaze and died in the hospital an hour later.

'CORRUPT!' WITNESSES SWEAR

Judge Hanford Is Charged With Crooked Deal in School Lands

United States Court Official Is Accused of 'Understanding' With Railroad

SEATTLE, July 19.—When the House judiciary sub-committee met today it had heard testimony on all the charges against United States District Judge Cornelius H. Hanford except those growing out of the Seattle, Renton and Southern injunctions and the judge's alleged effort to defeat the recall of Mayor Hiram C. Gill in 1910.

The committee apparently attaches great importance to the co-operation between Judge Hanford and the Northern Pacific railway concerning the Hanford Irrigation and Power Company.

The numerous letters which the committee has caused to be copied into the record tend to prove that Judge Hanford was a persistent and successful seeker of favors from the Northern Pacific Railway Company, which at the same time was one of the principal litigants in his court. The letters indicate also that the judge was at all times the ruling spirit of the Hanford company.

SCHOOL LAND DEAL.

H. L. Klock, a merchant, testified that at a meeting of the Seattle creditmen, when it was decided not to furnish to the Congressional committee evidence concerning bankruptcy proceedings in Judge Hanford's court, he had told his fellow committeemen of a conversation with a man named Sutton, relative to the Hanford Irrigation and Power Company, having specially favored in the sale of school lands. Sutton went to the witness and borrowed $325 to make first payment on a tract of 160 acres of school land on which he intended to bid. Sutton told witness that "he had got next to a sale of state land that was going to be pulled off by Judge Hanford and his friends."

Klock said Sutton told him land worth $1500 an acre had been appraised at $10 an acre, advertised in an out-of-the-way paper, and would be sold in an obscure place where there would be a few bidders besides Judge Hanford's representatives. Sutton afterward told him, Klock said, that he had bid in a "dandy piece of land" for $1700, for which he had been offered $12,000.

CREDITORS CHEATED.

Two members of a large drygoods firm of Seattle testified to the rejection by Judge Hanford of the firm's offer of $65,000 for the bankrupt stock of the McCarthy Drygoods Company, which, after a long receivership, yielded $11,000, or 3½ per cent to the creditors.

The committee at noon went through the papers of the Northern Pacific Land Company's land dealings with the Hanford Irrigation and Power Company.

The committee heard testimony as to Judge Hanford's ruling in connection with the municipal campaign which resulted in the recall of Mayor Gill. Full documentary evidence is before the committee.

Hanford's address before the National Irrigation Congress held in Seattle in September 1909, was placed in the record. The Judge took sharp issue with Gifford Pinchot, then chief forester, and favored development of the public lands by private effort.

ITALIANS STORM FORTS

Dardanelles Closed After Turks Sink Two of Enemy's War Vessels

Effect of Battle Felt in the Wheat Pit, Where Prices Soar High

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19.—Eight Italian torpedo boats attacked the entrance to the Dardanelles at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The Turkish forts replied vigorously, sinking two of the Italian warships and damaging the other six. The cannonade lasted 45 minutes.

The cabinet ministers were hurriedly called to the palace, where at a council of war it was decided to close the Dardanelles. Tewfick Pasha, the Turkish Ambassador at London, who on July 17 was appointed grand vizier, has undertaken to form a new cabinet.

WHEAT ON JUMP.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Excited trading in wheat and corn resulted here from the news of the sinking of Italian warships in the Dardanelles and the closing of the passage.

Shutting off grain from the Black sea ports of Russia and other countries meant the stoppage of one of the chief sources of European supply, and coming wholly without warning set speculators here wild. Wheat prices jumped as much as 2 3-8c and corn 2c. After the rush to buy ended, however, fully half of the advance was lost.

Autoist Crashes Into Big Bridge

Closed Gate of Webster Street Structure Wrecked by Accident.

While driving an automobile, No. 42629, at a high rate of speed yesterday, Harry P. Gray of 604 [illegible] street crashed through the closed gates of the Webster street bridge from the Oakland approach and had gone half way across the bridge before he could bring his machine to a stop.

Had the accident occurred two minutes later Gray would have fallen into the bay and would probably have been drowned. Owing to the fact, however, that the gates had just been closed and the bridge had not been let down on its jacks, Gray was fortunate enough to escape with but a few scratches on his machine. The gates, however, fared badly, they being completely put out of commission.

The bells on the Oakland end of the bridge were ringing at the time of the accident and several vehicles had come to a stop when Gray, tearing along at high speed, turned to the wrong side of the thoroughfare and crashed through the gates.

Pedestrians on the bridge have made considerable complaint because of the reckless manner in which chauffeurs speed across the structure.

Price of Clothing Going Up, News From New York

NEW YORK, July 19.—The price of clothes is going to be advanced next year. This is indicated clearly, merchants say, by the prices named by leading producers of cloth, who have lifted the prices for the spring of 1913 season from 7½ cents to 20 cents a yard above 1912. The most important cause of the advance is that the domestic wool clip this year is about 30,000,000 pounds smaller than a year ago, according to the manufacturers. The price of wool also has gone up abroad. Mill owners say the high scale of wages and shorter working hours also will have their effect on the increase in the price of cloth.

Girl Becomes Ill; Dies in Night En Route to Hospital

Miss Bessie Young, a pretty domestic, 19 years of age, employed by Mrs. M. C. Anthony, 465 Moss avenue, became suddenly ill about 3:30 o'clock this morning and while being rushed in the police ambulance to the receiving hospital succumbed to what is believed to have been an attack of heart failure. An autopsy to discover the cause of death will be held this afternoon. Miss Young was apparently in good health last night and the peculiar circumstances led to a police investigation, Inspectors Harry E. [illegible] Green and William Kyle being detailed on the case. They declared that they found nothing of a suspicious nature. Captain J. F. Lynch, who resides near the Anthony home, was called to the house shortly after 3 o'clock this morning by M. Anthony, Mrs. Anthony's son. Lynch found the girl in a [illegible] condition in her room and had her removed to the hospital. The girl is the daughter of W. T. Young, a rancher of Merced. It was at first thought she might have taken her own life, but there were no indications of suicide.

WOMAN SLEUTH TRAPS WOMEN ALLEGED GAMBLERS IN COURT

MRS. ALMA ROBLIN DUNCAN AND (BELOW) MRS. L. A. BRINK ACCUSED OF CONDUCTING A POOLROOM FOR WOMEN PATRONS.

Mrs. Duncan Says Her Brother Was Official in Canada

Claiming to be the sister of Sir Rodman P. Roblin, for ten years premier of Winnipeg, Canada, who was knighted by King George on the birthday of the British king, July 7, Mrs. Alma Roblin Duncan, arrested with Mrs. L. A. Brink in the police raid on a pool selling place in Oakland, appeared before Judge George Samuels this morning and declared her innocence of any connection with the racetrack gambling parlor. Mrs. Duncan admitted that she knew the rooms [illegible] rented to Mrs. Brink were being used for some purpose in connection with the races, but maintains that she asked no questions.

The three prisoners arrested by Captain Lynch and the posse at 191 Tenth street were formally arraigned this morning and it developed that the evidence against the defendants had been gathered by two women detectives, one of these being Mrs. Mabel Moller. Mrs. Moller has served the authorities in this capacity several times before, acting for the State Board of Pharmacy in gaining evidence against persons making pretensions of being licensed pharmacists and physicians.

FELONY CHARGES.

[illegible] this morning Mrs. Brink, wife of Dr. H. O. Brink of West Berkeley, and John Southerland were jointly arraigned on the felony charge of accepting a wager of $1 on the result of a race in Salt Lake City, the [illegible] being laid by Mrs. Moller [illegible]. Mrs. Duncan was arraigned on a similar charge, the complaint [illegible] that she accepted the wager of $1 [illegible] week ago.

Attorney [illegible] appeared for all three defendants [illegible] against Mrs. Brink and S[illegible] was put over to August [illegible] examination, and that against Mrs. D[illegible]

ARCHBALD IS AT CAPITAL AND READY

Accused Jurist Arrives at Washington; Date Yet to Be Set.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The impeachment court which will try Judge Archbald [illegible] after a brief session today, fixed August 3 as the limit for all formal answers and then adjourned until July 23 without deciding if the trial shall go this summer or go over until fall.

Judge Archbald was ready to appear before the bar of the Senate [illegible] today [illegible] court of impeachment. [illegible] arrived from [illegible] answers. He said he would make no statement.

MORE THAN 20 BODIES FOUND

Wall of Water, Fifteen Feet High, Wipes Out Mazuma and Seven Troughs

Victims of Cloudburst Found Three Miles From Wreck of Their Homes

RENO, July 19.—Searching parties from Lovelock and surrounding towns are scouring the flood-swept canyon and hillsides in the vicinity of Mazuma and Seven Troughs, in Humboldt county, Nevada, for remains of victims of the catastrophe which wiped out the two mining camps late yesterday.

Late reports from the scene of the disaster state that more than a score of bodies have been recovered and it is believed that the death list will number thirty or more.

The dead:

MRS. McLEAN, Mazuma.

MRS. REESE, Mazuma.

EDNA RUDDELL, Postmistress, Mazuma.

MRS. ZONCANNON, Mazuma.

THREE CHILDREN OF MRS. KEHOE, Mazuma.

MIKE WHALING, Mazuma.

PERRY GILLESPIE, Mazuma.

FOURTEEN UNIDENTIFIED.

Missing:

MRS. KEHOE, Mazuma.

Expected to die:

John T. Trenchard.

SITUATED IN CANYON.

Mazuma is situated in a narrow canyon, about half a mile below Seven Troughs. At the latter place no loss of life has been reported, but practically all the business houses, residences and mills were wiped out.

At Mazuma a solid wall of water 15 feet in height swept down the canyon. It carried everything before it and left a debris-covered trail behind it. Just how many victims were swept to their death probably will not be learned for many hours. Although searching parties were busy all night their work was hampered by darkness.

When Mr. and Mrs. Trenchard were found both were in a critical condition. Trenchard is expected to die, but hope is held out that his wife will recover. They were found two miles from their house.

CARRIED THREE MILES.

Mrs. Floyd Foncannon and the three children of Mrs. Kehoe were found dead three miles from their homes. Mrs. Kehoe is missing and is believed to have perished.

Mike Whaling, a miner, lost his life, as did Perry Gillespie, son of Superintendent Gillespie. Superintendent Gillespie saved his wife but was unable to save his son.

While the precipitation in Lovelock has been remarkably heavy for the past three days, the rainfall has been slight in Seven Troughs. As an indication of the suddenness of the disaster it is related that John Trenchard remarked to his wife yesterday afternoon that it looked like rain. He stepped to the front door of his store to note weather conditions. A few

Republican Leaders To Defend President

Taft's Nomination Will Be the Subject of Speeches in Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 19. — Republican leaders of the Senate and House are preparing to defend President Taft's nomination with speeches on the floor.

Senator Root has been suggested to make the leading speech in the Senate. Representatives Bartholdt and Mondell are preparing speeches for delivery in the House.

It has been proposed that the statement prepared with Taft's approval [illegible] at Chicago, might be introduced in both Houses by the leaders.

Report of Tragedy At Sea Is Denied

PARIS, July 19.—The rumors current at Toulon naval station last night that the French torpedo boat destroyer Cavalier had been sunk in collision while participating in the maneuvers and [illegible] number of the crew drowned were declared at the admiralty today to be without foundation.

drops of rain had fallen. As he reached the front door he heard a heavy roar and was confronted by a wall of water fifteen feet high, which carried him and his wife two miles away.

TONOPAH UNDER WATER.

TONOPAH, Nev., July 19.—A stream of water nearly twelve inches in depth swept through the main street of Tonopah yesterday as the result of a cloudburst occurring in the eastern outskirts of this camp.

Business houses on both sides of the street were flooded. In several instances the water invaded the business places to a depth of twelve or fourteen inches. Employes of the Wells Fargo office were forced to leave that establishment when the railroad depot received the full sweep of the water after it passed through the town. Several persons who essayed to cross the streets while the water was at its height were swept off their feet, and it was with difficulty that they regained the sidewalk.

It is believed that the property damage sustained by the business houses will not exceed $200. The full force of the cloudburst struck about half a mile east of Tonopah, although this city received a terrible shower from the outer edge of the rain cloud.

A cloudburst also occurred late yesterday at Redlich, a small station on the Tonopah and Goldfield road, fifty-five miles north of this city. It is reported that half a mile of track was washed away. A special train carrying men and equipment left Goldfield for the scene to repair the damage.

RACE WITH FLOOD.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 19.—Passengers who were aboard a train on the way here when the cloudburst broke last night near Perris told today how their engineer raced against a towering wall of water which swept through the Val Verde canyon in order to save his train from being overwhelmed by the flood. The trainmen noticed the wall of water rolling down the canyon toward the railroad tracks. The engineer opened the throttle and managed to beat the flood into Perris.

The floods softened the roadbed and caused some delay today in traffic. The country about Anderson, a station near Perris, was under several feet of water and great damage was done to crops.

'THIRD DEGREE' GIVEN IN VAIN

Tracks of Man and Woman Found Near Where Merchant Was Slain.

REDDING, July 19.—John Clement, William Clement and Daniel Thompson were given a searching examination today in the inquiry into the death of W. C. Landis, the merchant who was shot from ambush and killed last night. John and William Clement are sons of Mrs. W. C. Bradford of Buckeye, a mining town near Redding, who was killed by Landis, and Thompson was her intimate friend. It is believed yesterday's murder was the outcome of the killing of Mrs. Bradford.

The sweating of the three men failed to reveal evidence connecting them with the crime, according to the district attorney. Tracks of a woman and man found near the scene of the shooting were obliterated by last night's heavy rain.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

Landis shot and killed Mrs. Bradford in front of the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hyatt, one mile from Buckeye, on May 31. He was released from jail on $15,000 bail last Thursday, having been held to answer for the murder of Mrs. Bradford.

Landis started home from Redding yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, driving his own wagon. A. V. Names and Geo. Cannon, also in a wagon, driving toward Buckeye, were 300 yards ahead. Looking back they saw and recognized Landis driving the same way on a trot. The next Names noticed was Landis' team passing him on the road.

CORPSE RECLINES IN SEAT.

"Why, Landis is dead!" said Names.

"No, he isn't. He's sleeping," replied Cannon, noting that Landis was lying down in the seat, half reclining.

"I tell you he is dead," said Names. "Take the lines."

Names jumped out, ran ahead and caught up with Landis' team. He found the merchant dead, a bullet hole in his breast. Names drove the wagon to the store at Buckeye. Mrs. Landis came to the front to greet her husband, only to find that he was dead. She has two little children.

Landis had been shot in the breast, close to the heart. Landis' own gun was lying between his feet, indicating that he had tried to bring it into action, but was not quick enough.

Sheriff Montgomery and his deputies were on the scene within an hour after the tragedy. A careful examination of the road where Landis' hat was found revealed the tracks of a woman and a man.

"Landis had gone armed since his release from jail a week ago. He had been warned that threats had been made against him, but he declared that he was not afraid.

At the inquest and preliminary examination Landis stoutly maintained that he shot only in self-defense and that Mrs. Bradford was armed.

ATROCITIES TO BE INVESTIGATED

England and United States to Take Action Regarding Outrages.

LONDON, July 19.—The atrocities committed in the Putumayo rubber district in Peru, which universally have been characterized here as surpassing in horror any charged to the rubber collectors of the Congo, apparently will be kept in the limelight until something is done to punish the perpetrators.

"Questions were launched at the British foreign office in the House of Commons today and from the replies it was apparent that the foreign office expects to take a subordinate place to the State Department at Washington in bringing Peru to book.

Francis D. Ackland, Parliament secretary for foreign affairs, referred to the question raised by the United States government as to whether Peru is a suitable state to have control of a district like the Putumayo, or whether the government should not be forcibly dispossessed of it, and he promised that "his majesty's government will do everything it possibly can to help any action the United States may take."

One of the objects, the under secretary added, of the British foreign office in publishing the blue book on the subject, was to influence opinion in the United States, and he thought it would no doubt produce that effect. On being asked what steps the government intended to take against the directors of the company, the speaker answered: "This is a horrible company."

The speaker added that none of the perpetrators of the outrage was an Englishman.

GOVERNMENTS IN ACCORD.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Correspondence between the State Department and the British government looking to the suppression of atrocities practiced upon natives in the Putumayo rubber country indicate that the two governments are in perfect accord.

Stuart J. Fuller, this government's special agent, recently announced his arrival at Iquiton, the head of deep waterway navigation on the Amazon, and his purpose to establish a base there and proceed up the river to the Putmayo valley. He is not expected to make an original investigation, for the State Department has accepted the British report as quite sufficient.

Because of the difficulty of access to the Putumayo company it will be some time before the State Department can get a report from Fuller.

CHINESE ARRESTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Three Chinese, two men and a woman, were arrested by United States Deputy Marshal Grover this morning and charged with conspiracy in connection with the wholesale landing of coolies smuggled in from Mexico. Those taken in custody were Hon Shee, Lee Jim Len and Lee Jim Jip.

PLACES BLAME ON MRS. BRINK

to August 5. Mrs. Brink and Mrs. Duncan are out on $1000 bail each, but Southerland is still incarcerated.

The operations of the alleged trio of pool sellers were on a small basis. Pool sellers have operated in Oakland and their investments have run into princely sums of money. The men behind the gambling have ridden in automobiles and have worn diamonds.

There is nothing of this flash and color about the little gambling place in Tenth street. Two women in rather poor circumstances, and a man waiting for a possible appointment as a teamster in the city street department were the backers of the concern. The capital is said to have been provided by Mrs. Brink, and she confessed to Acting Chief Walter Petersen that her bank account would not run over $100.

SMALL AFFAIR.

Rental of $10 for the rooms, a stolen service on the returns of the Salt Lake races which it cost the pool room operators about $15 a week to purchase, a few charts and books and two telephones formed the stock in trade of the place. The whole investment ran to less than $50

The service telephoned to the headquarters as to the returns on the Salt Lake races was obtained, it is believed, by a man who would visit various pool rooms in this city where telegraphic returns on the races are posted up from race to race, and would then go to a telephone and relay the information to Southerland.

The two women and the man arrested gave no suggestion in their appearance and bearing of their connection with the world of sport. Mrs. Brink was dressed in dark and wore a straw hat and spectacles and veil. She gave the appearance as she stood in court this morning of a woman of the middle classes, not accustomed to going about in the city—a "home woman."

Dr. Brink arrived at the police court first this morning, and during the time of waiting and the court proceeding, hardly spoke to his wife or gave the appearance of having any connection with the affair. While his wife was being arraigned the Berkeley physician stared straight in front of him, and during the entire morning maintained a set expression which never changed.

MRS. BRINK IS SILENT.

Mrs. Brink listened to the arraignment with an appearance of being somewhat bored by the proceedings. She refused to comment upon the affair.

Mrs. Duncan was visibly perturbed. Following her arraignment, she denied any connection with the case. She said:

"This is a horrible affair for me to have gotten mixed up in. I am in rather poor circumstances, but I did not have to descend to this sort of thing, and I would not do so. I value the family name too highly.

"I came from Canada, and my brother, Sir Rodman P. Roblin was knighted only a few days ago by King George, the honor being conferred on the occasion of the king's birthday. My brother was premier of Winnipeg, Canada, for ten years, and served with great honor. The papers have been full of the knighting ceremonies.

"I am not asking for any consideration on that score. But it may indicate that I would not get mixed in an affair of this kind. I rented the room to Mrs. Brink about two weeks ago. I did not ask any questions, as she seemed respectable.

INNOCENT, SHE SAYS.

"Mrs. Brink was to take charge of the house during my absence, as I was going on my vacation starting Thursday morning, and my trunks were all packed. Then this arrest came, and spoiled all my plans. But I am innocent, and it will be proved so."

Southerland is inclined to hold Mrs. Brink as the chief member in the partnership. He declares that he met her through the sale of some furniture. Southerland was arrested January 25, 1910, by Inspector Harry Green on a charge of felonious embezzlement preferred by Sheriff J. K. Smith of Sonoma county, where he was accused by a poultry feed merchant of holding out money. He was tried, but claimed that the charge grew out of a misunderstanding and was acquitted.

FATALLY HURT IN FALL DOWN SHAFT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—R. A. Ridell of 2156 A Fifteenth street plunged three stories down an elevator shaft in the building at 343 Front street at noon today and was probably fatally hurt. Ridell, an aged man, is employed as elevator operator and had taken a porter, with a truck load of papers to the third floor. When the freight had been removed the car started upward slowly. Ridell became confused and pulled the wrong lever and was thrown from the cage to the floor he had just left and thence to the bottom of the shaft.

THEFTS REPORTED TO POLICE DEPARTMENT

Pickpockets stole a purse containing $135 from J. F. Hurlbut, 1109 Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, last evening when he was on a San Pablo avenue street car. Hurlbut could give no description of the thieves.

Other thefts and burglaries reported to the police follow: Mrs. A. Dutra, 1217 Fourteenth street, robbed by pickpockets at Fourteenth and Chestnut streets of purse containing $10; L. Belling, 526 Harrison street, house entered and jewelry valued at $30 taken; H. Shay, 1025 Market street, house entered, clothes valued at $35 stolen.

AWAKENED BY SOUND OF PISTOL SHOTS

The neighborhood in the vicinity of Everett street, in the Fourth avenue terrace district, was startled about three o'clock this morning by the sound of five pistol shots. Neighbors state that the sound came from the direction of the home of Louis Couturie, 1520 Everett street. Members of the Couturie household, however, deny even having heard the shots.

The event is one of a series of similar entertainments planned for the pleasure and improvement of the patients.

Seek to Put End To Death Penalty

Petition With 10,002 Signatures Is Filed in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—The petition calling for the abolishment of capital punishment in California, which had been circulated in Los Angeles county for some time, was filed with the county clerk late yesterday. It bears 10,002 signatures.

ROBBED AND KILLED.

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—John Barrao, an old man, was found by a milk wagon driver, early today, at Thirty-eighth and Alameda streets, with his skull fractured and his face fearfully beaten. He died in a few moments. The police said robbery was the evident motive for the assault, as Barrao's pockets had been turned inside out. Joe Beitini, aged [illegible], was arrested and is being held as a suspect.

Beware of the Lure of Unreasonably Low Prices

Fight shy of the bait of unreasonably low price when purchasing your Piano. Back of any proposition which seemingly enables you to buy Pianos for less than their worth lies future disappointment for the unsuspecting purchaser. Pianos are not sold at less than their value. Neither are they disposed of without profit to the seller. This fact is apparent to all.

The Wellington Piano $275

we are confident, is the best Piano to be had at that price, and the figure is low, when the quality is considered. It is well made, of splendid tone, action and finish. It has been a standard of value for many years, and many hundreds are giving satisfaction to California homes.

The Wellington Piano is offered at a price that is high enough to guarantee to you a Piano of sterling worth, low enough to enable you to meet the monthly payments without inconvenience. We unhesitatingly recommend it as the best Piano possible at its price.

PURCHASING AGENT TO BUY SCHOOL SUPPLIES

McClymonds' statement was read by him as follows:

> The city of Oakland constitutes one corporation, and the Oakland School District another, each covering the same territory and containing the same population. Whatever expenses can be saved in either corporation will be of advantage. The same people pay the taxes for both.
> The city of Oakland has especially organized departments for the doing of specific things. For example, the city maintains a department of electricity. The city is much better prepared to do electrical work than is the school department. Your honorable body, recognizing this fact, uses the electrical department of the city in matters pertaining to electricity. The city has a well equipped and well organized department of engineering. The school department is using this to the advantage of the citizens of the city of Oakland and of Oakland school district.
> The city has a well organized purchasing department. Certain people devote their entire time to purchasing supplies. The city, having this special department, is better equipped to purchase school supplies, for which we have no contract, than is the school department.
> No merchant maintaining two places of business in the same or adjoining cities would think of maintaining two separate purchasing departments, nor do I think it good business management for the Board of Education to have certain of its employes devote their time to the purchase of supplies when, for the asking, these supplies will be purchased by the purchasing department of the city. I learn that the purchasing department will, without cost to the school department, and without extra cost to the city, purchase for the Oakland schol district all needed supplies.
> I submit the following resolution for your consideration.
> "Resolved, that J. W. Nelson, who is the purchasing agent for the city of Oakland, be, and he is hereby designated as purchasing agent for the Oakland school department, without salary. That his duty as purchasing agent of the school department shall be to purchase all supplies, secure printing, etc., that may be authorized by the Board of Education, and for which there has been no annual contract regularly let.
> "Resolved further, that the said J. W. Nelson be, and he is hereby requested to prepare needed forms and recommend to the Board of Education the blanks for the putting of the above resolution into operation."
> The adoption of these resolutions will at once give to the school department an organized purchasing department, without increased expense. It will relieve the secretary's department of the task of purchasing goods and other supplies, for which no regular yearly contract is let.
> With an organized purchasing agency, the goods ought to be purchased at the closest possible margin. The saving in time to the secretary's department is important, as the work in this department has increased very materially. We now hold, including the high school board, sixteen regular board meetings a month.
> With the changes herein recommended adopted, I will at no distant date offer some other suggestions, which, in my opinion, will further increase the efficiency of the department.

M'CLYMONDS EXPLAINS.

McClymonds then explained that he had in mind the segregation of educational and business matters on the board; that he was glad to see such a move come, and that he was willing to step aside just as soon as reorganization could be effected.

Then the storm broke. Miss Brown and Boyle moved to lay the resolution on the table indefinitely and were supported by John Forrest. They were outvoted by the four members of the majority, President Orr, Bronner, Cook and Dr. Kelly, and the secretary's suggestion was then adopted by the same vote, Kelly speaking in favor of the plan.

Characterizing the entire proceedings as unfair and unwise, Boyle, who is chairman of the committee on rules and regulations, asserted that the resolution was illegal because it had never been referred to his committee.

"YOU THINK YOU'RE SMART."

"I won't stand for it," he shouted, "and the public won't stand for such a one-man political move, either. Any member of this board who will countenance jamming through a resolution like that in the face of our understanding in committee meeting is not a proper citizen of Oakland. I'm ashamed and disgusted with this board. I've been here as long as you have, Dr. Kelly, and I expect fair treatment. You think you're smart, but you'll find out differently."

Miss Brown then called attention to the recent committee meeting and charged that it had been the understanding that nothing was to be done until the subject had been talked over again by the committee and a committee report rendered. She accused McClymonds and Kelly of breaking faith with the committee and proffered her own resolution, which, she said, had been prepared after considerable thought and investigation.

Speaking in support of the resolution, Miss Brown said that she had written to the board of education in Los Angeles, San Diego and other cities and nowhere had she found that the secretary "superintended the construction of new buildings, advised the board and attended to all its affairs."

"He can't do all that he be ever so clever or energetic," declared the woman member of the board.

EXPLAINS ATTITUDE.

"The reorganization of this department is a big task. We should seek the assistance of the civil service commission of Oakland who are experts in the matter of systematized work. We owe the City of Oakland more than we are giving it. The truth is that the school department of Oakland has grown beyond the rule of one man. I offer no criticism of anyone, much less of one who, perhaps, has been blamed undeservedly. I desire only to offer this resolution in the interests of what I believe is the best interests of the department and the city."

Continuing, Miss Brown said that she believed it was unwise to turn over the matter of buying school supplies to anyone but an expert versed in such things. She favored the creation of such a purchasing agent.

"The time has come for a division, Miss Brown," interjected McClymonds. "There's no question about that. But I know a little about conducting school affairs myself. I've been at the work for 25 years and I know that in nearly all big school departments the supplies are purchased through a regular department, but that is usually under the jurisdiction of the secretary of the board. He is the business agent."

"He's the business agent of this board, all right," said Boyle sarcastically. "There's no mistake about that. The members of this board, elected to office in a city of 150,000 people, have for 25 years come up here and danced like puppets when a salaried officer pulled the string."

GENERAL TUMULT.

This shot brought McClymonds to his feet and the two men tried to shout each other down amidst a general tumult, the school superintendent finally gaining the floor.

"That is not true," he cried. "I challenge any member of this board to say that I ever tried to secure any patronage, ever tried to get any appointment made, or ever asked for any personal favor of them, except where I considered it my duty to act in the interests of the school department, interests of the school children and the department. If I haven't a right to do that, then I'm not fit to act as superintendent of schools. I have never used a dollar's worth of patronage in the 25 years I have held office."

"Well, tell me one thing," persisted Boyle, "did that resolution emanate from your brain or from one of the directors of this board?"

"From mine," admitted McClymonds.

"Well, then, why didn't you take me into your confidence as chairman of the rules and regulations committee?"

QUESTION OF CONFIDENCE.

"Because I didn't have as much confidence in your judgment as I did in others," was McClymonds' retort.

This got Boyle so excited that he stuttered. "I haven't got any confidence in you," he blurted. "I want you to understand that there's one member of this board whom you can't dominate. I was elected by the people and I am only going to be ruled by them."

"Let us have peace," prayed John Forrest, and in the lull that followed Kelly and Bronner spoke in favor of adopting Miss Brown's resolution with the understanding, however, that the civil service commission was only to offer suggestions and not be given full authority to reorganize the board.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

Miss Brown's resolution was then adopted unanimously. It read:

> Whereas, The Oakland school department has grown both in extent of territory under its supervision, and complexity of curricula under its control; and
> Whereas, This department is at present engaged in the construction of many new and costly buildings requiring the personal direction of experts; and
> Whereas, This board of education has taken no measures to meet these new and diverse conditions, be it, therefore,
> Resolved, That this board of education immediately provide means for a division of duties of the superintendent; namely, a separation of the educational from the business portion of said office; and be it further
> Resolved, That to the better accomplishment of this end, this board of education invite advice and co-operation of the civil service board of the City of Oakland.

It was the consensus of opinion that the reorganization would be effected by next year.

APOLOGIZES TO BOARD.

McClymonds apologized to the board for losing his temper, explaining that he "had been much exercised." Boyle did not offer any apology, though Kelly hinted broadly that such an action was in order.

President Calvin Orr announced that all standing committees would remain unchanged for the new fiscal year. There was no objection to this, but a fresh row started when Boyle discovered that an insurance policy had been renewed on a school building and that he had not been consulted, though he is a member of the finance committee.

Bronner, chairman of the finance committee, explained that he had authorized the renewal as the policy was expiring and that he did not have time to communicate with the rest of the committee. This failed to appease the minority members and they wrangled over the matter until McClymonds again gave them something else to fight over.

NEW CAUSE FOR ROW.

The piece de resistance this time was the completed plans for the Bay school, the first building under the recent bond issue. McClymonds asked that the board appoint an expert to check up the plans and specifications so as to avoid any chance of error. He declared that previous boards had failed to do this and mistakes had been found afterward that proved both serious and costly.

McClymonds was voted down on the showing that Supervising Architect J. J. Donovan was employing his own engineer to check up the work of the sub-architect.

However, when it came to actually approving the pile of blue prints and the volume of specifications, the directors were prone to confess their inability to distinguish a reinforced buttress from a doughnut.

"I wouldn't know if these specifications were right or not," said McClymonds, "and no one else but an expert in such things would know."

Kelly urged haste in the matter and suggested that the board investigate the plans during the next two days so as to pass them before the week was up.

"I move they be adopted now," said Forrest.

"What!" exclaimed Miss Brown, in horror, "without looking at them?"

"Sure."

"Why, they might have left out the lunchroom," said Miss Brown.

"Well," said Forrest, wearily, "suppose we find out now whether they have or not."

WHO APPOINTED HIM.

Bronner couldn't see what was the use of having a supervising architect if they weren't willing to trust him, and this brought charges from Boyle and Miss Brown that they had not had any part in the appointment of Donovan.

"Donovan was named by Councilman Anderson at a star chamber session with you fellows," declared Boyle.

Finally it was decided to pass the plans around for 10 minutes or so but no one took any great interest in the blue prints, and when it came to a vote Boyle asked to be excused. He was denied the privilege and then voted "no," while Director Cook, who usually takes program, also voted negatively on the ground that he had not seen the plans, though they had been passed under his nose a few minutes before.

Forrest thereupon exclaimed that Cook's excuse was not valid and roasted his colleague for improper conduct. Cook in reply said Forrest had voted for the plans without anything more than a cursory glance at them, and that he (Forrest) didn't know what he was talking about.

"I'm going to vote down all plans until I get a chance to read over the specifications," was Cook's ultimatum.

UP IN THE AIR.

The plans were adopted over the negative vote of Cook, but Boyle changed his vote to the affirmative and then moved for a reconsideration, leaving the whole matter up in the translucent atmosphere until another meeting.

A question by Boyle developed the fact that though the plans and specifications had been adopted, no one knew whether the contracts were to be let as a whole or subdivided. McClymonds found that the specifications called for a single general contract.

The only routine matters settled before adjournment were the appointments of the following teachers:

Agnes R. Wood, from preferred list to English department in high school; Agnes C. Carroll, from preferred list to the English department of the Fremont High school, Margaret McAuslan, elected teacher subject to assignment. Mary F. McDermott and Lilia C. Forderer, elected to music department, unassigned.

PROPOSED TAX AROUSES PROTEST

Piedmonters Want Acreage Assessment Lower Than on Town Lots.

PIEDMONT, July 19.—The regular session of the town trustees last evening was enlivened by a somewhat heated discussion of town taxes, a number of citizens who hold large property interests here entering a vigorous protest against taxing acreage property at the same rate as smaller holdings.

Mayor Hugh Craig, who returned recently from the convention of city officials held in Los Angeles, was making a short report of the proceedings when a number of prominent Piedmont citizens dropped into the board meeting. Craig surprised at this unusual interest of Piedmont citizens, asked if anybody wanted anything. Walter Leimert replied that they had no business to bring before the board officially, but would like to discuss taxes with the members of the board after the adjournment. Craig refused to adjourn the meeting and insisted that the tax question be threshed out in an official manner. Edward Engs presented E. A. Peixotto as the representative of those present and of several other large property holders who were absent. Peixotto entered a vigorous protest against the proposed Piedmont scheme of taxation whereby the large holdings were to be taxed at the same rate as the town lots. He also objected to the proposed increase in property value declaring that it was too great.

Among other taxpayers who took part in the discussion were Louis Titus, Oscar Sutro, Haughton Sawyer, Max Crosley, Robert Tyson, P. M. Moorehouse and Karl Nickel. The arguments were flying thick and fast when Chairman Craig adjourned the meeting and the discussion continued informally. Craig argued that the proposed tax rate was just, presenting many figures to back up his statement. He further offered to buy any piece of property any protesting citizen present owned at his own valuation for tax purposes, but the Craig offer was ignored.

The tax problem was threshed out until midnight without result, excepting that the protestants agreed to meet informally with the board Monday evening and file a list of properties whereon they considered too high a valuation had been placed.

In an interview Craig this morning said: "This is the most serious proposition that has been faced by this municipal board and the property-holders."

He admitted that the values were a little high, and thought that the board would make a flat reduction on all properties and perhaps a greater reduction on specific pieces if it could be shown that the appraisement was excessive.

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

Prior to adjournment last night the board conducted considerable business. A letter from property owners on Oakland avenue called attention to the unfinished and unsightly condition of the street in front of the Radcliff-Duck property on Oakland and Highland avenues, and asked that the obstructions be removed and a cement sidewalk and bulkhead be put in.

The board ordered Marshal Rose to see that the work was done.

A letter was received from the telephone company stating that it would change several offending poles along Mountain avenue provided the property owners bore part of the expense. The board decided that it was not up to the property owners, but to the company to make the change.

A letter was read from Burns and McDonald offering their services to the city in the matter of installing municipal water works. The letter was ordered placed on file.

The Hoag-Smith Company presented to the board a deed for seven feet for right of way to be used as a public thoroughfare incident to the opening up of certain property on Pacific avenue. The matter was referred to the street committee.

A petition was granted to have the city engineer establish grades of El Cerreto avenue from Magnolia to Oakland avenue, and requesting permission to lay a terraced sidewalk. Permission was granted and the engineer instructed to establish grade.

A petition was granted to have the curbs and grades established on Wildwood avenue from Girard avenue to Sylvan way for the purpose of laying sewers, putting in gutters and pavements.

RED STAIN ON N. Y. POLICE UNIFORM FAST SPREADING

Officials Assert Others Than Gamblers Had Hand in Rosenthal Murder

NEW YORK, July 19.—The murder plot that brought Herman Rosenthal to his death that the gambler might "tell no tales" is being brought closer today to the "police system."

Wm. Shapira, part owner of the "murder car," is giving the public prosecutor information that strengthens the belief that the murder of Rosenthal did not spring from the enmity of gamblers. Shapiro admits that when his motor car was engaged he was told that policemen had knowledge of what was going to happen and that nobody was in any danger.

"Bald Jack" Rose, gambler and friend of Police Lieutenant Becker, who surrendered himself to the police, has given the name of a gambler and gun-fighter named Schepps, who was in the car when Rosenthal was shot down in front of the Hotel Metropole. Detectives are scouring the city for him.

What Rose told Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty makes the police official feel anxious to know more about "Bridgie" Webber, poolroom keeper and friend of Rosenthal. Rose said when he left the car uptown he dropped in on Webber, but later, it appears, that Webber turned up at the Hotel Metropole just before Rosenthal was shot and there shook hands with the gambler. Webber also was at the hotel after the shooting.

WILLING TO TALK.

Shapiro is willing to tell more of the circumstances that led up to the shooting of Rosenthal, but he won't tell them to the police. Shapiro, through his counsel, admits that he is in a bad situation, and hopes that he will be dealt with leniently if he tells all he knows of the murder and the killing. He is willing to take his chances with the district attorney, but he won't talk to the police.

For the first time, the name of "Big Jack" Seelig, the East Side gang leader and gambler, who recently was shot by a "Chick" Triggs gangster, is brought into the case today. Detectives hear that Seelig, who is known as the right hand man of Sam Paul, another East Side gang leader, was seen talking to Rose on the night of the murder.

According to the story, Rose was trying to get Seelig to do something for him, and Seelig was promised as a reward immunity from the charge of carrying a concealed weapon now pending against him. Seelig's lawyer says he is not in town and has not been since July 10.

SECRET CONFERENCE HELD.

Developments are expected today from a three-hours' conference District Attorney Whitman had early today at his home with a mysterious man, said to be a well-known gambler and friend of Rosenthal. Mr. Whitman said after the meeting:

"I shall have nothing to say now concerning the man who called on me. Perhaps later I'll have matters so arranged that I shall be in a position to give the details of what I have learned."

Whitman, however, intimated that he had discovered important evidence, and today he will issue some subpoenas on the strength of the man's statements. Whitman's visitor is said to be a well-known gambler.

Private citizens have promised funds for a private investigation by private detectives to clear up the mystery in which the police are involved. With the advent of private detectives, five distinct investigations will be under way in connection with the Rosenthal murder. The district attorney is conducting inquiries along separate lines, the grand jury is working on still another line, the Mayor is having a quiet investigation in his own way, and the private detectives make the fifth.

District Attorney Whitman again scored the police for failure to get any further than they have in rounding up the murderers.

"The police are criticising my department," said Mr. Whitman in great indignation, "yet in the four days elapsing since this murder the only evidence they have collected is that the murderers escaped and that a gray touring car was used."

THREATEN TO END HOP CULTIVATION

Pacific Coast Growers Declare Freight Rates Must Be Reduced.

CHICAGO, July 19.— Hop growers on the Pacific Coast have threatened to cease planting the vine so essential to the manufacture of beer if transcontinental freight rates on hops are not reduced.

The fear of a scarcity of the domestic product, best known in its liquid form of amber tint, was imparted to Chairman Chas. A. Prouty of the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the general freight agent of the Northern Pacific Railroad, who said that the growers of hops had protested in a body at the transcontinental freight convention and had threatened to discontinue the cultivation of hops if the rates were not lowered.

The present rate on hops from Pacific Coast points to the eastern brewing markets is $1.75 a hundred in carload lots and $2.05 in smaller loads. The rates are declared to be much too high. The association of hop growers complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission after their plea was refused by the railroads. They assert their profit on the product is so small that the freight rates are killing the industry.

DETECTIVE LEAVES FOR CHARLES REID

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Detective Michael Burke of the local department left here this morning for Sacramento to procure requisition papers for the arrest of Charles Reid, step-brother of Leslie Wheeler-Reid, who is wanted here on an embezzlement charge preferred by the Forest Jewelry company.

Reid is in a hospital at Wheeling, West Virginia, and has announced that he will waive extradition. The police, however, are taking no chances and it was thought best that Detective Burke be armed with the proper credentials in case complications should arise on his arrival.

The trial of Leslie Wheeler-Reid on a charge of grand larceny was resumed this afternoon in Judge Shortall's court.

MOUNTAIN RANGE SWEPT BY BLAZE

Carelessly Thrown Cigarette Stub Blamed for Fire on Mt. Hamilton.

SAN JOSE, July 19. — Threatening miles of rich timber and grazing land about Crow's ranch, in the Mount Hamilton range, a fire which started from a carelessly thrown cigarette stump, burned over a section of land Wednesday night, but was under control this morning after a hard tussle. The fire started in a comparatively clear space, which gave the fighters a better chance to get at it than could have been had anywhere near at hand.

Had it been allowed to burn a quarter of a mile further, mountaineers say, it would have swept the hills in the Livermore side of the range and would have done widespread damage. As it was, the loss is slight. Seeing their places threatened, ranchers of the mountains rushed to the nearest telephones and sent in calls for help. Responses were generous, and the crowd finally controlled the flames.

PAYS VICTIM $299 FOR BITE OF HIS FINGER

STOCKTON, July 19.—A civil judgment of $299 damages has been given against Joseph Birriott for chewing a finger off the right hand of George Bomboy.

The two men live in adjoining arks. In altercation a few days ago Birriott set his teeth in Bomboy's right index finger and chewed it so badly that amputation was necessary. Birriott held on with such bulldog tenacity that bystanders had to hit him on the head with clubs before he would let go. He was arrested on a charge of mayhem and held to answer before the Superior Court. In the meantime, Bomboy brought a damage suit and was awarded $299 damages by a jury.

CAMP CURRY FIRE DAMAGES RESORT

YOSEMITE, July 19. — Camp Curry, one of the largest resorts in the Yosemite Valley, was partially destroyed by fire yesterday which originated in the laundry adjoining the dining-room, where several hundred guests were at luncheon. A clump of burning pines spread blazing needles among the camp tents, sixty or seventy of these were destroyed and in many cases the occupants lost their effects.

Guests aided in fighting the flames until a troop of cavalry arrived from the reservation and took charge. Two of the camp employes were partially overcome by smoke. The office and dining-room were saved as well as most of the tents. The loss is estimated at $4000, well coverad by insurance.

The above illustration shows the magnitude of The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co.'s plant, at Waterloo, N. Y. and the executive offices of the concern at Rochester, N. Y. This manufacturing plant is the largest and most complete of its kind in the land, occupying over 15 acres. It is equipped with every up-to-date device, known to the art. There are immense duplicate warehouses a great distance apart, so in case of fire in one warehouse, the trade can be supplied and the high quality and excellence maintained.

How It Is Made—What It Does

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is manufactured from specially selected and cleaned grain, the best that can be bought. Only the purest spring water is used at any stage. Every step in the process of malting and manufacture is watched most carefully by men of broad experience, under the supervision of a chief chemist. Great care is exercised to have every kernel thoroughly malted, producing a liquid food, tonic and stimulant, requiring no digestion, in the form of a medicinal whiskey, which has been for over 50 years and is to-day, the world's greatest medicine.

Taken as directed, it brings into action all the vital forces; it makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains, thus building up the nerve tissues, toning up the heart, giving power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It is a promoter of good health and longevity; makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.

KNOWLAND TELLS HOUSE OF HARBOR DEVELOPMENT

Congressman Illustrates Growth of Oakland Waterfront With Facts and Figures

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Bringing the development of the Oakland harbor to the attention of the House conference committee, Congressman Joseph R. Knowland said the following:

Mr. Chairman, I desire to take advantake of this opportunity, when the conference report on the river and harbor bill is before the House, to submit some remarks showing the wonderful development of the commerce of Oakland harbor, Cal., since the first government appropriation was made, in 1874, and to direct attention to the enterprise being displayed by the municipality of Oakland, which is expending in harbor improvement at the present time $2,500,000, this being but the beginning of a comprehensive plan that will require the ultimate expenditure of many additional millions.

The House conferees have wisely agreed to accept the amendment of the Senate adding $30,000 to the $100,000 carried for Oakland harbor when the bill left the House. On February 1 of this year there was an unexpended balance to the credit of the Oakland harbor improvement of $303,937.47. Existing contracts now cover this amount, which, with the $130,000 carried in the present bill added, will make a grand total of $433,937.47 to be expended by the federal government on Oakland harbor during the present year and up to March 4 of next year, when another river and harbor bill will have become a law, providing an additional appropriation.

FOR OAKLAND HARBOR.

In view of the large unexpended balance available for Oakland harbor when I appeared before the members of the river and harbor committee during the present session, which large balance prevented any estimates from being submitted by the war department, I felt particularly gratified that the committee responded to my appeal for an appropriation, thus recognizing what the city of Oakland itself was doing, and realizing the necessity of placing this important port in readiness for the increased commerce anticipated with the opening of the Panama canal.

The committee likewise granted my request for a resurvey of the harbor, looking to the adoption of a new and enlarged project calling for increased depths and greater widths necessary to enable the port to keep pace with the recent rapid growth of Oakland and vicinity—a locality destined to become one of the chief shipping centers of the Pacific coast. The last survey was made as the result of an authorization contained in the river and harbor act of 1908. As a result of that survey the local engineer in charge, Lieut. Col. John Biddle, recommended the project now under way, which provides for a channel 30 feet deep and 500 feet wide from the bay to the tidal basin, and 25 feet deep and 300 feet wide around the basin, with a depth of 18 feet through the tidal canal.

The board of engineers for rivers and harbors, located at Washington, disapproved this recommendation in December, 1909. A hearing was obtained before this board, the result of which is set forth in the following telegram which was sent to Mayor Frank K. Mott of Oakland, who, with the chamber of commerce, furnished Oakland's representatives in Congress with much valuable data for use before the board:

> Washington, D. C., January 31, 1910.
> Mayor Frank K. Mott, Oakland, Cal.—Pleased to report that river and harbor board of engineers, as result of hearing last Monday, have reversed their action and indorsed recommendation of Col. Biddle for improvement of Oakland harbor. This action is rather unusual and can be regarded as great victory. Report must be approved by chief of engineers, but think there is little doubt of his approval. Fight will now be taken up with river and harbor committee of Congress.

APPROPRIATION BY CONGRESS.

Since I became a member of this body, in December, 1904, Congress has appropriated for Oakland harbor, including the amount carried in the present bill, a total of $1,263,203. This amount is larger by nearly $400,000 than that appropriated for any corresponding period in the history of the improvement. During these eight years Congress has provided for two new surveys. Beginning with 1874, when the government began the improvement, a grand total of $3,563,503 has been provided by Congress.

Oakland harbor was developed from what was known prior to 1874 as San Antonio creek, which waterway had a depth of but 2 feet at low tide, with a tidal range of about 5 feet. The commerce was then insignificant, amounting to but 154,300 tons, but has steadily increased with the development of the harbor, until today the freight traffic amounts to over three and a half million short tons, with a total valuation of $135,059,278.

The three principal harbors of California which the government is improving—which does not include San Francisco harbor, because no government project is under way—are Oakland, Los Angeles (formerly San Pedro and Wilmington harbors), and the harbor at San Diego. The official commercial statistics for these three harbors, contained in the report of the chief of engineers for 1911, shows that for San Diego harbor the freight traffic amounted to 398,048 short tons, valued at $22,591,487; and for Los Angeles harbor 1,709,294 tons, valued at $47,010,588; while Oakland harbor, as already stated, is credited with 3,575,371 tons, valued at $138,059,278.

When the present river and harbor bill was pending in the House I took occasion to look up the commerce of the various harbors for which appropriations were carried, and found only eight localities where the commerce exceeded in actual tons that of Oakland harbor.

GENEROUS COOPERATION.

Few localities have displayed a more generous spirit in cooperating with the federal government in the matter of harbor improvements. Mayor Frank K. Mott, of Oakland, under whose progressive administration the city has more rapidly advanced than during any similar period in its history, has, from the day he assumed office, demonstrated that he possessed a keen appreciation of the value of Oakland's waterfront, recognizing it as one of the city's chief assets.

After years of litigation, the city finally, through court decisions, legislative acts, and favorable compromises, regained control of substantially its entire waterfront, which had been under railroad control as the result of unfortunate grants made to a private individual by the town of Oakland in the early fifties and later transferred to a railroad corporation. The waterfront improvements now under way by Oakland are as follows:

First—The building of a first-class reenforced concrete wharf at the foot of Livingston street, which is in the vicinity of the California Cotton Mills. This improvement will cost about $175,000.

Second—The building of a quay wall on the estuary, extending from Myrtle street to Broadway, 3700 feet in length. It is to be built of concrete and equipped with railway tracks, steel warehouse buildings, and machinery for the rapid loading and unloading of vessels. This improvement also consists of dredging between the quay wall and the government channel to a depth of 30 feet, which will equal the depth of the channel now being dredged by the government. This work, it is estimated, will cost, with the purchase of some land, about $1,800,000.

Third—The building of a retaining wall across what is known as the Key Route basin, on the western waterfront, and the dredging of the area outside thereof and the reclaiming of the land inside the wall. This improvement is to be quite an extensive one, and is already partially provided for in the present appropriation, about $500,000 having been set aside for the commencement of the work. "When, then, the new survey of Oakland harbor is made, as provided in this bill, I shall co-operate with Mayor Mott in an effort to induce the government to include the Key Route basin in the new Oakland harbor project and share at least a part of the cost of this improvement."

BELT RAILWAY SYSTEM.

A belt railway system is also planned to extend around the entire city front, connecting with every railway that enters the city, and also with every wharf, with spurs leading to the various manufacturing plants. There are at present over 1500 factories located in proximity to the waterfront, which contains 27 miles of shore line.

The city of Alameda, also located upon this harbor, is awakening to its importance, and Mayor W. H. Noy, who never misses an opportunity to advance the city's interests, has appointed a board of harbor commissioners. In the near future this city will undoubtedly improve the waterfront, to which the city has title.

The improvement of Oakland harbor should be pushed as rapidly as possible. Advantageously located on the continental side of San Francisco bay, where car and ship can meet, the termini of three continental railroads, Oakland has a wonderful future, and will fully utilize all her harbor facilities. The day for the opening of the Panama canal is rapidly approaching. Now that the House has decided that American ships in the coastwise trade shall be granted free tolls, the result of a fight which was started at a meeting of Pacific coast commercial bodies, called at my suggestion in San Francisco in October last, and which fight I continued before the House committee and upon the floor, the commercial importance of the canal to every Pacific coast port has increased, and Oakland intends to hold itself in readiness to make the most of its opportunities, for no locality will offer greater facilities to the shipping of the world.

NEW TYPEWRITER RECORD IS MADE

Miss Florence Wilson of New York Copies 7219 Words in an Hour.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 19. — The world's typewriter speed record for one hour's continuous writing on unfamiliar copy was broken yesterday by Miss Florence E. Wilson of New York in the national contests held under the auspices of the national commercial teachers federation.

Miss Wilson copied 7219 words in the hour with 68 errors. Deducting five words for each error this gave her a net score [illegible] words, an average of [illegible] words a minute. The former record, held by H. O. Blaisdell of New York, was 112 words a minute.

The amateur championship, for operators who have operated a typewriter less than three years, was won by Miss Bessie Friedman of New York, who wrote 3208 words in 30 minutes, or an average of 107 words. This broke the former record of 98 words held by Gus Trefzger of New York.

The school championship was won by Miss Winnifred Bills of Spokane with an average of 53 words per minute.

CATLIN UNSEATED BY HOUSE BOARD

Election Held to Be Corrupt and Democrat Is Named for Place.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—By a strict party vote, the House elections committee No. 2 voted today to unseat Representative Theron E. Catlin of St. Louis, Republican, and to seat former Representative Patrick Gill, Democrat.

Catlin's campaign expenses were so great that the committee held his election to have been corrupt. It also held that Gill would have been elected but for the use of money by Catlin's managers.

The vote was 6 to 3 to declare Catlin's election illegal. His majority in the 1910 returns was 1200. The resolution will be reported to the House today for action.

On the motion in the committee to unseat Catlin, Chairman Hamlin of New Jersey and Representative Korble of Indiana, Broussard of Louisiana, Linthicum of Maryland, Jacoway of Arkansas and Allen of Ohio voted aye.

Representatives Switzer of Ohio, Anderson of Minnesota and Nelson of Wisconsin, Republicans, voted no.

SON OF MILLIONAIRE.

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—Theron E. Catlin, who was unseated in the House of Representatives today, is a son of Daniel Catlin, a retired multi-millionaire tobacco manufacturer. He is 34 years old.

Testimony in the contest hearing brought by former Representative Patrick Gill developed that Catlin's father, through a firm of lawyers, spent more than $10,000 in having his son elected.

It was contended by Theron Catlin that he did not know his father was spending the money. Catlin, who was educated at Harvard, is engaged to marry Miss Laura Merriam, a daughter of former Governor William R. Merriam of Minnesota.

REVIVAL SERVICES PRODUCE RESULTS

Young People's Societies of West Oakland in Charge of Meetings.

The week of evangelistic services being held at the Union-street Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the young people's societies of West Oakland, is producing results. Paul Brown and Tom Hannay, State field secretaries and organizers, are both present for the entire week.

A street meeting is conducted each evening at the corner of Seventh and Adeline streets, with Hannay as speaker. This is followed by an address by Hannay at the church. While the street meetings are in progress, the late comers go direct to the church, where they are addressed by Brown.

Bible classes are being held by Brown and Hannay at the church each afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

On Sunday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, a rally will be held at the Union-street church for the young people of the Alameda County Christian Endeavor Societies. The rally is to be held as an echo of the State convention held at Fresno recently, and to arouse enthusiasm in preparing for the county rally to be held at Pleasanton soon.

Every Child Should Be Given This Tonic

When children have no appetite; when they are continually peevish and irritable; when they are restless in their sleep, it is almost a certain indication that their digestive organs are troubled with worms or other parasites. This is a very common ailment and easily remedied. Physicians will tell you that nearly every child is so troubled at some time, and, in fact, many adults suffer in the same way. Among adults this trouble is invariably referred to as indigestion, when in reality it is due to a small parasite which infests the intestinal tract.

For children, Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed, as it is not only destructive to these parasites, but completely removes the nests in which their young are deposited. Seldom does it purge, and the improvement in the health of the child will be the first and best indication of the beneficial results of the medicine. Not only will the Vermifuge destroy all the parasites, but its wonderful tonic effects will restore the digestion which has been impaired.

For children, the addition of a little sugar will make it so palatable that they will take it readily. Millions of parents have praised it for more than eighty years. Insist on Jayne's; accept no other. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dr. Doremus Scudder, Who Is to Preach Here, Is Noted Divine.

Dr. Doremus Scudder of Honolulu, who comes on August 4 to supply the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church during Dr. Goodspeed's vacation, has had a unique experience as pastor and missionary. He is one of the Scudder family, which is famous as missionaries and preachers.

Dr. Scudder was born in New York and is a son of Dr. Henry Martyn Scudder, the well-known missionary to India, who was, on his return to his country, for several years pastor of the Howard Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

Dr. Doremus Scudder is an alumnus of Yale College and Union Seminary. He also graduated in medicine at Columbia and Northwestern universities. He was commissioned to Japan by the American board of foreign missions, but returned to the United States in 1889 and held pastorates in Brooklyn, Chicago and Massachusettes. In 1907 he was called to the pastorate of the Central Union Church in Honolulu, which he now holds. He is a man of interesting personality and of rare pulpit power.

SUBMARINES ARE SERIOUS MENACE

Rear Admiral Ward Declares There Is No Protection Against Them.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 19.—Naval men stationed here are satisfied that there is no protection from submarines under present conditions, because of the successful attacks made by the destroyers and submarines in the Block Island war games against the battleships. Rear Admiral Aaron Ward said after the battle:

"The submarines picked us up whenever they chose to, but we could not do a thing with them. Yet the attempts of our destroyers were well timed and perfect."

"What will be the future defense aganist submarines?" Admiral Ward was asked.

"We will have to run away from them," replied the commander.

FREIGHT HANDLERS TO HAVE HOLIDAY

More Than 40,000 Chicago Employes Will Have Half Day Off.

CHICAGO, July 19.—More than 40,000 freight house employes are to be given a half holiday on Saturday during the summer months, beginning tomorrow, as a result of a series of conferences recently held by presidents of railroads entering Chicago.

The railroad heads made the decision over the protests of several large shippers who opposed the plan on the ground that it will interfere with their service. The question of incorporating a provision in regard to the half holiday in the contracts between the freight handlers union and the railroads has come up at various times.

A similar rule will, it is said, be enforced in St. Louis and Kansas City.

TWO SHOT BY GANG ON NEW YORK STREET

NEW YORK, July 19.—As two men passed the corner of One hundred and Fourteenth street and First avenue, early this morning, several men leaped at them from a doorway. Ten shots were fired and one of the passers fell. His companion ran.

When policemen came the shooters had disappeared. The injured man, Vincent Galdi, was taken to the Harlem hospital. Hardly had he reached the operating-room when [illegible] Russ, [illegible] neighbor, staggered into the building. He had a bullet wound in his abdomen. The same gang which shot Galdi had come upon Russ a block or two away and fired upon him also.

Both of the injured men will die.

ROOSEVELT WRITES OF STEAM-ROLLER METHODS

Declares He Was Not Thus Nominated at at 1904 Convention

NEW YORK, July 19.—Two phases of the Republican national convention at Chicago are discussed by Theodore Roosevelt in editorial articles in the current issue of the Outlook. "The Steam Roller" and "Men Who Live Softly" are the headings of the colonel's articles. In the first the writer answers charges that "steam roller" methods were used to nominate him in 1904 and again to secure the nomination for Taft in 1908.

"There was no contest over my nomination in 1904 when this convention assembled," he says. "Every delegate was for me, and this was true of both sides in every contest. In 1908, when Mr. Taft was fairly nominated, there was no 'steam roller' methods, as far as I know, and if anything dishonest or improper was done in the effort to nominate him it was without my knowledge, and if it had been brought to my attention and I had any power in the matter I would have interfered with it."

DEALS WITH RESPECTABLE MEN.

In the second article the colonel alludes to "the respectable men who with discomfort stood behind their leaders in securing the triumph of fraud and political theft at Chicago," and scores the "other respectable men who felt no discomfort in thus supporting rascality; who, on the contrary, glorified in their actions.

"Some of the men responsible for the steam roller work in this convention," said Colonel Roosevelt, in his first editorial, "had sought to excuse themselves by saying that they were only doing what had always been done, and specifically what was done for me at the time of my nomination and what was done for Mr. Taft himself four years ago. As regards myself, the statement has not even the slightest foundation in fact. In 1900 I was nominated for the vice-presidency against the wish of the most powerful politicians who then had control of the Republican party and purely because of a popular demand too insistent to be denied. In 1904 the national committee contained a majority of the men who were hostile to me, and as in 1900, the leading politicians of the party would like to upset me. I never used the patronage, not to the extent of a single appointment, to secure my nomination; I never appealed to a single politician; I made my appeal direct to the people over the heads of the politicians, and stood squarely on my record, and I received the nomination solely because the people believed in me and approved of my record and were so overwhelmingly for me that the machine politicians abandoned all thought of a contest against me before the convention met."

STEAM ROLLER METHODS.

Colonel Roosevelt goes into details as to how, he says, steam roller methods were used to create a majority for Mr. Taft at the recent convention. He reviews the history of the primary campaign in the various states and contrasts his action in waiving technicalities in the Massachusetts primary as against the action taken by the Taft managers on the delegates-at-large in the Ohio primaries.

"But Senator Burton and his fellow politicians by adroit manipulation equally discreditable to them and to Mr. Taft himself," the article goes on, "persuaded nine-tenths of the delegates from Cleveland to violate the expressed and overwhelming will of the people and to vote for Mr. Taft. It seems incredible that after this action that Mr. Taft should have made no sign as to the Massachusetts delegates-at-large. But such is the fact. He was not ashamed to accept without protest the delegates-at-large elected for me by 9000 majority, but given to him because he had received about 4000 preference majority, and yet at the same time to insist that his representatives, by trickery and sharp practice, secure for him the six delegates-at-large from Ohio which in the primaries had gone 47,000 against him."

Contrasting the two conventions, Colonel Roosevelt writes:

"There was one essential and instructive difference between the attitude of the big Republican political bosses at Chicago and the big Democratic political bosses at Baltimore. The former greatly preferred certain party defeat to my nomination; the latter were willing to accept any nomination rather than face certain party defeat.

"In my case the appeal was made straight to the people against the bosses and the fight was won on that issue. The case at Baltimore was wholly different. In the primaries Mr. Clark had carried more states than Dr. Wilson. In but one or two states had Dr. Wilson's cause been triumphant in a square fight with the bosses—indeed there had hardly been any fight made along these lines. The fight at Baltimore was not, as at Chicago, to eliminate the bosses, and, incidentally, to nominate a certain candidate; it was to persuade the bosses into themselves nominating Dr. Wilson, thus securing the perpetuation of their own control in their several states. Mr. Sullivan of Illinois, Mr. Taggart of Indiana, and others like them, brought about Dr. Wilson's nomination; Mr Murphy acquiesced at the end. Dr. Wilson's victory would not mean the dethronement of these men; it would mean their perpetuation in power. My election would mean that Mr. Penrose, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Guggenheim would be definitely eliminated from political control of their states."

In summing up his second article, Colonel Roosevelt declares in addition to the professional politicians and interests who oppose him, and to the respectable support that comes from individuals who are misinformed, there is a considerable body of support from respectable men who do know something of the issue at stake.

CHINESES CABINET NOMINEES VETOED

Premier Alone Left in Office and He Threatens to Resign.

PEKING, July 19.—The national assembly vetoed today all President Yuan Shi Kai's nominees for cabinet portfolios. As a result of the assembly's action the premier, Lucheng Hsiang, alone is left in office, and he threatens to resign.

The rejection of the names was due in part to the objections of the Tung-Men-Huis, the name by which the party of ex-Premier Tang Shao Yi is known, to a coalition government and to dissatisfaction in some of the other parties because of the alleged insufficient representation of those factions in the cabinet. The national assembly also was opposed to some of the nominees on personal grounds.

HAMS 100 YEARS OLD SELL AT $1 A POUND

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 19.—The recent discovery of choice 100-year-old hams in an underground passage near the old brick mansion on Prudence island, has caused Professor David Greenberg of Columbia university to make a systematic search of the old cellars on the island. Professor Greenberg has been on the island several months studying the soil and peculiarities of the natives.

His seach for hams started at a cellar north of Potter's cove. When he reached the well-known Almy cellar, near the center of the island, yesterday, he found a large barrel packed full of hams and shoulders packed in wood ashes. They wre fully as delicious as the first lot found. Professor Greenberg sold them to a Newport dealer for $1 a pound.

FOOT BATH IS COSTLY.

SARAMENTO, July 19.—It cost John Sazastas, a laborer, $10 to wash his feet in the Sacramento river. Sazastas happened to choose the wrong spot to make his toilet. Walking out on the pier of the California Water Works intake he took off his shoes and began washing his feet. A policeman arrested him.

MRS. MORROW PREDICTS HER EARLY ACQUITTAL

CHICAGO, July 19.—The trial of Mrs. Rene B. Morrow charged with the murder of her husband December 27 last, was expected to end today so far as the closing arguments of counsel and the jury instructions of Judge Kersten were concerned.

On account of the circumstantial nature of the evidence presented, Mrs. Morrow has predicted her early acquittal.

CLAIRVOYANT HELD.

PALO ALTO, July 19—The preliminary hearing before Justice Charles of Mrs F. Ruffner, alias Madam Paula, who swindled Mrs. Esther Maders out of $900 in a clairvoyant sitting, developed today that she had her accomplice, "Pink," are a pair who have been operating throughout the state under many aliases and long sought for by the police. Her male accomplice is yet at large, and she has been bound over to the grand jury on the charge of grand larceny.

THE TONIC FOR THIN BLOODLESS GIRLS

Girls who study hard or work hard, who grow pale and thin, who come home from school or shop too tired to do anything even in the way of amusement—these are the girls who will get most benefit from a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. No medicine ever offered the public has been such a boon to suffering women and girls as this tonic remedy. These pills are not a mere stimulant, giving temporary relief; they build up the body anew by making rich, red blood that imparts splendid health, brightness, cheerfulness, energy and ambition.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills begin their work of improvement with the first dose. The first sign of improvement is usually an increased appetite, the absence of distressing symptoms after eating, more refreshing sleep, a better color in face and lips. These are signs that pure rich blood is now circulating through the body and that, with this necessary assistance, nature is effecting a cure.

Miss Ellen Mattis of No. 232 West Fifth South street, Salt Lake City, Utah, relates her experience gladly in the hope that others will be helped by it. She says:

"I was all run down, thin, bloodless and had no color whatever. Two doctors treated me but did not help me that I could see. I kept losing in flesh and weight. I had severe palpitations of the heart and often had to gasp for breath. It seemed that I was being smothered, my heart would beat so fast. I had no appetite and the least exertion tired me all out. I got discouraged with taking so much medicine, but my mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I felt some improvement from the first box and as I continued to use them my strength and weight increased and my color returned. I became real healthy again and I shall always speak highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Two booklets, "Building Up the Blood" and "Plain Talks to Women," will be sent free upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or by mail, postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

GEMS ARE STOLEN FROM STATEROOM

Senorita Concepcion Hidalgo Robbed of Valuable Packet While on Liner.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19—A packet of jewels which was intrusted to Senorita Concepcion Hidalgo daughter of one of the wealthiest families of Northern Mexico, for delivery to San Francisco was stolen from the young woman's stateroom on the Pacific Mail steamer Peru, which arrived yesterday from Central American and Mexican ports.

The exact contents of the packet is unknown, but it included several diamond and pearl ornaments of considerable value, the property of the Mexican woman residing in San Francisco, to whom Senorita Hidalgo was to deliver them The senorita was greatly perturbed over her loss and was unwilling to reveal the name of her friend to whom the jewels belonged She herself is the daughter of the owner of the steamship line which operates between ports on the west coast of Mexico, and she also has wealthy relatives in the United States.

It is her custom to make periodical visits to San Francisco, and her San Francisco acquaintance took advantage of her present trip to remove the jewels from Mazatlan through fear of loss or theft during the unsettled conditions that obtain by reason of the present revolution.

CONCEALS JEWELS.

Senorita Hidalgo boarded the Peru at Mazatlan on July 12, and concealed the jewel casket in her stateroom with her own purse, containing some $50 in gold and some personal letters It was on the second day out from Mazatlan that she went to make sure of the safety of the valuables and discovered the theft of both purse and casket. She immediately notified Captain George McKinnon of her loss. A search was instituted, but it was unavailing.

One of the ship's stewards who was under suspicion was watched, but during the remainder of the trip nothing occurred which would lead to the location of the valuables. The remainder of the passengers were kept in ignorance of the theft

Arriving in the harbor yesterday morning, Captain MacKinnon sent word ashore by the customs department boat to the police department, and when the Peru reached her dock she was met by Detective Proell in charge of squad of plain clothes men. A search of the baggage of several of the stewards was made, but no trace was obtained of the missing packet. The police, however, profess to have a clew to the thief.

During her stay in San Francisco Senorita Hidalgo will be the guest of Mrs Isabel Vioca, a cousin who resides here

SEE LOOTING OF CHINESE CITY

Friends of Oaklanders Fear for Safety of C. E. Merwin and Family.

Fear for the safety of C. E. Merwin and his wife and daughter, who are in the danger zone of the Shantung province in China is felt by their Oakland friends.

Merwin is one of the pioneer educators of Oakland. He was probation officer for a number of years, and a member of the educational department for two decades With his wife, Merwin went to China a year ago to live with their daughter, Dr. Carolyn Merwin, who is a medical missionary The spread of rebellion and warfare did not induce them to leave.

Following is a part of Merwin's last message to the United States, written on a post card:

> Tsinanfu, Shantung, China,
> June 15, 1912.
> At last we have come up against the real thing. Shantung has been looted and a portion of the city has been burned The whole extent of the damage is not known. The foreigners were not molested, still we had a very anxious day. Soldiers passing, continual firing of guns, the smoke of the burning city kept us very uneasy. The soldiers made us shut our gate and keep it closed. So we were all shut in our compound all day. There was no evidence that we would be molested, yet we were very uneasy.
> Thursday eve we were out at a neighbor's—came home, no signs of trouble then. It commenced a little after midnight. We did not know of it until towards morning. I was awakened and greeted with "Get up and dress; there is trouble" Sometime in the forenoon we looked out and saw a line of soldiers going toward the gate with their arms full of "loot." They were so far off we could not see what they carried. The doctor (Dr Carolyn Merwin) had one woman brought in who had a broken arm and a gaping wound through the arm made by a stab of dagger or bayonet. She had a son in one of the stores who lost everything. She could not resist the temptation to go and look after him. The men's hospital has several wounded soldiers. The city gates are now guarded and no one is allowed to go out or in with a package of any kind. * * * Who knows what next?
> Sincerely,
> C. E. MERWIN.

I. W. W. LABORERS START STRIKE AND LOSE JOBS

TULARE, July 19—Fifteen I. W. W. agitators who were put to work on the grading of the Big Four railroad last week, were discharged, following an attempt to start a strike for a raise of wages.

After work of the previous evening, the I. W. W.'s called a meeting of the grading crew and harangued the men for an hour, stating that under the present weather conditions no one "but a slave" would work for $2.50 per day. Just what amount they ought to get none of them appeared to want to say, but all of them were agreed that a strike should be called without delay.

In the morning, they were called into the office and given their time. Greek laborers will be employed on the work hereafter, the first crew of twenty-five having arrived

Work has started on the branch line which is to be built to the Giannini winery, a distance of two miles, and which is to be completed under contract by September 10.

LAST OF CUBAN LEADERS KILLED

General Pedro Ivonet Surrounded and Shot to Death on Island.

HAVANA, Cuba, July 19.—General Pedro Ivonet, the last of the leaders of the recent Cuban negro uprising to remain under arms, was surrounded and killed yesterday by government troops at the Nombre de Dios plantation near Santiago.

General Ivonet with General Evaristo Estenoz took the field in Oriente province with about 1500 men last May as a protest against the Morua law, which provides that there shall be no recognition of political parties on racial lines.

After burning and pillaging for a month the rebels were finally surrounded by government troops at Vega Ballaco. The troops attacked on June 26 and the rebels were routed, General Estonoz being killed. General Ivonet was reported to have been severely wounded, but eluded the troops.

LOADED WITH NUGGETS.

OROVILLE, July 19.—Pocketfuls of gold nuggets weighted the body of a man found near here in a dredging pond, with his head crushed and his throat cut. Further search yesterday revealed a pack burro, carrying a complete outfit, drowned in a nearby pit. The burro's head was crushed. The police believe that the miner was murdered by a person having advance knowledge of his "clean-up," and that the murderer was frightened away before he had time to rob his victim.

JEKYLL AND HYDE CASE DISCOVERED

California Man With Dual Personality Fails to Recognize Wife.

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—When Walter Roberts, an electric engineer and inventor of Lordsburg, Cal., was brought face to face at a local hotel here yesterday with his wife, whom he deserted last May, he stoutly maintained that he had no recollection of ever having seen her or ever having lived in Lordsburg.

While Roberts seemed willing to be convinced that he was the man his friends say he must be, he believed he lived in San Francisco and had a wife, who died there about two years ago.

Roberts was found in Bakersfield by a traveling salesman. Roberts declared that his name was C. E. Lee, and that he had come to Bakersfield from San Francisco to work in the oil fields. He admitted, however, that his memory prior to May was indistince and that the days between the 18th and 23d were a complete blank.

Roberts left home about the middle of May and since then could not be traced That Roberts' condition is one of a dual personality seems certain from the fact that three years ago he lost his memory for two days and became an entirely different man, according to his wife. Physicians say Roberts is perfectly sane.

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. Those are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the fœtid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Stormy Session Between Managers Has No Result

LOS ANGELES, July 19—Conflicting statements regarding the attitude of Wolgast and Rivers left the question of a return battle between the lightweight champion and the challenger on Labor Day much in doubt this afternoon. Under his own name a statement, said to have been written by Wolgast, was published today, declaring the champion was willing to meet Rivers six or seven months hence, or whenever the champion felt he was "right." At the same time another statement was published giving the result of a stormy session between the managers of Wolgast and Rivers and asserting there would be no fight between the rivals on Labor Day or any other day.

In the meantime, Tom McCarey, promoter of the Pacific Athletic Club, said he was as much at sea as anybody, and that Wolgast had failed to keep an appointment to meet him in conference at 11 o'clock

"Wolgast told me he would sign articles for the Labor Day contest as soon as Rivers did," said McCarey. "Rivers has signed, and Wolgast so far has shown no disposition to follow suit.

"I do not understand it"

In the statement credited to him Wolgast "cheerfully admits" that Rivers was a "tougher proposition" than he had believed, and adds that he will not meet the Mexican fighter again until he has improved his condition, which, he declared, in spite of previous assertions to the contrary, had been badly impaired by his operation for appendicitis

Rivers and his manager, Joe Levy, said they believed Wolgast was afraid to tackle Rivers again and that it was practically certain there would be no fight.

Works Receives Orders From the Boss.

Hon. John D. Works has been informed that he was not elected to be a free agent in the Senate, but to be the agent in Congress of a group of men who have taken charge of the State government and the public conscience, and who also claim the right to dictate the course Senators and Congressmen elected by their favor or under their auspices shall pursue. Meyer Lissner and his associates have informed Senator Works that he must submit not only his judgment in governmental affairs but his private conscience to their control or resign his office and allow someone to take his place who will. The colossal impudence of the demand shows the extent to which bossism is carried in this State.

Senator Works was elected as a Republican, but he is denounced as a traitor because he has had the presumption to be loyal to his party, or, to be exact, because he has refused to assist in betraying it by dishonorable devices. The head and front of his offending is embodied in this statement:

"If they (the progressives) attempt to hold on to the machinery of offices of the old party while working with or for a new one, they can no longer cry thief to the men they charge with stealing delegates in Chicago, and no man of right principles can consistently support their new party."

"This is treason," quoth Lissner & Co. "Consider yourself disgraced and recalled. Hand in your resignation at once. You are discharged."

Seen in one aspect the situation is ludicrous. Looked at in another, it brings home to people of all parties and shades of political belief the extent to which boss domination in California is carried, the despotic control it assumes, the arbitrary authority it attempts to exercise. Works is not a representative of the people or of the Republican party as Meyer Lissner, Chester Rowell et al. view him, but a callboy selected to do the bidding of the bosses of the State machine. He is not a Senator of the United States, merely a servant—the servant of bosses who do not ask him what he thinks, but order him to do what they want done. He is presumed to have no judgment and no conscience, no liberty of action and no independence of mind.

Could there be a more degraded conception of the office of Senator? Could a Senator stoop lower than to accept that definition of his status in office?

The newspapers of the Atlantic Coast now have a bubonic plague scare of their own to which they must devote their attention. For the last dozen years they have periodically printed sensational articles expatiating on the peril San Francisco and the other California cities were in because of bubonic plague. Now they have the plague at their doors, and it didn't come from California either. It came from South America, and has gained a lodgment in Porto Rico, and lively fears are expressed that it will gain a foothold in Cuba and the South Atlantic ports. A rat-killing crusade has been started that extends from Portland, Maine, to Galveston, Texas, and health boards are busy enforcing sanitary laws and quarantine regulations. We have no doubt that the pestilence will be suppressed, but the experience will teach the people on the Eastern coast a valuable lesson. They took delight in advertising to the world that there was plague in San Francisco, in calling upon the people of California to clean-up. Now they know how it is themselves. Perhaps it will do them good—we hope it will do them no harm.

The Sacramento Bee charges Captain Lewis of the National Guard of using "vile and insulting language" in addressing his company. If the Bee means profane and abusive language, it is our impression that such conduct is contrary to the regulations. A rebuke may be construed as insulting, but profane language and abusive epithets are forbidden, although offenses of this character are often overlooked.

Two Ideal Bull Moose Leaders.

Among the statesmen out of a job who recently attended the Durbar at Oyster Bay, presented States to the Emperor of Africa and gave assurances of loyalty and devotion to the Lord of the Big Stick, and displayed their stickiness in general, was former Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, once a Republican Bryanite and a raucous advocate of the exploded steen to one fallacy; also ex-Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina, formerly a Populist Bryanite and a free silver shouter.

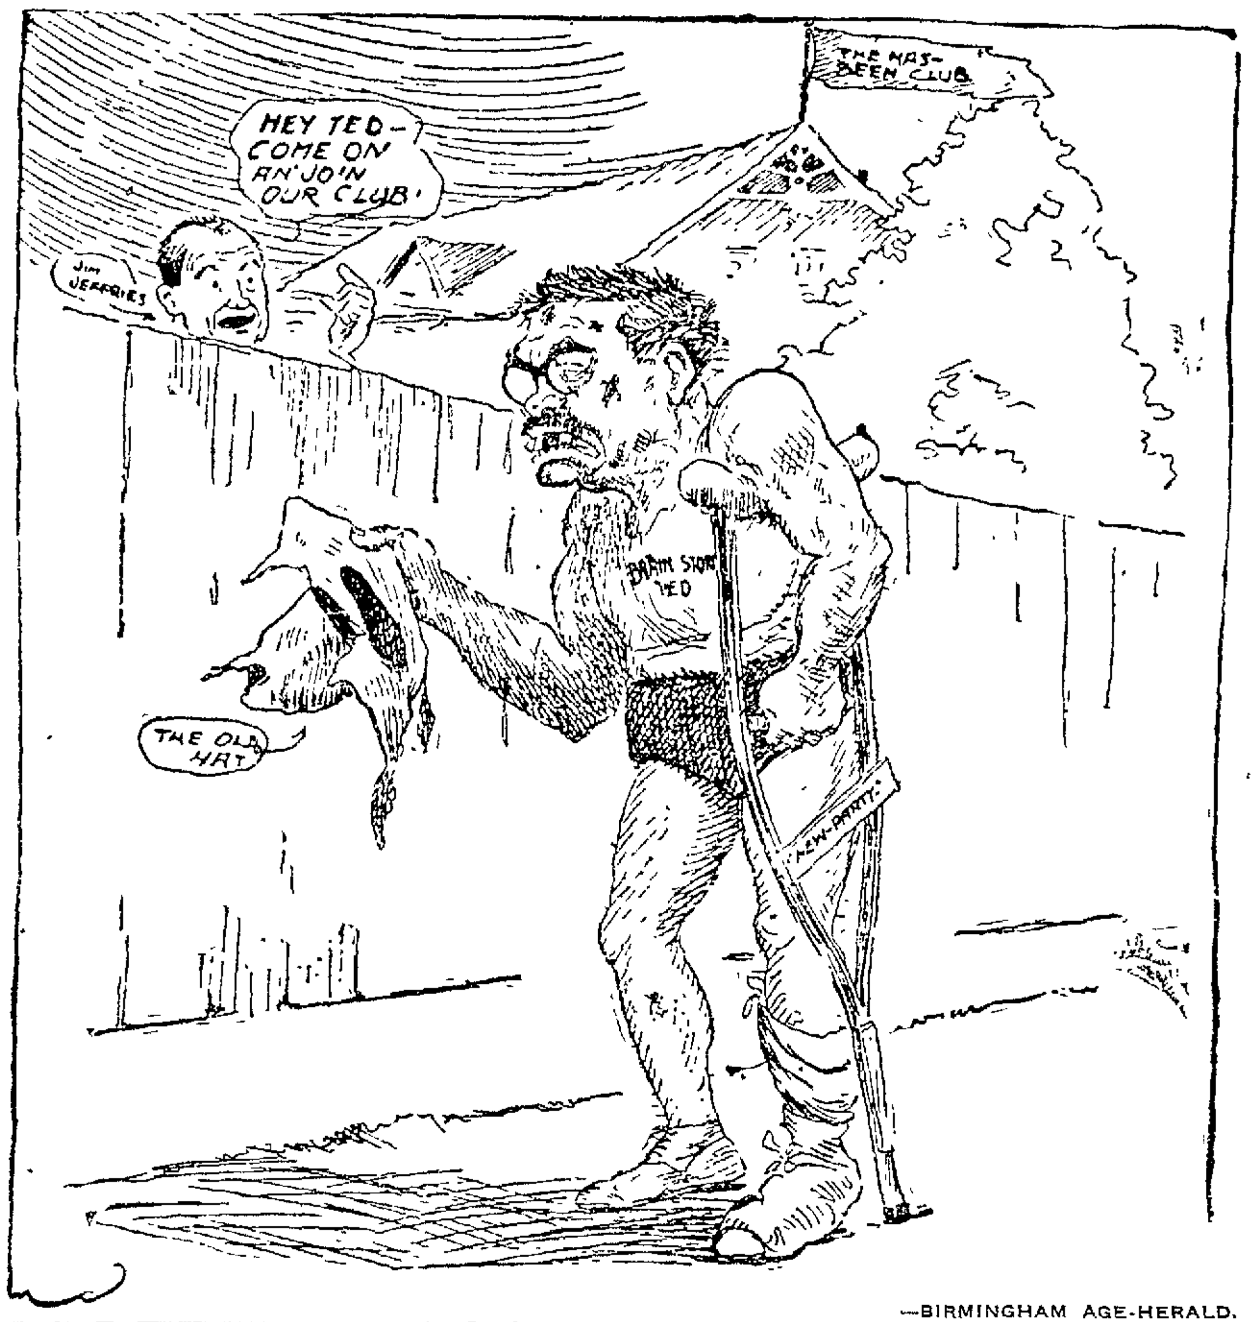
Pettigrew showed up at the Baltimore convention as a delegate for Champ Clark, but turned to Oyster Bay the moment Wilson was nominated. He told the Nabob of Sagamore Hill that Wilson was a reactionary and that the Democratic convention betrayed the progressive cause by nominating him. He also said the Clark men were aflame with indignation over his defeat and that fully half the Democrats of South Dakota would vote the Bull Moose ticket. He thereupon laid the electoral vote at the feet of the Lord of the Big Stick and salammed his way out.

Marion Butler came to unfold a beautiful plan he has formed to place Roosevelt electors on the Democratic ticket in North Carolina. He told the Colonel that his candidates for electors would carry the Democratic primaries against the Wilson men by five or six to one. "There's nothing to it," he said; "you will sweep the State. Count North Carolina as your own from this moment, and remember that Marion Butler will deliver it to you." Yet Marion Butler has been on the political scrap-heap in North Carolina for years. He is not even a Democrat and has no more influence in the Democratic party in that State than a stray cat. Still he has presented North Carolina to the Bull Moose.

Pettigrew and Butler are typical of their kind. Both are discredited and without influence. Each is a political turncoat who has deserted and betrayed the parties with which he is affiliated. Pettigrew, elected as a Republican to the Senate, deserted his party to take up with Bryan and free silver, and finally gravitated into the Democratic party, which he now proposes to betray. Butler was originally a Populist who abandoned Bryan and free silver to become a Republican, and is now trying to betray and break up the Republican party. He carries to Oyster Bay the story of a fake scheme to gold brick the Democrats of North Carolina. Of course Butler's yarn is mere moonshine, but the Bull Moose ate it up and smacked his lips as if it tasted good.

Pettigrew and Butler are merely a pair of political derelicts who have lost all claim to confidence and respect and are trying to catch on somewhere and somehow. But they paraded at the Oyster Bay Durbar as if they were real live leaders and not deadwood caught in the political drift.

COME ON IN!



—BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD.

Roosevelt and the Powder Trust.

This extract from the testimony of Hon. Frank H. Hitchcock, who was chairman of the Republican committee in 1908—the year Taft was elected—given before the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions, is interesting:

No contribution was received from a corporation, Hitchcock said, because Congress had just passed a law prohibiting it. He told of the only contribution he could remember having rejected. It was offered by General T. Coleman Du Pont, of Delaware, then a member of the Republican executive committee, actively assisting in the management of the campaign, and amounted to $20,000.

"He turned it over to the treasurer, George R. Sheldon," began Hitchcock. "When I learned of it I told Du Pont I did not think we could accept it because the Government had a civil suit against a corporation in which he was interested. I instructed the treasurer to return it, and he did so."

T. Coleman Du Pont is the head of the Powder Trust, which Attorney-General Wickersham prosecuted for violating the Sherman anti-trust law. At Chicago he was a supporter of Roosevelt and as a member of the national committee voted for the Roosevelt contestants in making up the temporary roll. The Powder Trust was not disturbed while Roosevelt was President.

Taft's manager returned Du Pont's contribution in 1908. Did Du Pont contribute anything to Roosevelt's campaign fund in 1912? We know that other trust magnates did.

Senator Works seems to have made the mistake of taking the Commandment "Thou shalt not steal" literally. The progressive bosses appear to think he should have taken it in the Pickwickian or pickpocket sense.

John D. Rockefeller says people eat too much. Perhaps they do—certainly some people eat more than is good for them. But a great many more people do not eat a sufficient quantity of good, wholesome food, for the simple reason that they cannot afford to buy it. How to arrange matters so that everybody shall have enough to eat is a problem the Standard Oil magnate has apparently never addressed himself to. Perhaps if oil did not cost so much more money would be left to spend in purchasing food. But, then, Mr. Rockefeller's profits might lessen and Standard Oil stock would decline in price. Which would never do. It is safe, therefore, to talk about the evil effects of over-eating and ignore the uncomfortable question of starvation. It costs nothing to warn people against the sin of gluttony, but the larger problem of regulating human affairs so that none shall go hungry calls for both self-examination and self-denial. A multi-millionaire cannot afford to let his conscience ask him disagreeable questions.

Republican China is assimilating Western ideas and Western institutions at a great rate. A dispatch from Peking says a coterie of political bosses are trying to run the country and grab all the patronage. Reads like a story from New York.

The demand that Woodrow Wilson resign the Governorship is not worthy of serious attention. As well ask Taft to resign from the Presidency. Rutherford B. Hayes did not resign as Governor of Ohio to run for President, neither did Grover Cleveland resign the Governorship of New York when he was nominated for President in 1884. Theodore Roosevelt was Governor of New York in 1900 when he was nominated for Vice-President and did not resign. When he was running for President in 1904 he did not resign the Presidential office. There is no substantial reason why he should have done so. There is no reason why Wilson should resign now. It is true Alton B. Parker resigned as Chief Justice of New York when he ran for President in 1904, but the office he laid down was a judicial one and it was quite proper for him to resign it when he accepted a partisan nomination for a political office.

Under which flag do you choose to live, citizens of Oakland—the Stars and Stripes, the emblem of liberty, order, peace and prosperity, or the red flag of anarchy?

It is not accurate to speak of the Roosevelt organization as the third party. It is the third-term party.

KELLY SLIDES; OTHERS FOLLOW

Members of Board of Education Make Fast Time Through Tube.

To satisfy themselves as to the practicability of a patent fire escape, members of the Board of Education, headed by Director Miss Annie Florence Brown, visited the Claremont Hotel yesterday and dropped six stories through a steel cylinder, characterized at pleasure resorts the "devil's slide."

The device is a huge steel chimney constructed on the exterior of the building with entrances at every floor. A spiral slide in the interior of the chimney furnishes the means of descent and precipitates the passenger safely and swiftly to the ground floor where air cushions help to restore dignity and equilibrium.

Miss Brown was one of the very first to make the descent. Clutching her skirts firmly, the director stepped off the landing at the sixth floor, sat down on the incline and disappeared from view.

Dr. A. S. Kelly received Miss Brown three seconds later at the other end of the tube in good condition, but minus a few hairpins and her breath. In rapid succession the other members of the Board, with the exception of John Forrest, followed the example of their fair colleague. Forrest declined to risk it and no amount of persuasion could induce him to change his mind.

"Set the hotel on fire and maybe I'll try it then," he said, "but I would just as soon get in a parachute."

The others, however, seemed impressed with the device and it is probable that new schools in the annexed district will be equipped with what is known as the Kirker-Bender fire escape. Two of the big cylinders are on different sides of the Claremont Hotel and a third is to be constructed.

MANY FIGHT RUM WITH STATE'S AID

Alameda County Third in List, Having Sent 81 Inebriates to Hospital.

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Records compiled by the state lunacy commission show that in California the only counties from which inebriates have not been sent to the state hospitals for treatment are those of northern California.

During the year from July 1, 1911, to June 30, 1912, 725 patients who were slaves to the liquor or drug habit were sent to the state hospitals. San Francisco leads the state with 240 inebriate patients, Los Angeles comes next with 127, Alameda third with 81, Sacramento fourth, having sent 40, and San Joaquin fifth with 33.

Mme. D'Mille's Beauty Hints

(From the Journal of Fashion.)

"No woman who prizes true beauty will neglect her eyebrows and eyelashes. Brushing the eyebrows trains them to grow arch-shape and applying pyroxin will make them grow thick and silky. Pyroxin applied to roots will make the lashes grow long and silky.

"To keep the skin clear, smooth, fair and pliant, use a simple complexion beautifier, made by dissolving an ordinary package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Gently massage face, neck and arms with this and you will escape freckles, tan and sunburn. It prevents that 'shiny' look and will not rub off or show the powder, while it gives a lovely, soft and youthful complexion.

"Any person desiring abundant, glossy hair should use a dry shampoo frequently. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with an original package of therox and sprinkle a teaspoonful of this mixture on the head and brush it thoroughly through the hair. Therox makes the hair light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous.

"Paste, made by mixing water with a little powdered delatone and applied to a hairy surface, will remove every trace of superfluous hair or fuzz. Leave the paste on a minute or two, then remove and wash the surface. This treatment is safe, sure and speedy and leaves the skin hairless, firm and smooth."

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

DIVORCEE TAGS HER LOVE AT $50,000

Mrs. Helen M. Goodene Wants That Sum From Young Robt. Thompson.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 19.—Mrs. Helen M. Goodeve, divorcee from San Francisco, testified in her $50,000 breach of promise suit against Robert H. Thompson. Young Thompson, who is a Portland automobile dealer, is grandson of R. R. Thompson, founder of the big R. R. Thompson estate, who died at his San Francisco home a few years ago.

Grandson Thompson proposed first to her during a violent rainstorm in Golden Gate park, she testified. She was in her 'teens then, but was already Mrs. Goodeve, separated, but not divorced. She and Thompson met again at the Lewis and Clark fair in 1905, and still again in 1910.

"And he was never with me five minutes without talking of marriage," declared the witness, "and there was always a certain amount of lovemaking."

Between 1905 and 1911 Thompson himself was married and divorced, but June 10, 1911, Mrs. Goodeve says, he again proposed; then still again on September 24. October 6 he said he wouldn't marry.

Thompson's counsel dub Mrs. Goodeve an adventuress and say she not only did the proposing, but was rejected by their client, who they say, refused her hand in marriage many times.

Dying Girl Weds

REDWOOD CITY, July 19.—Love won brief triumph over death when pretty Anita Aragon, 16 years old, was married yesterday afternoon to Joseph M. Ruiz, that her dying request might be granted. Within an hour after the ceremony had been performed the child wife died as a result of an attack of pneumonia.

Miss Aragon, who was the victim of a mysterious disappearance last December, when she vanished for two days and upon returning told a strange story of visiting with a traveling man at San Jose, was the daughter of Juan Aragon, a contractor. She was taken ill in Oakland Wednesday morning, and removed to her home here and placed under the care of physicians.

When told that she might not survive the girl made known her desire to wed Ruiz before death could make the union impossible. Dr. N. C. Bissell, who had diagnosed the case as one of pneumonia, was certain that the girl had not many hours to live, and it was decided to grant her last wish.

Ruiz, who is 29 years old, was attentive to the girl during the last year, and her age was the only objection advanced by her parents to the marriage. He was at the bedside of his youthful sweetheart during the entire day, and when she asked that they be married consented.

Whether the girl would pass away before a marriage license and minister was secured was doubtful, but haste was made to visit the county clerk and obtain the license and to summon Father J. B. Hannigan of Menlo Park, who performed the deathbed ceremony.

Almost the only period of consciousness which the girl had during the day was while she was being married, and when Father Hannigan had pronounced the words which made her a wife she relapsed into unconsciousness and died within an hour. The members of the family and several intimate friends were present at the unusual ceremony.

To Be Reconciled

LONDON, July 19.—The fact that the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the latter formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt, have met, shaken hands and agreed to recognize each other whenever they meet, has set society to speculating as to whether now that the ice has been broken, a permanent reconciliation is not imminent. Guests at a dance given by the duchess at Sunderland house last night were thrilled by a report that a reconciliation had actually occurred, that the duke would make a dramatic appearance at the party and that the duke and duchess would let bygones be bygones. Such anticipations, however, were doomed to disappointment. The duchess received alone and the duke did not appear.

It is a fact, however, that both met at the house of a mutual friend and agreed to relieve the awkwardness of their host and hostesses and friends by acting in an agreeable manner toward each other.

Since their separation the situation has been full of difficulties for the ducal pair, as on several occasions they found themselves in the same parties, giving each other the cold eyes as they passed.

Share Her Estate

STOCKTON, July 19.—By the terms of the will of the late Jane Sanders, filed with the county clerk here today by Attorney Carlton C. Case, the entire estate, valued at more than $26,000, will be divided among her neighbors.

Mrs. Sanders resided for many years on a 160-acre farm near this city, on the lower Sacramento road. By a paragraph in her will she evidently had some good neighbors.

The paragraph reads as follows:

"I hereby declare that I am a widow and that I have no children. I give, bequeath and devise my property to persons in this will named, all of whom, from time extending from one to forty years, have been kind and have shown courtesies to me."

The estate consists of the farm of 160 acres, valued at $12,000; cash in bank, $13,358.11; cash in safe deposit vault, $600, and livestock and personal property, $600.

Wife and Coin Gone

SANTA ROSA, July 19.—George Diebold, an El Verano farmer, who recently married Ellen Mertens in San Francisco in response to an advertisement in a San Francisco newspaper, asked the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon to find his wife and several hundred dollars. She left recently, saying that she had been summoned to the deathbed of a relative. Since then he has been informed that she has another husband living. All Diebold says he wants is to have the marriage annulled.

Has Some Punch

STOCKTON, July 19. Mrs. Katie Gutierrez, mother of Ado Zotte, the local pugilist, was arrested here yesterday by the police on a charge of battery. Miss Abbie M. Moore, a dressmaker, swore to the complaint charging Mrs. Gutierrez with battery, claiming that the pugilist's mother punched her in the jaw yesterday morning because a dress which she made for her did not fit her. Mrs. Gutierrez is out of jail on $50 bail.

Target for Bomb

BARCELONA, July 19.—A small bomb exploded while Infanta Isabella, aunt of King Alfonso, was passing through the Plaza de Cataluna yesterday with her suite. No one was injured, but the explosion caused a great panic.

Governor Wilson writes shorthand, but that does not mean he intends to be dictated to.

ASSESSED VALUATION IN SOLANO IS LARGE

VALLEJO, July 19.—E. E. Long, assessor of Solano county, has submitted his annual report to the board of supervisors, according to Long's figures, the assessed valuation of the taxable property in Vallejo is over $1,000,000 inexcess of the previous year. The total assessed valuation for the present year is $22,971,351.

NAVAL MILITIA SAILS FOR SAN FRANCISCO

SEATTLE, July 19. — The cruiser Marblehead, carrying the California naval militia, sailed from Victoria for San Francisco yesterday, omitting a promised call at Seattle, where preparations to entertain the militiamen had been made. The Marblehead coaled at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, and sailed without two men who had been given shore leave and told to join the cruiser at Seattle. The Marblehead's hurry was due to her being behind her schedule.

LIQUOR MAN IS CONVICTED.

SAN JOSE, July 19.—Victor Herrera charged with selling liquor to women in rear rooms of his saloon, was convicted of the crime yesterday by a jury in Judge Dougherty's court, while a delegation of Women's Christian Temperance leaders, headed by Mrs. Effie Whitman, applauded the verdict. The women declare that they will fight the liquor traffic until every saloon in San Jose obeys the law

NEW YORK EXPOSITION BOARD HAS MEETING

NEW YORK, July 19. — The first meeting of the New York committee for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, to be held in San Francisco in 1915, was held at the Hotel Knickerbocker yesterday. The committee, made up of five members, has for its president Norman E. Mack and for vice-president John F. Yale of Putnam county.

Charles F. Moore, president of the exposition, sent word that 250 feet by 200 feet had been reserved on the main avenue of the exposition grounds for New York State. It was necessary for the committee to take legal possession of the ground and the committee replied that it would send representatives soon.

It was decided to send representative exhibits of New York State manufactures, forest, fish and game exhibits and an example of horticulture, especially of grape culture. Permanent headquarters will be established at 64 West Forty-second street.

NEW ENGLANDERS FORM NEW BODY

Members of S. F. Society in Alameda County Organize Separately.

The Alameda county branch of the New England association is henceforth to be an independent organization. About 40 members of the branch met in session at the Chamber of Commerce last night to receive the report of the investigation committee and to take definite action. For some time there has been no little dissatisfaction over the treatment accorded to east bay members by the mother organization in San Francisco.

The presentation of a formal resolution to dissolve the alliance between the San Francisco and Alameda county organizations opened the combat between the local officers and members and a delegation from San Francisco, headed by the president, Scott Smith. As soon as the resolution was passed, President Edward Stearns of the Alameda county branch, explained that the organization was formally dissolved, and the offices were vacant. C. W. Marsden was then appointed temporary chairman.

The new organization will be effected at a meeting to be held by the former members on the evening of August 1.

The local organization feels it has the right to collect its own dues and to make its own financial disbursements. It further complained that the rates and dues as established by the parent society in San Francisco were so exorbitant that only one member of any family of average circumstances was permitted to join.

The text of the resolution passed last night is as follows:

"Be it resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting that we believe in the principles of the old town meeting—to wit: the independence of each local as to local affairs and a representative form of government for State affairs.

"Therefore, we declare the Alameda county organization of the New Englanders free and independent, but declare our readiness to affiliate with other local bodies on a representative basis."

THIRD PARTYITES THREATEN DENEEN

Roosevelt Committee Sets Fire to Fence of Illinois' Executive.

CHICAGO, July 19.—A committee of five Roosevelt supporters to call on Governor Deneen and other Republican state candidates and formally demand that they get off the fence and say whether they are for Taft or Roosevelt for president was appointed yesterday.

The members are: J. T. Williams of Sterling, Ill.; B. F. Harris of Champaign, F. G. Allen of Moline, Chauncey Dewey and Medill McCormick of Chicago.

The committee is directed to make public the governor's answer within a week, and persons inside the Roosevelt counsels insist that if he does not come out unequivocally for Roosevelt and against Taft, the progressive state convention August 3 will nominate a third party state ticket.

Medill McCormick admitted that Roosevelt is insisting on a third candidate for governor through Senator Dixon, his campaign manager. McCormick said he had received a telegram from Dixon which said:

"It will be wise for our friends to take a position which will permit them to support a candidate for governor who will be favorable to Colonel Roosevelt."

This telegram was received Tuesday before the conference of state progressives, which, it has been charged, was controlled by Deneen men. It was not read to the conference. It is rumored that if persistent disregard of Roosevelt's wishes is shown by his Illinois representatives he intends to depose them and appoint new agents who will obey instructions better.

The sale of tickets to the third party national convention in Chicago on August 5 was opened at headquarters yesterday. Within a few hours it was announced $1500 had been received, $1000 of this amount being for 50 tickets for one man, whose name was not given out. Medill McCormick said it was planned to have the receipts from the tickets pay most of the convention expenses, estimated at $25,000.

A general committee of arrangements, with various sub-committees, was appointed yesterday. Ralph C. Otis, who has been at Oyster Bay consulting with Colonel Roosevelt, was made chairman.

PUNK TO BE TAXED AT 20 PER CENT

No Longer Allowed to Masquerade as Chinese Joss Stick.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The ordinary Chinese and Japanese punk can no longer come into the United States free of duty as a joss stick or joss light for possible use in shrines of the Orientals. The treasury department announced today that punk was merely a "smudge stick" to drive away mosquitoes and other insects and was dutiable at 20 per cent ad valorem

This was the result of an extensive investigation in this country and Hawaii, which indicated that punk was vastly inferior to the joss sticks burned in the temples of China and Japan.

NEW S. P. STEAMER.

The Southern Pacific's new steamer Cherokee, built at the Oakland shipyards of the company, has passed the government inspection, and went into service Tuesday as an additional freight boat on the Sacramento river. The Cherokee will handle fruit shipments from the various orchards along the Netherlands route for further movement by rail to transcontinental points. The river fruit season is at its height, and the placing in service of the Cherokee will be welcomed by fruitgrowers and shippers, in that it will facilitate the movement of these products.

NEW MANAGEMENT SALE

In order to introduce himself to the Oakland public, Mr. J. C. Reed, who was sent out by the New York office to take charge of this store, is making a special sale for tomorrow.

$25 Suits Made to Your Measure $15.00

When Mr. Reed was first ordered to the Coast he got busy at once. He told the New York management he wanted to give the men of this city an introductory special that would make his coming remembered for many a day as the biggest made-to-your-measure suit sale ever held in Oakland. He was given a free hand and told to go ahead and stir up the business out here and make things hum.

Here's How He's Planned to Get Acquainted With the Good Dressers in Oakland and Make Business Hum

Before leaving New York he made a selection of 1000 of the newest and nobbiest suit patterns that had just arrived from the mills. He packed them in trunks and brought them with him. These same suit patterns will not be put on sale in New York until September or October. They are late Summer and early Fall styles and you can't buy one in New York then for less than $25—but you can have your choice of these suitings Mr. Reed brought with him. Our expert tailors will make it up in the latest style and give it the same attention as if you paid full price—for $15.00.

This is an exceptionally fine offer—one that you can't afford to overlook. The saving is too big and the suit patterns are just what other tailors will be selling as the latest fall goods two months from now at prices from $25 to $30.

Now come early tomorrow and get first selection—it means a saving of $10.

GOOD JUDGMENT

—Is worth more than riches.

—If you use good judgment— you'll grow rich.

—If you have riches and lack judgment—your riches will fly.

—Good judgment demands that you take advantage of opportunities.

—This offer of a $25 made-to-your-measure suit for $15 will appeal to your good judgment.

—It presents an opportunity to save $10 and get a suit made to your measure from the new Fall patterns.

Romaine, an examiner in the Appraiser's office, by the Federal grand jury on the charge of having smuggled thirty-five tins of opium from the Manchuria May 31.

'SEA SERPENT' LIVES TO TELL ALL ABOUT IT

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Arthur Jackson, a negro porter, went swimming in the Sacramento river above the city. Fred Ford and William Gladstone, fishermen were working in the vicinity. It was dusk, Jackson is very black. He is a good swimmer, and was floating on his back, shooting water up in the air from his mouth. Ford and Gladstone never had seen a sea serpent, but they thought Jackson was one. Gladstone reached into the bottom of his boat for his shotgun and began shooting. Jackson yelled, but the firing continued for some time. Gladstone's aim was bad. Jackson escaped uninjured.

SUPPOSED PAUPER HAD $9000 ESTATE

WALNUT GROVE, July 19.—David Lamont, aged 65 or 70 years, sent here from San Francisco by an employment office to work on the farm of George Stamm, was found dead on the old cross-levee near here. He had died during the way, while trying to walk to town. Only when a search of the body was made by Deputy Coroner Mealor, was it found that the apparently needy man was well-to-do. He had over $9000 on deposit in the Canadian Bank of Commerce in San Francisco and the Security Savings bank in Los Angeles

Many People Buy Furniture

Local Company Finds That Its Annual Sale Attracts Host of Buyers

That local buyers are ready to take advantage of the right kind of bargains and that the market is live is proven by the success of the Oakland Furniture Company in their Annual Sale. The sale is now in its second month and the business is still brisk. It looks as though a good deal of the heavy buying will be done in the latter part of July.

Mr. J. M. Davis, president of the Oakland Furniture Company, says: "One of the chief compensations for the big cut in prices we have been making in the company's annual summer sale is the unmistakable evidence of confidence in the integrity of the company. The company has been making some rather extreme claims as to their values in all lines of house furnishings, but thanks to a widely known reputation gained through years of square dealing, the present summer sale is just as convincing as our former sales to thousands of buyers that the values offered at the special discount prices are the best that can be obtained anywhere. It is almost needless to add that the sale is a big success as to output. A feature of the sale is that both credit and spot cash buyers are purchasing higher grade furnishings than they had intended, which will add immensely to the comfort and elegance of their homes."

TO SHOW PROCESS OF MANUFACTURING

Chamber of Commerce Committee to Boost County Products.

In order that the skillful process of manufacture of the various food and other products of Alameda county may be more directly placed before the people, an educational campaign has been started by the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the plans for which were fully discussed and acted upon at a meeting of that body last night.

The campaign will be conduced for the purpose of acquainting the communities in the county with home products. The plans include the establishment and maintenance of a large and permanent industrial exhibit on the top floor of the Chamber of Commerce building. Here, according to Secretary Boegle of the committee, will be shown the product, as well as the actual machinery, for the making of that article, and the ingredients used therein will be in charge of a demonstrator, who will explain the process as the product is being made from start to finish before the eyes of the visitors.

Another valuable course in this new civic and industrial school will be regular tours through the manufacturing districts—to the canneries, ship yards, lumber mills and foundries—in fact, every place where process is required for production. The business men of the city, and any others who may desire to attend, will be welcomed on any of these trips.

The success attending the efforts of the committee thus far has stimulated its members to a most energetic and enthusiastic preseverance in its endeavors in the upbuilding of the local and county manufacturing interests.

The following named firms were admitted to membership at last night's session. Beal & Royal, Leonhardt's, National Pharmacy Company, Thomas Booth Company, Kelly-Davis Company, King's Electric Company, J. R. D. McKenzie, A. Noack, Smith Bros. Inc., and Westinghouse Pacific Coast Brake Company.

'TOO MUCH ROOSEVELT,' ASSERTS SENATOR WORKS

Solon Writes Tart Reply to Those Who Demand His Resignation

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Still standing by his guns, Senator Works wrote a tart reply yesterday to the California progressives who have demanded his resignation. In his letter he practically reiterated and emphasizes the position taken by him in the statement of his views, which created all the furor.

"The trouble with the third party," he writes, "is that it is based on Roosevelt and not on principle, and when he is beaten, it will be dead beyond resurrection."

Senator Works declares that he was elected as a Republican and that he cannot be influenced in his sense of duty by threats of intimidation.

He holds that there is no need for a third party in California, where the progressive Republicans control the State.

The demand for Senator Works' resignation has created great interest among his colleagues in the Senate, where he was the subject of much good-natured chaffing.

"Have you packed up yet, Senator?" was a question which the California member had put to him many times.

Representative Stephens and other members of Congress from California refuse to comment upon the Works controversy.

While treating the demand for his resignation lightly, it is evident that Senator Works is greatly perturbed by the unexpected storm which followed his review of the political situation.

When seen he refused to comment further on the matter.

"My letter in reply to the message I received," he said, "speaks for itself. That is all I wish to say at the present time."

ANSWER TO DEMAND.

"Washington, D. C., July 17, 1912.

"To the Hon. A. J. Wallace, Laughlin Building, Los Angeles—My Dear Governor: I am in receipt of a telegram signed by you and others as follows:

"'We feel that your statement given publicity through reactionary newspapers was unnecessary, unwise, based upon lack of information and in certain of its conclusions false.

"'Because of the fact that you owe your place in the United States Senate to the support you received from the progressive Republican voters of California, it ill becomes you either to scold or criticise them for their determination to carry forward the fight along the only lines open to them under the law.

"'Due to the fact that you are reputed to represent in the United States Senate the cause for which we have contended so successfully in California, your criticism can have no other effect than unfairly to injure the very movement that you were chosen to foster and promote.

"'To employ the same line of reasoning that you use in your statement, we feel that if you are out of harmony with the progressive sentiment in California that gave you a majority of the votes cast in the Republican primaries two years ago and can no longer work in harmony with that sentiment, then it is your duty to resign and come home, to the end that some one may be chosen who will act in harmony with the progressive sentiment of the greatly preponderating masses of registered Republican voters in California.'

RETORTS IN THEIR WORDS.

"I am glad you say in the 'unnecessary and unwise' telegram that I owe my place in the United States Senate to the support I received from the progressive Republican voters of California.

"The progressive Republicans at the time of my election were the Republican party of the State. Therefore, I was elected to the Senate by the Republican party and am its representative in that body.

"I have tried conscientiously and faithfully to carry out the principles of the party as then and now constituted and am in entire harmony with progressive principles.

"I remember I was chosen by Progressive Republicans who prided themselves on the fact that they had, by staying in the party, redeemed it from reactionary influences and corruption, and made it worthy of respect and confidence.

"Now, as I understand your position, you propose to abandon it to the enemy from whom you rescued it and form a new party.

"I was not chosen to form a new party, nor with any understanding on my part, or of the people who elected me, that I was to desert the party or abandon its principles.

"I am afraid I do not understand the statement in your telegram that your 'determination to carry forward the fight along the only lines open to you under the law.'

"Do you mean that the only line open to progressive Republicans, in a State where they have complete control of the party with all its machinery, is to abandon it and form a new party?

"Or do you mean that the only way open to you is to use the machinery of the Republican party, of which you have control, to establish a new party and elect the candidate of that party?

"I did not make the statement issued by me without an examination of the law in California and careful and mature deliberation.

GO SLOW, IS ADVICE.

"I made it because I do not want the progressive Republicans of my State, who have done so much for the advancement of progressive principles and the purification of politics, to make a fatal mistake, in the heat of passion, that would undo all the good they have done.

"I assume that the signers of this telegram desire to secure the election of Mr Roosevelt. If they do, the way is open to them under the law—a way they can take with perfect consistency and without just reproach.

"If he runs as a Republican and the people by their votes nominated as candidates for the legislature men who will vote for the nomination of electors favorable to Mr. Roosevelt, they may nominate such electors and if they are elected by the people they may of right and with perfect propriety vote for him for President.

"There is no criticism of that course in my statement.

"But a candidate for the legislature must make oath that he is a Republican and will vote for a majority of the candidates of that party.

"If Mr. Roosevelt abandons the Republican party and joins a new one, and the men nominated for the legislature who have taken this oath have done so with a mental reservation and with the intention of themselves joining this new party, or with the intention of nominating electors who belong to the new party, or who will vote for the candidate of a new party, their conduct will be wholly indefensible.

"If they propose to act with the new party, they must of necessity and in common honor withdraw from the Republican party first.

"They cannot belong to two political parties at the same time or use their official positions in the Republican party to further the interests of a candidate of another party, new or old.

"I assume that none of you would for a moment countenance any such thing. If not, I have said nothing in criticism of your course.

"Indeed, you have taken the general principles set out in my statement as directed at you, or the progressives of California. You will find nothing in the statement to warrant any such inference, if you will read it carefully.

WHOLLY UNNECESSARY.

"You could only come within the con[illegible] in the statement by doing those acts. I assume, of course, that you will not do them, not only because it would be wrong, as you know, but because it is wholly unnecessary to accomplish what you want to bring about.

"As to the facts set out in the statement, they are indisputable and no truthful man, knowing the facts, will deny them.

"The greatest trouble with your new party is that it is not founded on principle but upon Roosevelt and when Roosevelt is beaten the party will be dead beyond resurrection.

"If no progressive is [illegible] as a Republican [illegible] the Democratic [illegible] ticket this year as a rebuke to the methods by which Taft was nominated and then purge the national Republican party by another four years as we have already done in California.

"Wilson is a progressive running on a progressive platform and may be supported by progressive Republicans with perfect consistency and without disloyalty to the principles of their party.

"This is a critical time when Republicans who stand for progressive principles should speak freely and frankly their sentiments and convictions.

"I felt it my duty, occupying the position I do, to let my convictions be known.

"I might very properly ask you and your associates by what authority you demand my resignation, but I refrain and leave that to your calmer judgment.

"If you had taken time to consider my statement with fairness and deliberation, you might have pointed out some portion of it that you regard as untrue or unjust. You do not do so in your telegram.

REPRESENTS G. O. P.

"I shall continue to represent the Republican party and its progressive principles, as declared by the party and the platform upon which I was elected.

"I hope the signers of this telegram will continue to do the same.

"Some of them, yourself included, hold office, as I do, at the hands of the Republican party.

"Some of them hold responsible positions as members of committees of that party and owe it allegiance.

"I trust they are not among the number who propose to form a new party, at least while they hold office and place under the Republican party.

"We stand today without any nominee of the Republican party, as I said in my statement. The convention at Chicago was fraudulently manipulated, I have no doubt, by designing and unscrupulous men.

"Therefore, every Republican has the right to make his choice of candidates or parties.

"I assume, though I do not know it to be so, that the signers of the above telegram believe a new party should be formed. I have no criticism to pass upon any Republican who conscientiously takes that course.

"The time may come when I shall feel this to be the right course to take, and when I do, I shall pursue it without fear.

"Now, particularly as I am holding office under the Republican party, I do not feel it to be the right thing to do, therefore, I have said so with the same fearlessness.

"Feeling this to be so, I felt it to be my duty to say so. I knew my views would not accord with the views of some of the progressive Republicans in California and that they would be criticised.

"I did not suppose, however, that in laying down the principles set out in the statement, I was condemning the progressive Republicans of California.

"It is needless for me to say that I regret that any one should feel aggrieved or offended at anything I have done or said. Every right-minded man values the good opinion of good people.

ABIDES BY CONSCIENCE.

"But no man worthy of respect can obtain or seek to obtain the good opinion of his fellowmen by violating his own conscience or sense of duty.

"I think you and the other signers of this telegram must know me well enough to know that I am not likely to be influenced, against my sense of duty and obligation by threats or attempted intimidation.

"If you think I have committed any wrong or injustice to you or any one else, you have made a grave mistake in attempting to correct it by your intemperate and wholly unwarranted telegram.

"You seem to have taken offense at the fact that the statement 'was given publicity through reactionary newspapers.' It was given out to all newspapers alike.

"It was given out first of all to the regular correspondent at Washington of the Los Angeles progressive newspapers and was withheld from publication long enough to enable him to send the statement to his papers. If these papers did not publish it, I am not to blame.

"I think when you consider calmly your telegram, you will, in justice to yourselves, take pleasure in withdrawing it with a suitable apology.

"You would hardly want to remain in the position of condemning a man for expressing his honest convictions upon a matter in which he is vitally concerned, and about which he felt it his duty to speak, for no better reason than that his convictions do not agree with yours.

GOVERNED BY PASSION.

"Your telegram is only another evidence of what I said in my statement, that politics today is being governed by passion and not by reason and fair and calm deliberation.

"I regret to see appended to this telegram the names of some of my very good and long-standing friends, one of them occupying a high judicial position that the progressive Republicans of California are wisely trying to keep out of politics.

"It is singular that such men as these should have allowed themselves to act thus hastily and unjustly. If they are as conscientious in their duty as American citizens in this most trying time, as I feel myself to be, they will regret this act of theirs much more than I do.

"I understand that you have given your telegram to the press. If so, I shall feel at liberty to do the same with this letter. Very truly yours,

"JOHN D. WORKS."

BOARD DEMANDS FICKERT'S PROOF

Sends Letter to District Attorney Asking for Direct Charges.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Charles Skelly, secretary of the police commission, directed a letter this morning to District Attorney Fickert requesting him to bring to the attention of the board the alleged violations of the rules and infractions of the law, laid at the door of certain police officers. The missive urges the prosecutor to impart the fact to the commissioners if he has any evidence regarding the sale of liquors to minors and gambling on the Ocean Boulevard and among the roadside resorts involving members of the force.

The meeting which was scheduled for this morning in the office of the district attorney between Ernest Howell, theatrical promoter, Jim Raggett, saloon man, and Jocky Regan was postponed on account of the disappearance of Regan and the fact that Raggett is in Los Angeles. It is Howell who alleges that he was robbed by two members of the police department, and the district attorney declares that he is going to do his utmost to force him to identify the officers who are alleged to have played a crap game [illegible]

Meantime Chief of Police White is also on the warpath and is endeavoring to get at the bottom of things. He is conducting an investigation on his own account, is endeavoring to learn the identity of the accused officers and is also finding time to engage in some bantering with the district attorney.

James Raggett, the saloonman who had hurried up from Los Angeles to tell the district attorney all he knew, consulted with [illegible] at noon. He declared that at the time Howell claims to have been [illegible] he was ill in a local hospital. He [illegible] to do all he could to aid the prosecutor.

NOTICE!

In this unusual way the Orpheum Theater management calls your attention to an unusual event—the coming of "Madame Butterfly" to the Oakland Orpheum next Sunday.

David Belasco has personally made this production of his world-famous classic for the Orpheum circuit.

Mr. Belasco staged the drama before it was sent out on the Orpheum circuit two months ago. Mr. Belasco's wish is that all announcements about this play on the Orpheum circuit shall read as follows:

"David Belasco presents 'Madame Butterfly,' a one-act play by David Belasco, based on John Luther Long's Japanese story."

Mr. Belasco's reputation as a producer and wizard of the stage is worldwide.

All of David Belasco's enviable reputation as the supreme stage artist is back of this production of "Madame Butterfly," which he has made for the Orpheum circuit.

Mr. Belasco wishes that this be understood.

When you see "Madame Butterfly" at the Oakland Orpheum next Sunday you will see the supreme achievement of the Belasco art.

It is the greatest step forward that vaudeville—the king of amusement factors—has ever made.

It is the Orpheum company's contribution to dramatic art in vaudeville.

We invite you to see it—to pass judgment upon it—to give your verdict upon its claim to greatness as a dramatic classic—a Belasco classic.

The cost of this Belasco production is naturally very great. The expense involved in the production is equal to that of an entire Orpheum program—and there is nothing in all the theater world that costs more than an Orpheum program.

But—

Though "Madame Butterfly" heads the big bill next Sunday, note this:

The prices during the "Madame Butterfly" week will positively not be advanced.

We advise, however, that all our patrons reserve their seats for the "Madame Butterfly" week in advance.

Reserve them now and get the choicest locations.

There will be a crush.

LAME AND BLIND GATHER AT SHRINE

Eager Hands Stretch Forth to Touch Wrist Bone of St. Anne.

CHICAGO, July 19.—The annual gathering of the lame, halt and blind at the shrine of St. Anne began yesterday at the California-avenue church, where wonderful cures are said to have been made in past years.

The Novena services began in the morning and when the doors of the church were opened there was a crowd of persons, some supported on canes, others on crutches and on the arms of friends and more riding in wheel chairs present sufficient almost to fill the place of worship.

All who desired were given the privilege of kissing the sacred relic, a piece of the wrist bone of the saint. Eager hands were stretched forth by those suffering from all manner of ills for a chance to touch the relic.

"I do not maintain that any miracles were performed while I was here a year ago," said Father Daly last night, "but it is true that many were cured and purely through their faith."

Damp Air Is Good for the Complexion

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

NO women understand the benefits of dampness upon the skin so thoroughly as English women. You have heard so much praise of the English complexion, and so many reasons for it, that it is hard to believe that the dampness of the climate is really the only reason.

But it is true, and English mothers know it, and send their children out in any and all kinds of weather. Good complexions are not the exception in England and Scotland; almost every woman and girl you meet has a clear white skin and natural rosy cheeks.

There is the Scotch mist so well known in Scotland, and much dampness and rain in England, so that if women were to remain indoors for the fear of a little dampness, they would rarely go out at all. The English summer resembles our April weather, as it rains several times every day. No one would hesitate for a moment about going out.

Now if we Americans would avail ourselves of the rainy days, and make it our rule to go out and benefit by the dampness, we would have better complexions.

It is a well-known fact that rain water is the softest and purest liquid that people can wash their faces in. Some masseurs go so far as to carry it with them when they give facial treatments. That would never be necessary if women would take advantage of dampness.

Walk for an hour or so in the dampness with no veil over the face and no powder on the skin, and let the face get quite wet from rain or fog. The effect is not quite instantaneous for the reason that the rain rather pats the face, and it becomes a little red at first, but after the face has been dried and cooled you will see a decided clearness, and if you pass your hand over your face you will feel a wonderful smoothness of texture.

Dampness is so beneficial to the skin and complexion that every one should go to the seashore for a couple of weeks every year, just to benefit and beautify the complexion.

Dampness is not conducive to crimps and curls, and nice clothes lose their freshness quickly in it. But the people can afford to disregard their hair and dress for a while, for the benefit the skin is receiving.

Remember: Everything is for our good in some way, if we are looking for the good way.

MRS. J. W.—Thank you for for your kind words of appreciation. I am delighted to hear that the hair tonic and directions for scalp massage which I mailed you have been so beneficial. To whiten the arms spread the paste made from the following formula evenly over them. One dram of refined tar, one dram of violet extract, one pint of olive oil. When your arms are completely coated bind with long, narrow strips of soft cotton cloth, fastening each end with a safety pin. Keep the bandages on all night, and next morning when the cotton strips are removed wash off the mixture with warm water and soap. Two or three applications of this paste will make your arms snowy white.

MARY—Hands that are badly neglected require heroic and persistent treatment to restore them. They should be given a half hour's immersion in a thick jelly of oatmeal, scraped castile soap, and warm water. This thoroughly softens the skin, when all excessive growth of cuticle can easily be gently rubbed off with a soft towel. Stains should then be treated with lemon juice or peroxide of hydrogen, after which the hands should be incased in cosmetic gloves, which whiten and beautify the skin. The ordinary thick white cotton gloves, a size larger than the hand, answer well for this purpose, and should be thickly coated on the inside with paste before they are drawn on. In addition, some of the emollient should be well massaged into the hands. I have the formula for an excellent French glove paste which I will gladly send to you if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

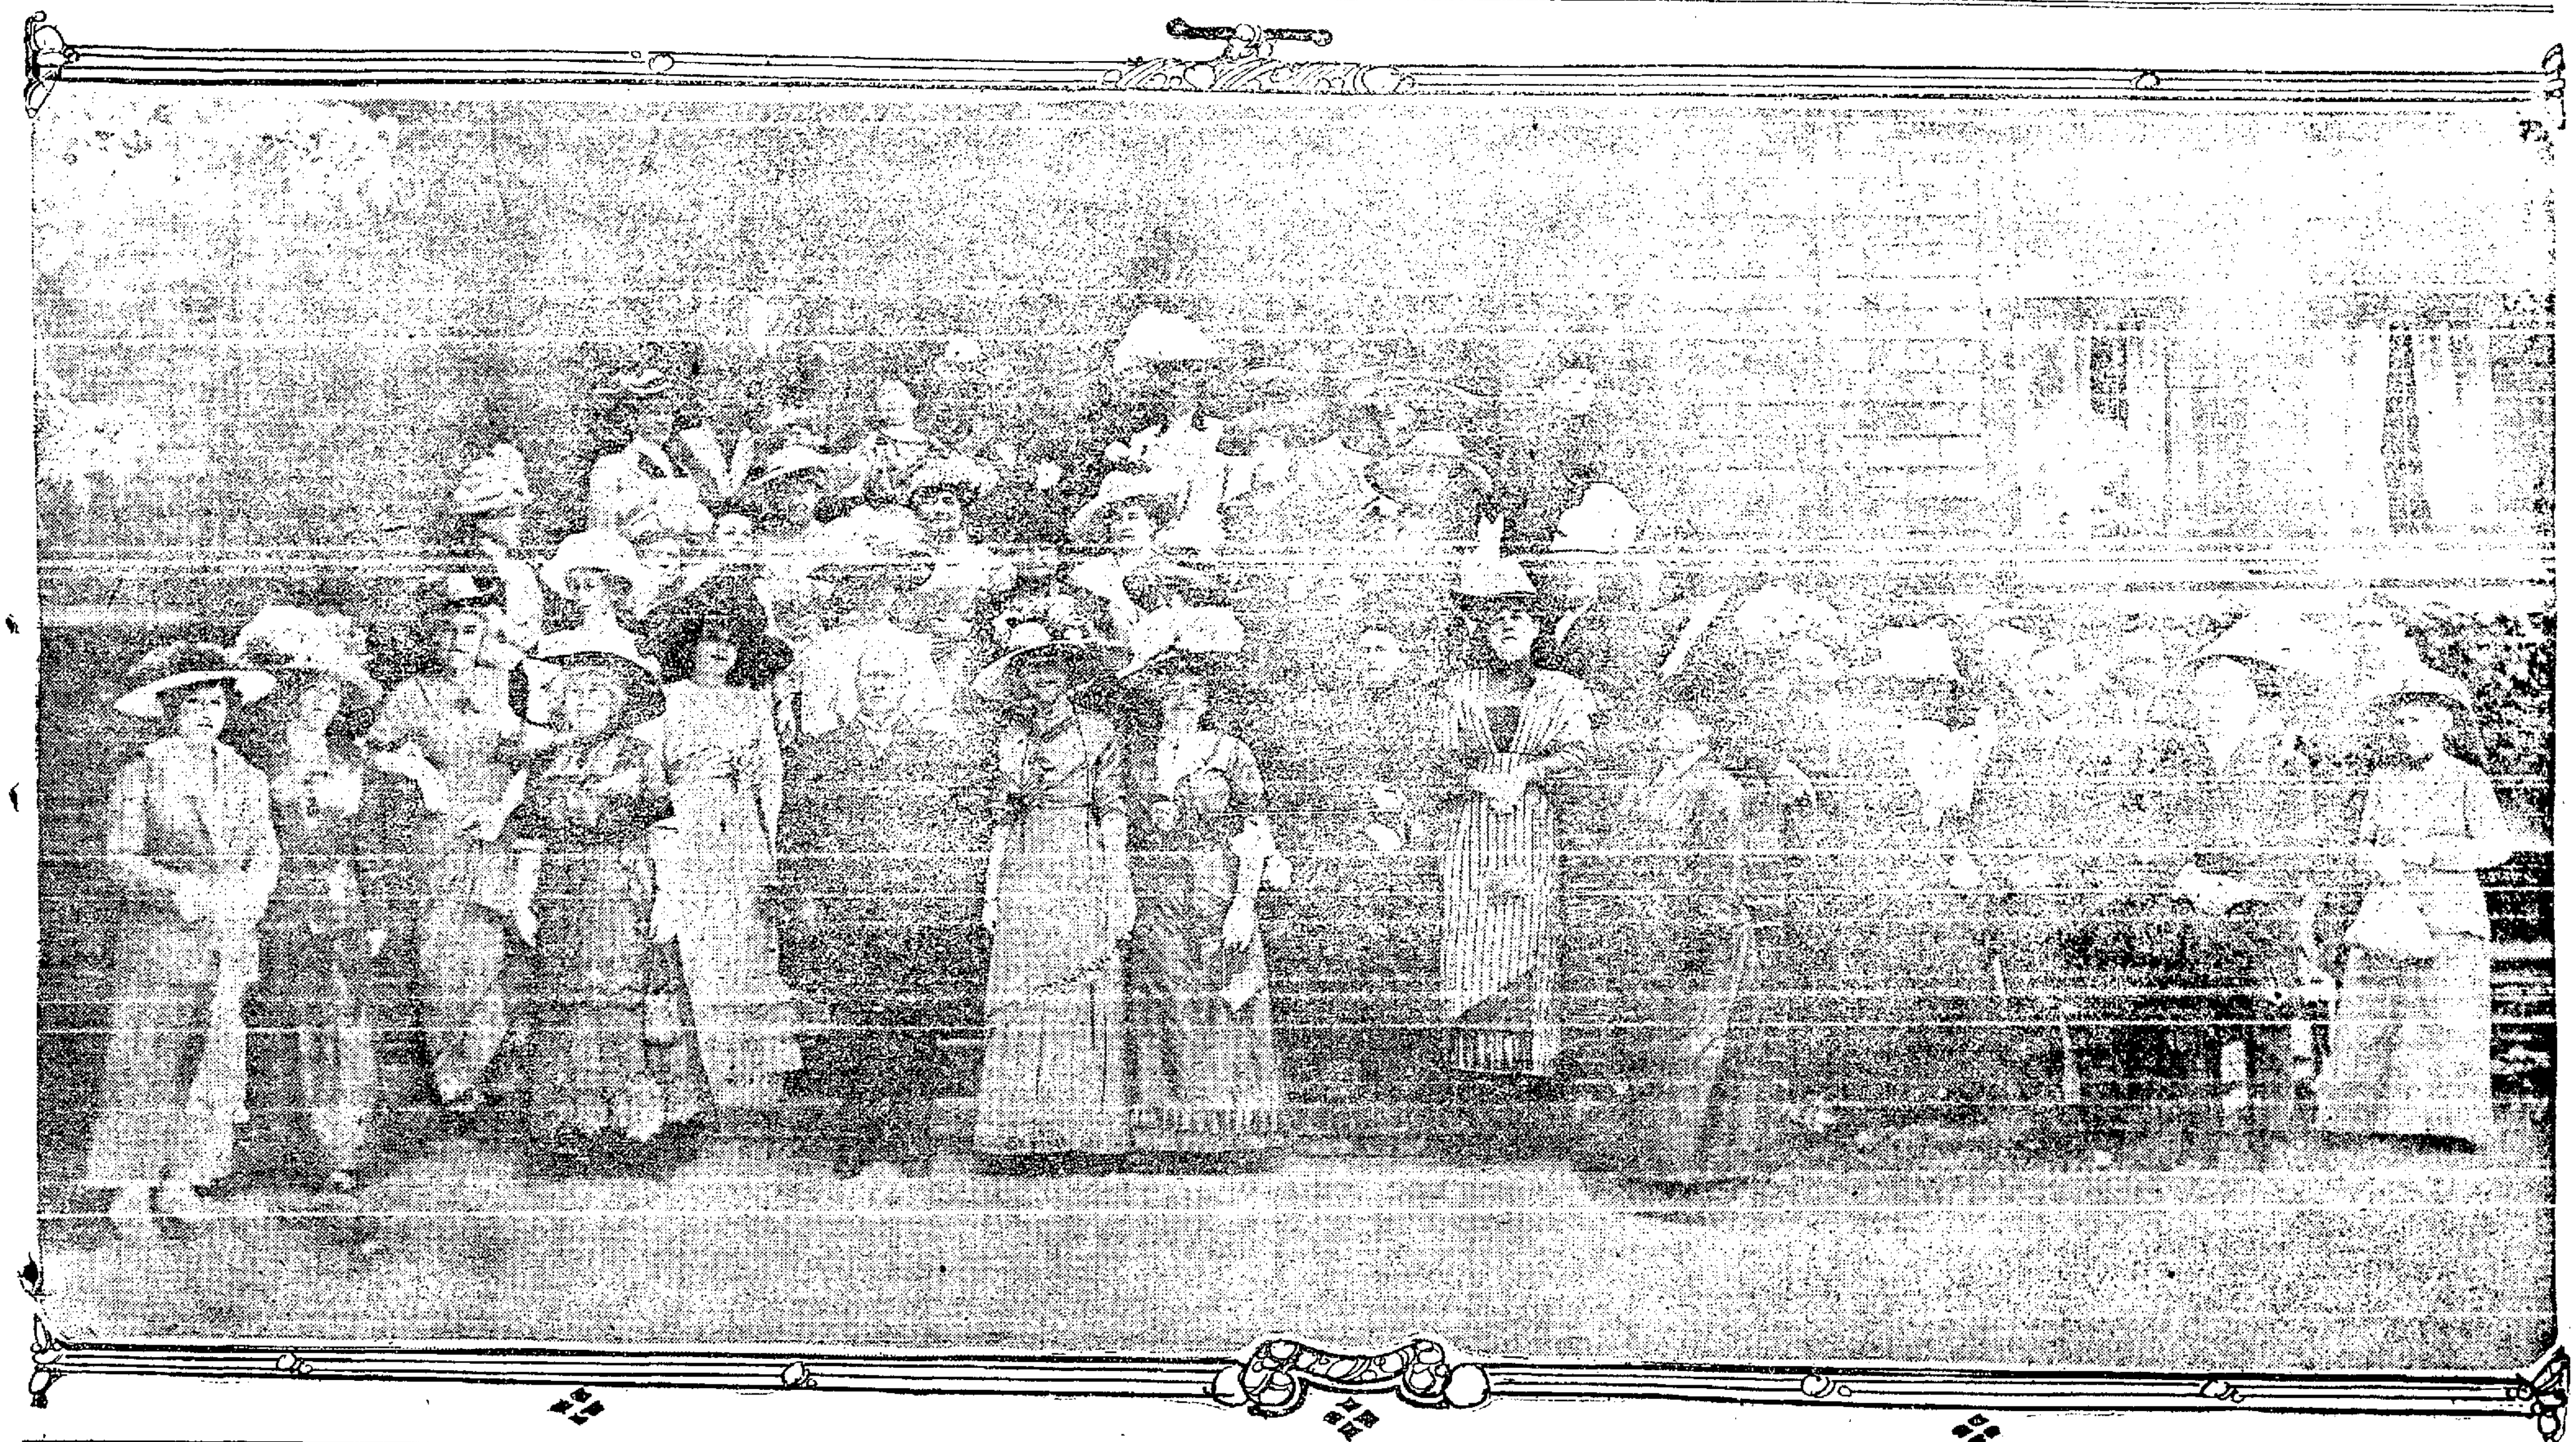
WOMEN RALLY TO OPPOSE OFFICIALS' RECALL



Scene at Ebell Club yesterday just before notable luncheon at which representative women of Oakland went on record as against pending recall election.

OAKLAND CITIZENS SHOW CIVIC LOYALTY

Women's Good Government Auxiliary to Be Formed East of Lake

Yesterday's anti-recall luncheon at Ebell hall under the auspices of the Women's Good Government league was followed last evening by an enthusiastic gathering at Epworth hall, East Oakland, in the interest of the present municipal administration.

Mrs. John N. Porter, president of the Women's league, who presided over the luncheon earlier in the day, performed the same office in the evening, and after the meeting an East Oakland auxiliary of the Women's Good Government league was organized, to support Mayor Mott and his associates in the recall campaign. Mrs. John Molo was chosen chairman of a committee which is to interest East Oakland women in the proposed auxiliary, a meeting of which is to be held next Tuesday.

The speakers last night were Mayor Mott, Assemblyman F. M. Smith, former Councilmen A. P. Stiefvater and R. C. Vose, and E. W. Hygen.

Mayor Mott said:

"The life of the city is threatened.

"As I have said in the past, I firmly believe in the recall, because by it it is possible to get rid of the undesirable and corrupt official. The election of August 5 is the work of a small element composed of those who, not being able to get exactly what they wanted, immediately banded together against those who uphold the government, simply because the present city administration did its duty. The recall as trumped up by the free speech advocates of this city is improper and imposes an extra tax burden of $15,000.

GIVES INSIDE FACTS.

"The recall election of myself and other members of the present administration was planned six months ago, or shortly before we took office. At that time, immediately on it being shown by the people that we had been elected, threats were made to recall the whole administration as soon as the necessary six months had elapsed. These agitators are trifling with the charter, which is a very serious matter, as it strikes directly at the foundation of government.

"To go back to January 1, when the recall was to have been incited. At that time, because of incidents in the southern part of California in which the I. W. W. figured, the local agitators of 'free speech' were cowed because of public sentiment, preferring to postpone starting the recall until San Diego had resumed its normal condition of affairs."

The mayor then went on to give several examples of the things agitated by the "free speech" advocates. One of these, he said, was that if a man was a mechanic he should disable the machine he was working on for the purpose of getting the country into hard straits. Another advocate declared that the only way to bring the government to terms was for the workers in restaurants to break all the dishes, steal the silverware and do other acts of damaging nature to the "boss." These speeches were, according to the mayor, given in language not fit to be used at any place, especially in the open street.

WHICH FLAG SHOULD WAVE?

The mayor then said:

"The flagpole on the new city hall will be in place in about 30 days, and on August 5 the people of Oakland will have the opportunity of expressing themselves at the polls as to whether the red banner of anarchy or the American flag shall float in the breeze from that flagpole.

"There is no other issue in the present recall campaign than that of what the destructive, rather than the constructive, element in the Socialist party and the Industrial Workers of the World choose to term 'free speech.' Other matters have been dragged in to cloud the real issue, but in spite of the attempts to cry far afield from the action of the police in stopping the street agitators of the I. W. W., the issue remains.

"These same agitators were warned time and again that the profanity and vulgarity in which they were indulging must cease, and they defied the police. They started a small-sized riot which was quelled by the police, and the city administration is now facing a recall because it enforced laws intended to safeguard the public morality and insisted on common decency.

"The 'free speech' issue was the [illegible] of the recall, and now we are charged with numberless other matters involving robbery and corruption. These other issues are and have been dead for a long time past, the voters in one instance having passed on the question three times. Knowing that the people of Oakland would not stand for a recall on the original basis, the issue has been clouded in hopes of capturing a few votes.

POLICE INTERFERE.

"The police of Oakland stopped the street speakers and also broke up a parade headed by a red flag, tearing the flag from its staff and destroying it. If the oters support the recall, then the city authorities have been removed from office for opposing the emblem of anarchy and for remaining true to their oaths of office to support the constitution of the United States and the flag of the American people."

"The Socialists have been using as their chief means of influencing the taxpayers by mentioning the alleged 'corrupt and negligent' manner in which we granted franchises to the railways. I have investigated the various cities of this and other states and have found that we got better bargains than any one, at the time the franchises were granted, thought possible.

"This is the case with every charge made against the administration. They have absolutely no foundation and were trumped up, not against the official, but for the express purpose of making trouble for the whole administration. The issue before the people is: Is the city going to surrender to these men? Should this by any chance occur the city of Oakland would loose its prestige with the people of the large Eastern cities and instead of our going forward at the present rapid rate the city would begin to fall back. The merchants would lose confidence in these incapable men at the helm, property values would decline, men would refuse to invest their money here and the city would be practically paralyzed. Oakland is a conservative, clean and up-to-date city and one that is going forward at a rate faster than any other city, I believe I can say, in the world. I only hope that the people will go to the polls August 5 and cast their votes, effecting a complete snowing under of this new and undesirable element."

INTEREST NECESSARY.

The mayor concluded his speech by impressing upon the minds of the audience the importance of getting the people interested in the election. In this regard he said:

"The people do not seem to regard the election seriously and it is only from this lack of interest and apathy on the part of the taxpayers that the I. W. Ws. will have any chance whatever."

Mayor Mott was frequently interrupted by the applause of his [illegible] the greater portion were women. The mayor held his audience spellbound and when he had completed his speech he was cheered and a rush made to shake his hand. For several moments he was fairly overwhelmed with the congratulations and good wishes of the [illegible] present.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPEAKS.

Assemblyman F. M. Smith was next introduced. He [illegible] by saying: "This is no question of politics, it is a question of what flag do you want! Which flag are you going to sail under?"

He then continued his argument, declaring that no right-thinking man or woman could possibly vote for the recall, as he declared such an action would be unAmerican and unpatriotic. "The teachings of the I. W. W.," said Smith, "permit of no allegiance to the American flag or any of the existing forms of government or society. There may be wrongs in our present industrial system. I am willing to grant that such wrongs exist; but I do not believe in correcting those wrongs with dynamite."

FORMER COUNCILMAN SPEAKER.

A. P. Stiefvater was next called upon and said: "It is not going to be a hot fight. Go to the polls and vote your honest conviction and the result will be a complete landslide against the I. W. W. partisans and will keep that class or element out of politics for ever, if possible."

He said during the course of his remarks that although he had met men who had more than once opposed the mayor and his administration but who had always found Mott a perfec gentleman, an honorable man, efficient workman and painstaking official, Stiefvater mentioned Commissioners Turner and Baccus, who also incurred the wrath of the Socialists and told that he defied any one to find anything wrong with tsese gentlemens' administration.

R. C. Vose gave figures showing the enormous growth of Oakland during the administrations of Mayor Mott. He said: "The Socialists are circulating pamphlets telling of the $1 tax rate when the city was under Mayor Davies' administration. That is true, but what was accomplished under that official's regime. At that time Oakland had one-fifth of the police force it now boasts, and but one street was paved and that was Broadway. There were no electric lighting bills to amount to anything. At that time it took $10,000 to light the entire city, now $140,000 is spent yearly for lighting purposes. The city has had parks built and has others in the making. The Seventh street franchise has also caused considerable discussion among the Socialists, who claim that the city was practically robbed when the franchise was granted. I take exception to this remark and consider it almost an insult. In granting the franchise the people living along Seventh street acknowledged themselves as entirely satisfied with the provision of the franchise and from what I have seen there has not been a city that has granted such an attractive franchise as the Southern Pacific's Seventh street franchise. The city, for the thirty-five years' life of that franchise, is just $860,000 better off in her finances than formerly."

E. W. Hygen of East Oakland said in part: "More has been done in the three terms of Mott's administration than in the sixty former administrations."

He also declared that a complete and decisive defeat of the recall is demanded by the decent people of the city.

Women Praised for Effective Efforts

"Well done," was the compliment paid the women who arranged the anti-recall luncheon in Ebell Hall yesterday by the men in public life who addressed the gathering of 300 fair workers in behalf of the present municipal administration. The compliment was expressed in various forms, but it was all sincere praise, called forth by the generalship and team work shown by the women in holding the affair on such short notice and with such careful attention to details.

The luncheon under the auspices of the Women's Good Government League, which was extensively reported in yesterday's TRIBUNE, was the first large gathering of the campaign in behalf of Mayor Mott and Commissioners Baccus and Turner, but the speakers declared that the recall attack had reflected upon the entire administration with unjustness, and that the fight of the opposition was being made under the red flag rather than under the Stars and Stripes.

In this connection Assemblyman F. M. Smith said:

"The reason that I am here today is not simply to defend Mayor Mott and his associates. I want to ask whether this flag which flies in the hall here, or the red flag, shall fly over our city?

"So long as the stars and stripe

SAYS PLAGUE IS IN PORTO RICO

Dr. J. N. Force of State University Tells History of Epidemics.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 19. — That the dread plague has invaded Porto Rico was the news brought to an audience of several hundred persons at California hall last evening by Dr. John N. Force of the public health department. A mile of territory along San Juan harbor is already infected, he declared.

"The United States public health and marine hospital service is taking heroic measures to prevent spread of the disease," declared Dr. Force. "The question is, will our sanitary army be able once more to turn back this enemy from our shores?"

Dr. Force's address, one of those in the series given by the public health department during the summer session, had to do with "The Great Epidemic Diseases, Their History and Control." Regarding the plague he spoke of Yunan province in China as being the chief of five of its great endemic centers. An American woman missionary, Dr. Mary Niles, first discovered at Canton, he declared, the connection between the rats and the plague when she saw, from plague infested homes, the dead rats swept out every morning. In the same year, 1894, the plague broke out in Hongkong, where studies by Drs. Kitisado and Ogata resulted in important discoveries concerning it in 1897.

"The plague attacked San Francisco in 1898," continued Dr. Force, "by way of New Orleans, but it was turned back. In 1900 it came again and this time there were 171 cases in Chinatown, to which it was confined. In 1908 a man from an Oriental ship died of the plague at the marine hospital. Before five months there was no more trace of it; then it broke out in all parts of the city, resulting in the preventive measures of that year in charge of Dr. Colby Rucker, Dr. Rupert Blue and others of the public health and marine hospital service."

ALAMEDA PERSONALS

ALAMEDA, July 19. — Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Pirnat of Chicago and their youngest daughter, May Agnes, who spent several weeks here as the guests of Mrs. Pirnat's sister, Mrs. A. H. Stephan of 898 Union street, left last night for home. They will visit the Yosemite Valley and from the latter place will go to Los Angeles and thence eastward. Dr. Pirnat is a prominent physician of Chicago. This is his first trip to California, and he expresses himself as highly pleased with the Golden State.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wilson and daughters, Mrs. Marie Stony and Miss Grace Wilson are summering at their pretty cottage near San Rafael. Miss Wilson will leave this week for Portland where she will visit friends.

Miss Genevieve Morris is home from a three weeks' visit to her uncle, Dr. Thompson Morris of Oakland, who is spending the summer on his large ranch in Contra Costa county.

Word has been received from Dr. H. M. Pond, who, with Mrs. Pond and Miss Mary Pond, is touring the Atlantic coast in an automobile. He reports that they are having a most enjoyable time and are visiting all the points of interest on the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Clegg will act as hosts for a theater party Saturday evening in honor of Miss Gladys Kaighin and William Murphy of San Francisco, who are to be married July 24. After enjoying the play, "Rose of the Rancho," the party will have a supper at a cafe in Oakland.

Mrs. F. W. Van Sicklen and sons Frederick and Horace who are spending the summer in California, will arrive here shortly from an auto trip to Santa Barbara. They will go to Tahoe after their return, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Van Sicklen and Miss Hilda Van Sicklen, to enjoy an outing of several weeks.

Miss Laura Sargent has set August 27 as the date of her wedding when she will be married to Charles L. Acker of New York. The ceremony will be very simple with only the members of the bride's family, and a few of her closest friends present.

Mrs. R. F. Prescott, formerly of Alameda but now a resident of Fresno, is visiting with friends in Alameda. She will remain here for a week and then visit friends in Mill Valley, before returning to her home.

BERKELEY SOCIETY

BERKELEY, July 19. — Mrs. W. W. Henry and her daughter, Mrs. Gerald H. Hutton, will be home from the southern part of the State next week, where they went in the spring for the benefit of Mrs. Henry's health. Late in August or early in September Mrs. Henry will go abroad for a year. She will join her daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Stoppani, in Paris. Mrs. Stoppani has been in Paris for the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Taylor and Miss Bernice are at their summer home near Boston and will remain there during the summer season. They have closed the home in the Claremont district, which is one of the finest places on this side of the bay. The Henrys spend several months of each year at the place near Boston.

Mrs. Albert Burch and her two daughters Miss Beryl and Miss Louise are expected home from Europe the latter part of August, after an absence of more than a year. Miss Louise has been in school in France, while Mrs. Burch and Miss Beryl have visited every country on the continent. They will be welcomed home by their friends. It is very probable that Miss Louise will be formally introduced into society the coming winter. Miss Beryl's coming out party was an elaborate affair of a season ago.

STORY OF LOVE, JEALOUSY AND INTRIGUE IN 'THE TOAD'

SCENE FROM "THE TOAD" CARMEL PLAY TO BE PRESENTED TOMORROW EVENING AT THE GREEK THEATER.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 19. — A special train brought players, costumes and settings for "The Toad" today from Carmel-by-the-Sea, the scene of its premiere, in preparation for the production at the Hearst Greek theater tomorrow evening. A dress rehearsal will be held at the theater this evening. An augmented orchestra has been engaged to render the incidental music.

Perry Newberry, who not only plays the principal part in the drama but acts as general manager, has come up from the artistic colony at Carmel to be in charge of the preparations.

The play tells a story of ambition, intrigue, love and jealousy that in its essentials might happen in any place and at any time. It has been set in the Egypt of thousands of years ago, however, that advantage might be taken of the opportunity for gorgeous costuming and brilliant color effects. Particularly spectacular are the procession of the priestesses of Isis and the dance of the Egyptian dancers, led by Daisy Fox Desmond; while probably the most dramatic scene is one between Ismar, Queen of Acortis, and Hathor, priestess of Isis. The Greek theater is fully provided with electric footlights, dimmers and calciums, so that an especial feature will be made of the lighting effects.

NOTABLES IN CAST.

The cast will be the original one and is as follows:

The Toad, the king's dwarf, Perry Newberry; Aahmes, the king's scheming brother, John T. Gribner; Ismar, Queen of Acortis, Sophie Treadwell; Ranofer, an intriguing statesman, J. E. Beck; Moore; captain of the Ethiops, Arthur Vachell; Tinro, inspector of the walls, Joseph W. Hand; Pasara, the king's younger brother, Michael Williams; Thothim, captain of the guards, Fred Leidig; Cleis, seeress of Amon, Helen Cooke Wilson; Kaza, Cleis' tiring-woman, Ethel Turner; Manetho, King of Acortis, Grant Wallace; Hathor, priestess to Isis, Harriet Bradner; Nemath and Tenis, soldiers of the guard, F. Austin James and Louis Lewis; Saramon, a bow man, Walter Warren; second bow man, Donald Hale; Khait, Mrs. J. E. Beck; Arbela, M. de Neale Morgan; first woman, Lurita Stone; assassins, William Overstreet, Edward H. Inslee, Xavier Martinez; Egyptian dancer, Daisy Fox Desmond; dancers, Elliott Boke, Dorothy Maxton-Grahame, Jeanette Hoagland, Alice McDougal, Vivian Unterman, Elizabeth Beveridge; priestesses, Bessie McFarland, Irma Frank, Margaret Cabaniss, Helen Allen, Margaret Allen, Eunice Allen; guards, Nubian slaves, Egyptian villagers, etc.

Frank R. Devlin Pays Campaign Visit to Richmond.

RICHMOND, July 19.—Frank R. Devlin of Vallejo, one of the prominent attorneys of that city, at one time superior judge of Solano county, head of the chamber of commerce there and otherwise one of the progressive citizens of the navy yard town, who recently filed his petition for nomination as the Republican candidate for congressman for this district, was in Richmond today looking over the city and meeting the business men and people generally.

Devlin announces that he will be found, if elected, working for every project that will benefit his district, and that he will see that Richmond gets every possible help he can secure from the federal government in the way of appropriation for waterfront improvements.

Richmond is, of course, highly interested in waterfront improvement, and, incidentally, in government appropriations, hoping to secure one in the near future for the big inner harbor project here, but the friends of Charles Curry, ex-secretary of state, of Sacramento, are as thick as flies around this particular part of the congressional district Devlin hopes to represent.

BRIDE AND GROOM SHY AT BIG WEDDING PLANS

BERKELEY, July 19. — To avoid the bustle and confusion of a large wedding, Raymond M. Scott, assistant in physical culture at the University of California, and Miss Mary Keith Tilson Clough, a graduate in the class of 1910, were quietly married Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church, by Rev. L. A. McAfee, the pastor. Afterward they told the news of their wedding to their family and friends, who had expected the ceremony to be in September.

Scott is also a graduate of the university taking his degree with this year's class. Besides his position in the faculty he has charge of the playground at one of the Oakland schools. His bride is the daughter of J. F. Clough of Fulton street.

fly, the majority shall rule, and the majority has but recently placed these assailed officials in office. The spirit behind the recall movement is a spirit of disloyalty and disintegration."

Smith then told of a transparency which had been drawn through the streets declaring that a certain recall candidate for mayor, who had been mayor about twenty years ago, proposed to run the same city now, as he did then, on a $1 tax rate.

"If the rate now should be $1, the rate when this man was mayor should have been nothing at all," added the assemblyman.

Smith told of the honor he felt in voting for the suffrage amendment, after having been an anti-suffragist for twenty years, and said his opinion had changed on account of his legislative experience. He reminded his women hearers of their duty in preventing "the stain of injustice, dishonor and treason from being placed on the fair name of Oakland.

MELROSE LEAGUE.

In their headquarters at 1345 Fifty-third avenue the Melrose Progressive League held a large and enthusiastic meeting to support the campaign against the recall election to be held on the 5th of August. Joseph Dam was elected president and out of courtesy to the newly born voters of California they unanimously elected Mrs. H. V. Kuchinski to fill the office of vice-president. Charles J. Eldracher acted as secretary. Robert Matthews was then chosen as sergeant-at-arms.

The following were chosen to act as executive committee: Albert Port, R. H. Roane, Albert L. Davis, Bert Ingraham, C. A. Calhoun, Peter Von Ah, Marie Taylor, Mattie L. Farnum, Helene V. Kuchinski, John O. Hunter.

After transacting the current business to come before the organization considerable speechmaking was in order and arrangements were made to plan out a proper system for action upon the fifth of August. It was decided to hold a huge rally in the near future and consolidate the various organizations of the district for the purpose of holding the celebration. Resolutions were passed indorsing the stand taken by William J. Baccus and Frederick C. Turner in dealing with official matters.

TUNNEL MOUNTAIN TO REACH ORE BODY

TACOMA, Wash., July 19.—To tap the world's largest low grade ore body, containing $300,000,000 in gold, the Alaska-Juneau Mining Company, a subsidiary of the Alaska Treadwell Company, is boring a 7200-foot tunnel, heavily timbered, from the shore of the Gastineau channel at Juneau, beneath Mount Roberts, into the famous Silver Bow basin. Fifteen hundred feet of the tunnel is now completed. A mill of 150 stamps, America's second largest, is being installed.

The present plans provide for the taking out of $1,000,000 in gold yearly for 200 years. The Treadwell mines production now exceeds that. Electric power is driving the tunnel, and will mine the ore and operate the stamp mill. The tunnel will become a common carrier, furnishing an outlet for the gold ores in the basin owned by the other companies.

For many years, various properties in the Silver Bow basin, which are of immense proportions, but of low grade, have been operated in a desultory manner, but owing to the heavy cost of transporting the ore across Mount Roberts, which reaches an elevation of 3000 feet, little profit has been made.

FINDS FATHER IN DEATH AGONY

Fred Brandt Discovered Soon After He Had Taken Fatal Draught.

ALAMEDA, July 19. — With a heart-broken stepdaughter, a prominent high school girl, sobbing hysterically at home, and his wife absent in the east, Fred Brandt, a well known liquor man of this city, is dead at the morgue, a suicide today. Brandt swallowed cyanide of potassium at his home on Eighth avenue near Webster street, at 10 o'clock this morning. He was removed to the emergency hospital but died upon the operating table.

Brandt had been a resident of this city for many years. Before going into the saloon business he was a motorman on the local line of the Oakland Traction Company. Despondency due to alcoholic excesses, which had brought on serious stomach trouble, is thought to have inspired the act.

Miss Ada Brandt, the step-daughter, was the first to discover the fact that Brandt had taken the poison. Her mother had left about two months ago for a visit to her parents in Colorado and Miss Brandt was living with a neighbor, Mrs. M. Brem of 745 Lincoln avenue. A part of the arrangement was that the young woman was to cook her father's breakfasts. When she went to the house this morning she heard a moan and going into her father's room found him partly dressed and lying across the bed writhing in agony. She ran into the street and alarmed the neighbors, who summoned the ambulance.

Evidence of the method of death was found in an old tomato can partially filled with the poison. This was discovered beside the bed. Brandt was 45 years of age. His place of business was at 1601 Webster street. His wife has been notified.

MOZART SUBJECT OF SURETTE TALK

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 19. — Thomas W. Surette of Oxford university's musical staff, whose lectures in "The Appreciation of Music" are attracting larger and larger audiences daily at the summer session, spoke last evening at Harmon gymnasium on Mozart. He took occasion during the lecture to criticise those who, listening to the playing of a pianist, seek always to watch their fingering of the keys. It distracted their attention, he declared, from the artistic features of the playing.

"Mozart's music," declared Dr. Surette, "was characteristic of his period, mincing, careful and proper. He wrote his music like a man treading a polished floor. There was never danger of his stumbling; he took no chances. Unlike Beethoven, who strode straight forward, his head in the clouds, beating down everything and everybody in his path, Mozart went cautiously along. His music was written for form rather than meaning. The container was of chief importance, rather than the thing contained. His music was written from the outside inward, rather than from the inside outward."

Owing to illness, Mrs. Blanche Ashley, who has been assisting to illustrate the Surette lectures, has been forced to relinquish her participance in the course. Her place has been taken by Mrs. Robert Hughes of Oakland, who last evening accompanied Miss Anna Miller Wood of Boston in a much applauded recitative and aria and a second aria from "The Marriage of Figaro." Miss Elizabeth Simpson was received with enthusiasm when she gave a fantasia by Mozart. Beethoven will be the subject of the lectures this and Monday evenings.

WILL SCRUTINIZE OFFICIAL BONDS

BERKELEY, July 19. — The city council this morning directed City Attorney R. C. Staats carefully to scrutinize the bonds of the several officials of whom bonds are demanded in the charter. The confusion resulting from the failure of Herbert F. Briggs of the board of education to file his bond directed the investigation.

The council's attention was called by the attorney to the fact that Herbert Jones, poundman, had never filed a bond, though required so to do by the charter. The provision was considered unnecessary in this case by the council except for the fact that the charter demanded it. A further investigation showed much confusion regarding the bonds of other city officials.

The receiving of bids for a new automobile engine for the fire department was ordered dated for July 30. A communication was received from a number of University avenue residents protesting against unnecessary noise alleged to be made in early morning and late evening hours by wagons of the Varsity Creamery. The complaint was referred to Commissioner Hoff.

Hoff came in for some criticism at the hands of the Columbus Improvement club in a letter filed by the club with the council. The club declared Hoff had misrepresented facts in its district recently referred to the council, regarding unnecessary noise and street [illegible] violations. Hoff denied he had mentioned the club at all in statements given to the press. The club's letter was filed without further attention.

FERTILIZER MEN ARRESTED.

ALAMEDA, July 19. — L. Serralunga and G. Resso, two Italians, were taken into custody this morning and charged at the police station with having violated the ordinance regulating the storage of garden fertilizer. Both men are alleged to have had more than one ton of the material upon their premises. The complaint was sworn to by Sanitary Inspector Eugene Maillet. The two were released upon payment of $25 cash bail apiece.

REED FINDS STATE SYSTEMS LOOSE

Administration of California Affairs Needs Fixing, Says U. C. Professor.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 19. — That California's administration is disorganized and needs "fixing" was the theme of a lecture delivered at Hearst hall last evening by Professor Thomas H. Reed of the department of political science, former secretary to Governor Johnson. "A mere mass of confusion" was his characterization of State government in general in this country. He said in part:

"It is safe to say that no other public or private business is conducted according to such a disorganized system as the government of our State. It is headless, footless and in general a mere mass of confusion. The surprising thing about it is that we have been able with such a system to get along at all. In the first place we elect not only a governor, but several other administrative officers, each of whom conducts his office without reference to any other.

"The heads of the remaining departments of the State government are appointed by the Governor, but they are usually appointed for long terms without any adequate power of removal on the Governor's part. Their terms do not coincide with the Governor's, and with regard to many departments he can merely determine their policy for the term of his successor. In some of the State departments the acting head is a board, part of which is renewed each year.

"Here the Governor has even less influence than in the single headed departments. It is gratifying to notice that a large number of positions were made appointive at the pleasure of the Governor during the last session of the legislature. This is a growth in the right direction.

"Besides this disorganization of the State government, as such, the relation of the State to the local agencies which carry out State laws is by no means satisfactory. The district attorney is elected by the people of the county. The police department is under the control of locally elected city officials. All the other local officers exercise many of their powers as agents of the State. Over none of them does the State have any efficient control. They enforce what laws they please when they please, and short of judicial proceedings, or in some extreme cases intervention through the attorney general or the State militia, there is no means of controlling their conduct.

"The result is, especially with regard to many of the laws respecting the habits of the people, a very wonderful opportunity for graft. A State law not agreeable to the people of a particular locality may be neglected by the officials of that locality with impunity. At the same time they can hardly be blamed for enforcing the law. This gives them the opportunity to blackmail the purveyor of the forbidden pleasure. We need not waste any sympathy on the person blackmailed, but such a practice corrupts the whole political system."

SAYS WIFE HAS WEDDED ANOTHER

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—In search for his pretty young wife, who he declares is hidden from him, Thomas H. Johnston, an Oakland hotel clerk, arrived here yesterday after having made a peculiar discovery. He went first to Riverside, where his wife had been a telephone operator in the Glenwood Mission Inn, and there a friend informed him that she had been recently married to James A. Green, son of A. M. Green, a wealthy High Grove man. Johnston made an investigation and found that the ceremony had been performed in San Bernardino, and the district attorney of that county issued a bigamy complaint against Mrs. Johnston. All efforts of Johnston and the officers to find her failed, however, and the quest continues.

The wedding guests were Mrs. Hansine Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Peterson, Misses Mary, Emily and Annie Peterson, William Peterson, Herbert Peterson, J. J. WIFE OF CONTRACTOR CHARGES CRUELTY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Mrs. Maud Pettee Stettin, wife of Herman R. Stettin, a local contractor, in a suit for divorce began here this morning, charges failure to provide and cruelty. The wife accuses her spouse of having struck and choked her and of otherwise mistreating her. She wants the custody of her two children and $75 a month alimony. The wedding of the couple took place December 26, 1905.

TEACHERS TO MEET.

BERKELEY, July 19. — The Bay Federation of Sunday School Teachers will meet tomorrow afternoon on the University of California campus at the Dana street entrance. Mrs. Fannie E. Hughey of the Hughey color school of [illegible] of the Cumnock school of oratory of Evanston, Illinois, and Miss Blanche File of the Berkeley school of music and dramatic arts will be the participants in an interesting program.

IS ONLY STATE REPRESENTATIVE TO GRAND AERIE

ALAMEDA, July 18. — City Veterinary Thomas Carpenter, who was elected special delegate from California to the grand aerie of Eagles, which convenes in Cleveland, O., on August 5, will leave here on July 28. Dr. Carpenter has the distinction of being the only state representative in the grand lodge, and represents the only state allowed to send a delegate from a state aerie.

California conditions being so different from those experienced in other states, the state lodge, under the administration of Carpenter, applied to the grand lodge for recognition, and after some delay and a careful canvassing of the situation a special law was enacted by the grand lodge allowing the California state lodge representation, and thus for the first time recognizing such a body.

In the grand convention, which will convene next month, Carpenter will present a resolution proposing an entire remodeling of the existing laws and regulations of the grand lodge and the adoption of a new constitution.

He will propose, through a resolution already drawn, that a supreme lodge be created to take the place of the grand lodge, and that each state or district be allowed to elect a grand district lodge, with representatives from it to the supreme lodge. This will give home rule to the states and districts and, according to the ideas of the first representative, will work to the betterment of the lodge.

For the purpose of forming a state or district lodge it will be necessary that the membership of subordinate aeries aggregate 25,000. It was for the reason that some states may not reach this number that the district feature, comprising a number of smaller states, may combine to have a grand lodge in their district, where local conditions may be studied and treated. Under this ruling California would have more than 5000 members to spare.

Several of the state aeries, following in the lead of California, and noting the success she met with at the San Francisco convention, will be behind the plan, which has been the study of Carpenter for many years. Carpenter went through all the chairs of the local aerie and then through the chairs of the state aerie, which until last year was unsanctioned. He is now the first state lodge representative to a grand lodge convention of Eagles, and as such is clothed with the same rights and powers as any other regularly elected grand lodge delegate.

F. O. E. ADOPTS NOVEL IDEA TO SWELL ATTENDANCE

ALAMEDA, July 19. — A novel method adopted by the Eagles lodge of this city to swell the attendance at the regular business meetings was put into effect last night when for the first time immediately following the business meeting, an impromptu whist party was held.

The innovation proved a great success, and will be hereafter adopted as a regular proceedure. The prizes last night were won by James Bargones and H. Benson. They consisted of merchandise.

Past Worthy President Howard Simpson was appointed a delegate to the grand lodge, which will convene in Cleveland on August 5. He will leave here in company with Dr. Tom Carpenter, who goes as a delegate from the California State aerie.

YACHT SPEEDWELL READY FOR THE BIG OCEAN RACE

ALAMEDA, July 19. — The yacht Speedwell of the Aeolian Yacht Club of this city, has been thoroughly overhauled for the great ocean race which starts this evening for Santa Cruz, and will get away with flying colors. The Speedwell is the property of Captain Ben Joost, but will be sailed in the race by Carl Strom, former commodore of the club.

Local yachtsmen are of the opinion that the Speedwell will have a god chance of winning the race.

ALAMEDA, July 19. — As guests of the Key Route, a party composed of directors of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening completed a tour on one of the sight-seeing cars of the company. The route was that taken by the regular sight-seeing cars. W. W. Keith, industrial agent of the company and manager of the sight-seeing tours, personally conducted the excursion and proved a genial host.

The start was made from this city in one of the big special cars. The itinerary took in Oakland, Berkeley, the University of California and return to Oakland via Oakland avenue to the Key Route Inn. Here a stop of two hours was made and a luncheon served. The afternoon trip was made to Piedmont and Piedmont park, out the county road to East Oakland and back through Alameda.

The guests expressed themselves as having spent a delightful day. Those present on the trip were:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenthal, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Delanoy, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Elster, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sherman McDowell and Master Clifford McDowell, Helvor Houck, Smith Anderson, J. D. Rhoades and the host.

NAMES AND ASSESSMENTS ARE BEING MADE READY

ALAMEDA, July 19. — Miss Edna Simpson, stenographer of the city attorney's office, today commenced drawing up the roster of names and frontages in electrolier district No. 8. This is the last and largest district of the city and embraces all the territory east of Park street.

With the completion of this district the city will be lighted from one end to the other and from side to side on every street, lane and avenue, with handsome electric lights, mounted on electroliers placed 100 feet apart and turning night into day. Alameda, with the completion of district 8, which work will take about two months, will be the best lighted city in the world.

ANNEXATION TO BE DEBATERS' THEME

Date for Meeting to Be Set on Return of Secretary Denison.

SAN LEANDRO, July 19—On the return of A. A. Denison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, from Secramento next Monday, a date will be set for a public meeting when the Greater San Francisco movement will be debated by able speakers from both sides Denison, who is one of the most active workers against the efforts of San Francisco to annex Oakland and other bayshore communities, will be opposed by Leslie E Burkes, of the Greater San Francisco Association. It is likely that W E Gibson, president of the Oakland chamber, will also be invited to address the gathering against the grabbing policy of the larger city

The meeting will be under the auspices of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce and will be held in the city hall A committee of three under the chairmanship of J W Cannon, secretary of the chamber has charge of the arrangement The annexation movement finds little support among the merchants of this place who feel that the interests of Oakland are theirs, and that annexation with San Francisco would centralize political power to an extent detrimental to the smaller communities about the bay

MISUNDERSTOOD MESSAGE; WRECK

Woman at Signal Tower Explains Fatal Train Crash in the East.

CHICAGO, July 19—Mrs Julia A. Wilson, who was on duty in the signal tower at Western Springs, last Sunday, when a fast mail train crashed into the rear of the Overland Express of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, killing 13 persons and injuring more than a score of passengers, admitted, while testifying at the coroner's inquest over the victims, that a misunderstanding over a telephone message might in part have been responsible for the wreck

She said she received a telephone message from Congress Park just prior to the accident. She understood the message to mean for her to hold passenger train No 4 until a freight train had finished switching ahead She tried to stop No 4, but said it ran past the signal It developed, she said, that the person who telephoned merely wanted her to inform Congress Park when train No. 4 passed the tower.

Mrs. Wilcox said she then decided she should stop No. 2, a passenger train, which, she said, ran by the signal, but stopped 50 feet beyond the tower Ten minutes later, the mail train, No. 8, shot past the block set against it and crashed into train No. 2 The witness admitted that if she had not misunderstood the telephone message, she would not have stopped No 2, and the accident probably would not have occurred

Mrs. Wilcox appeared calm while giving her version of the wreck, and repeated several times the statement that she did not think she had done anything wrong

STARTLE NATION TO 'STRING' CUB

Practical Jokers Blamed for Story of Attempt to Kill Taft.

WASHINGTON, July 19—A practical joke concocted by newspaper reporters at the White House to "string a cub" resulted in the circulation all over the country of what is declared by the secret service to be the most dangerous fake story of an attempted assassination of a president ever printed. The danger, it is stated, lies in the influence the yarn may have in inspiring cranks and persons of unsound mind to actually attempt something along the line suggested.

The story originally appearing yesterday morning in a New York paper was taken up and spread broadcast before the authorities here were awake It was to the effect that Sherman Allen, assistant secretary of the president, found an infernal machine upon his desk Wednesday morning. On opening the package he discovered a slow-burning fuse burning merrily and dangerously near the explosion point. Disregarding the use of a bucket of water, Allen heroically smothered the fuse with his naked right hand, burning a large and juicy section of the flesh.

There was great indignation among White House officials and those of the secret service over the "fake"

COUNTY SUES FOR TREASURER'S BOND

MARTINEZ, July 19.—A civic suit for the collection on the bond of a former treasurer in this city, whose accounts were something like $18,000 short, has been commenced in the Superior Court here before Judge Latimer by District Attorney A B McKenzie. The plaintiff is the County of Contra Costa. The Metropolitan Surety Company and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company are the defendants.

One company claims that it is not responsible, in that it had severed connections with the county six weeks before the shortage was discovered. The other company is insolvent, but the county hopes to recover something from the bondsmen

STATE INITIATIVE RULING IS FEARED

Fate of Many Petitions and Their Measures Hangs in Balance.

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Secretary of State Jordan has asked the attorney general for an opinion whether or not the proponent of an initiative measure for the purpose of initiating a law or an amendment to the constitution can secure a place on the November by a supplementary petition in case the regular petitions now being filed are found to contain an insufficient number of names.

It is declared that the fate of almost every petition now in circulation and the measures represented depends upon the answer of the attorney general; that if he declares a supplementary petition cannot be filed, none of the pending initiative measures will secure a place on th ballot.

SCROFULOUS TROUBLES

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood insuring good health, so the children of blood-tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation which fosters a chain of scrofulous troubles. The usual signs of a scrofulous inheritance are swollen glands about the neck, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, sores and ulcers and general poor health. Treatment should be commenced at the first indication of Scrofula for it may get beyond control if allowed to run unchecked. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the circulation and drives out all scrofulous matter and deposits. S. S. S. goes to the bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book on the blood and medical advice free to all who write.

M'COMBS TAKES CHARGE OF PARTY

SEAGIRT, N J, July 19.—William F McCombs, the new chairman of the Democratic national committee, met Norman E Mack, the retiring chairman, in New York today and effected a transfer of the committee's file and documents to the new officers. After selecting the New York headquarters McCombs plans to go to Chicago with Secretary Davis and make arrangements for the opening of headquarters there. It is the feeling of the committee that Hermann Ridder, treasurer of the last national committee, should retain that office.

SHOOTS HIS AFFINITY AND FLEES

Wounded Woman Accused of Hypnotizing Another's Husband.

Victim Is Twice Shot After She Falls From First Bullets.

DENVER, July 19.—Eugene Miller, 23 years old and married, last night shot Miss Georgia Lichtenwalter, who the man's wife says had hypnotized him, [illegible] Miss Lichtenwalter, who is 19 years old, is not expected to live. She was a stenographer at the Y. M. C. A., where she became acquainted with Miller when he worked there in a similar capacity until he took a position as stenographer in a railroad office.

Miller after shooting the girl notified the residents of a house nearby that a woman on the sidewalk needed help and then fled. At a late hour he had not been found by the police.

The young man's wife and mother said that they have known that he and the girl [illegible] companion for some time. His mother declared that she wrote the girl several times and asked her to drop the friendship. Miller's wife, who is of the same age as his victim, thinks that her husband has been held under a hypnotic spell by Miss Lichtenwalter and that he has been unable to do anything but what she has dictated.

When a patrolman appeared at the door to inform her of the shooting Mrs. Miller said:

"Well, what has he done? Has he stolen some money and run away with her?"

The couple were out walking near Miss Lichtenwalter's home when the shooting occurred. Nothing has been learned of what they quarreled about.

Miller shot the girl twice and walked away. He wheeled, saw her arising, returned and shot her again and left. A second time he looked back, saw her getting up and returned and shot her.

LAUNCH IS SENT UNDER OWN POWER

Craft Built Here Makes Long Sea Voyage; Shipping Notes.

Advices received here today from Bristol bay by William Cryer, the local shipbuilder, tell of the safe arrival of the gasoline launch Rudolph N, which was recently built at the Cryer yards and which sailed several weeks ago under her own power for the north. She averaged 200 miles a day. The vessel will be used for towing purposes among the canneries in Bristol bay.

Arriving here today at noon after a 27½-day passage from Otaru via San Pedro, the big British [illegible] Hazel Dollar, Captain Gow, of the Robert Dollar line tied up at Long wharf.

The new steam schooner Speedwell, which has been under construction at a Bandon shipyard for the past few months, is nearly completed and will, according to A F Estabrook, owner of the vessel, be launched Saturday. The new steam schooner will, as soon as she leaves the ways, go into commission on the coast lumber carrying route.

The addition of the Speedwell to the Estabrook line will be followed by several other vessels of the same class, the contracts for which will, according to officials of the company, be let some time in the near future.

The steam schooner Graywood is at Long wharf loading 1250 tons of freight for the north. The shipment includes cement, plaster, canned goods, oil, etc. The steam schooner Aurelia is also at Long wharf. She is being laden with 100 tons of freight for the north.

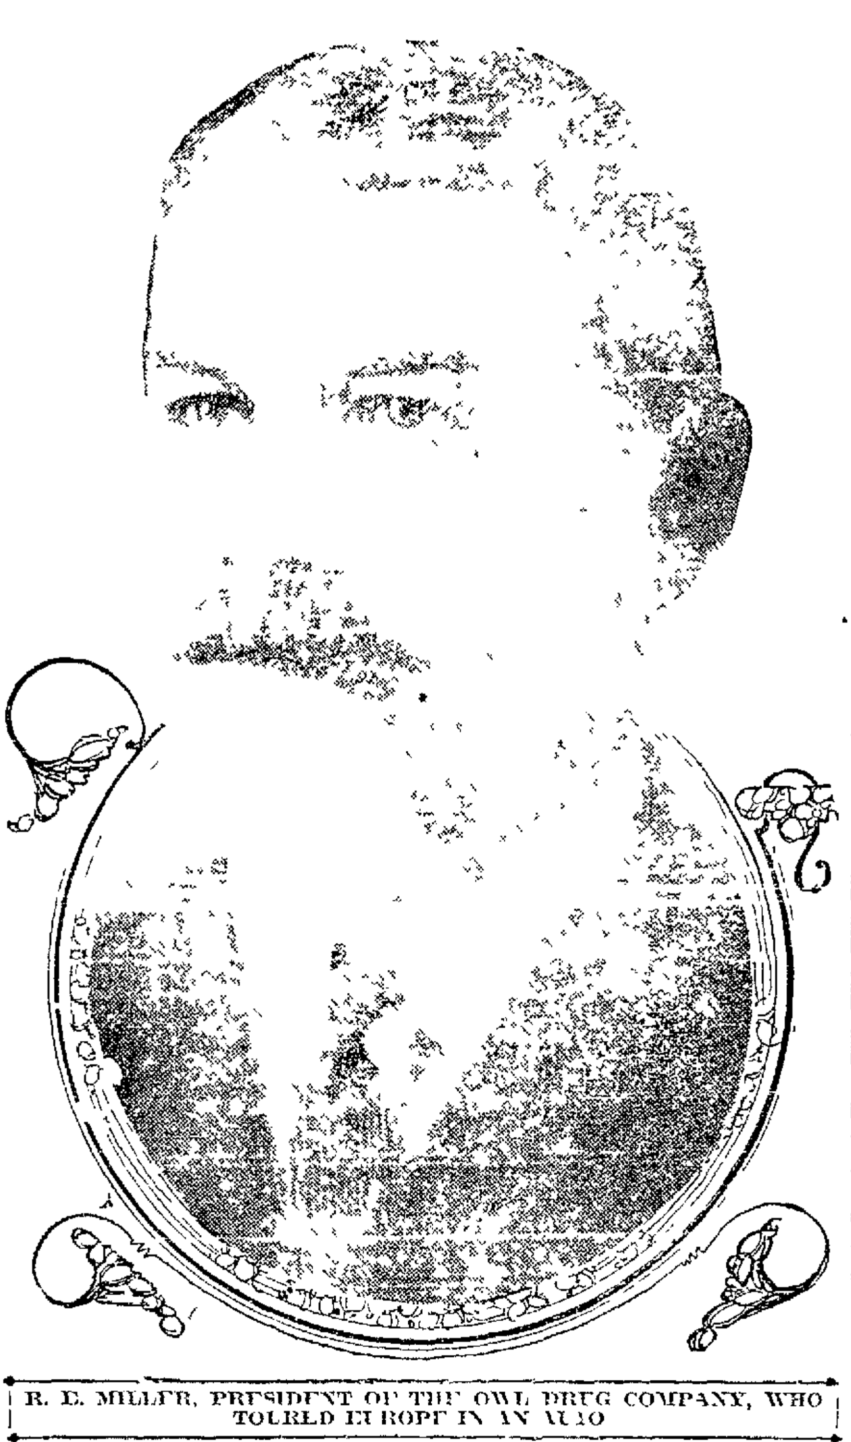
TRAVEL FOR 10,000 MILES THROUGH EUROPE IN AUTO



R. E. MILLER, PRESIDENT OF THE OWL DRUG COMPANY, WHO TOURED EUROPE IN AN AUTO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Richard Miller, president of the Owl Drug company, returned yesterday from a trip to Cairo, Egypt, and a 10,000 mile automobile tour of Europe, which began at Naples and ended at Paris. Miller was accompanied home by his wife and his brother, Dr. Thurlow Miller, and his wife.

Last October the two ladies sailed from this port for Japan on a tour of the world. Miller and his brother left here February 3 last via New York and joined them in Cairo. Landing at Naples later on, they greatly enjoyed autoing through many lands.

"We all had a most delightful outing," said Miller at his country home at Fair Oaks last night, "but are glad to be back at home once again. We were all greatly pleased to hear on the continent considerable talk about the forthcoming opening of the Panama canal and the exposition in San Francisco in 1915 which is to commemorate that establishment. In fact, this city is very much on the map the world over these days and will be more so later on because of the canal and the universal fair. From what my associates have told me since getting back this afternoon I think business generally is better here this summer than what it is in the East just now."

General E H Liscum Camp No 7, Spanish War Veterans, will provide the pillar upon which the torpedo port facing from the battleship Maine is to be erected if the consent of the park commission is given. "Very respectfully,

TO START PAVING OF THOROUGHFARE

HAYWARD, July 19.—Over the heads of many protestants, all property owners in upper B street, the board of city trustees has ordered the city superintendent of streets to immediately start tearing up that thoroughfare in preparation for the laying of a macadam paving. ASSAULT AND BATTERY CHARGED BY NEIGHBOR

RICHMOND, July 19.—Claiming that John Franke struck his 10-year-old son without just provocation, Martin Cucham last evening swore to a complaint of assault and battery against him and he was later arrested by the local police, putting up $50 cash bail for his appearance in the police court. Cucham claims that Franke has taken a dislike to his children and that on several occasions has threatened them with violence, finally carrying out his threats. Franke denies that he injured the boy in any way and claims the arrest is spite work on the part of the complaining witness.

YAQUIS SLAY 300 MEXICAN REBELS

Savage Red Men Enlisted in Cause of Southern Republic.

JUAREZ, July 19.—Passengers arriving over the Mexican Northwestern from Madera today brought stories of a bloody massacre of rebels in Dolores mountain pass southwest of Madera at the entrance to the State of Sonora.

They declared that the vanguard of the column commanded by General Antonio Rogas was caught in a canyon at Dolores by nearly 1000 Yaqui Indians and that of 300 rebels less than 100 returned to Madera in safety.

That a force of government volunteers was operating behind Dolores to prevent an entrance of the rebels from Sonora was generally known here, but it was not believed any Yaqui Indians were enlisted in the cause of the government except the 600 fighting for General San Jines at Colonia Oaxaca in northern Sonora. Federal officials in El Paso preferred to wait more definite advices before commenting on the report.

TO WITHDRAW TROOPS

WASHINGTON, July 19.—All troops dispatched to El Paso when the Mexican rebels were moving on Juarez soon will be removed with the exception of a regiment of cavalry. A battalion of infantry, a battalion of field artillery and a regiment of cavalry now are there.

Nagle is to work on the road and to be paid $1.50 a day, which is to be collected and paid for the support of the little ones during his incarceration.

BERKELEY LAD WILL BE CONTENDER IN LONG SWIM

Johnny Degnan of Y. M. C. A. Among Entries That Paddle Golden Gate Sunday.

Among those to participate in the race across the Golden Gate, to be held next Sunday morning, will be an 18-year-old Berkeley lad, John P. Degnan. Degnan is a member of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. and has figured prominently in many of the aquatic events in which the association has been represented.

Degnan is entering the contest without restrictions, being affiliated with no athletic organization. The unique contest is to be held under the auspices of the Olympic Club, and has been sanctioned by the Pacific Athletic Association.

Degnan has attained fame as a swimmer. In 1909, when he was but fifteen years of age, he entered into a competition with Annette Kellerman, champion woman swimmer of the world, and Pitknoff, the Russian girl swimmer. The course was from Boston to the Boston light tower, a distance of eleven miles. While he was not the victor of the contest he was praised by the sportsmen of the country for his effort and for the splendid showing he made.

Degnan possesses four medals awarded in various contests for his ability as a swimmer. A gold medal was presented to him as the winner of a 220-yard race held in Lowell Massachusetts. He also holds a bronze medal given at the Oakland Y. M. C. A. for his showing in a recent life-saving contest.

Degnan is at this time connected with the Oakland Bank of Savings.

The others entered in the contest are as follows: Walter Pomeroy, George Bond, J. Scott Leary, Frank Marisch, Malcolm Steel, all of the Olympic Club; and the following unattached: William Wilson, I. G. Cockroft, W. G. Kiplinger, B. J. Prst, J. Exner, William J. Mangels and R. E. Grotkass.

2600 Sign Petition to Abolish Boxing in California.

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—An anti-prizefight petition, bearing 2600 signatures, and asking for amendments to the state law which, in effect, would make all kinds of boxing matches or sparring exhibitions unlawful, has been presented to County Clerk Harry Lelande. The petition was rejected by the clerk because it did not conform to all of the requirements of the law in that it did not carry the voting precinct of many of the signers. The petition will be corrected, it was said, and presented again within two or three days.

Close to 250 Pacers and Trotters Will Line Up at Pleasanton Races.

Close to 250 horses, representing the cream of pacers and trotters in California, are in active training at Pleasanton preparing for the four-day race meeting which opens at the historic track next Wednesday. These races mark the opening of the Pacific Coast Grand Circuit, and will afford local enthusiasts some high-class sulky sport.

R. J. MacKenzie, the Canadian millionaire and ardent horseman, is promoting his first real meeting at the Pleasanton track, which he recently purchased, and manager C. L. De Ryder declares that Pleasanton is going to play an important part in the revival of the light harness racing on the Pacific Coast. New stables and a new half-mile race course are in course of construction, and $75,000 will be expended to make the Pleasanton track one of the finest on the coast.

For this initial race meet MacKenzie has set up $12,000 in purses and prizes. Horsemen from all parts of California and adjoining states have been attracted by the generous purses, and have brought their steeds to Pleasanton for competition. All told, about 150 racers will take word from the starter. The track is fast and in good condition, and some exceedingly fast times are anticipated.

The feature even of the meet, the 2:12 trot, will be contested on Friday, July 26, the third day of the meeting. Fourteen of the fastest trotters in California have entered, and some rattling good racing is expected to result. Bernice R., the mare for whom M. C. Keefer refused $10,000, will be a slight favorite for the event, as she is working up to form, but there are a half dozen other cracks in the event who will have a following. The old campaigners, Adam G., All Styles, Expedio, Orlena and Mamie Aldwin are being touted on the strength of their brilliant work-outs.

The 2:08 pace, the $1500 event, which rivals the feature 2:12 trot, will be held on the last day, Saturday. Nine high-class pacers have entered and are at Pleasanton now going through their paces. Picking the favorite out of such a speedy lot would be hard indeed. Maurice S. has perhaps turned the best work up to date, according to track gossip, but there are a number of others who are classed with Maurice. Take Aerolite, Chiquita, Choro Prince, Hymettis and Normona and you have some tried racers that have shown their speed on many an occasion. S. Christenson has a crack entered in June Pointer.

Another race that is attracting a deal of attention is the pace for two-year-olds, down for settlement on the second day. Five juveniles, every one credited with being able to do 2:20 or better, will measure strides, and their respective owners are looking forward to some keen racing. The 2:25 trot and 2:30 pace will bring forth a bunch of green racers that may put over a surprise or two.

Manager C. L. de Ryder is making arrangements to handle a monster crowd. The grandstand will seat 3000 persons, and there is room about the track to accommodate thousands. Special train service from San Francisco will be made, and the crowds will be carried back and forth daily. It only requires about an hour and a half to make the trip, and the racers will be started at 1:30 o'clock.

If the coming meeting proves successful Mackenzie proposes to hold two meetings every season. There will be one [illegible] Grand Circuit and one in the late fall to close the circuit.

MATTY IS SHOWING HIS REAL FORM IN PILL HURLING

NEW YORK, July 19.—Fans who watched the score board and saw that the Giants were being led to victory by Mathewson brought up the rather interesting fact that Big Six is now close on Marquard's heels as a winner. During the excitement over the Rube's great streak thousands lost sight of the fact that Matty has lost but four games all season and one of those by pitching one inning.

So far Matty has won 14 games and lost but four. Marquard already has lost three on the present trip. That makes it look as if Matty might be the white hope of the Giants after all.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The National Sporting club of London is making an effort through it representative here to match Jem Driscoll, featherweight champion of Great Britain with Johnny Kilbane for the world's title.

Back to the Minors.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Because he would not keep in condition and continuously refused to obey the club training rules, George Mogridge, one of the most promising left handers in league, was sent back to the minors yesterday. Modridge opened well this spring, but soon broke all of Manager Callahan's laws, and the action of yesterday afternoon was the result. Mogridge goes to Lincoln, Neb.

HOWARD GREGORY, IN RARE FORM, BEATS SAN FRANCISCO

Oaks' One-Time Star Again a Star and Hearts of Oakland Fans Beat With Joy.

Guess all us Oakland rooters had better get in and give a great big hooray, for it looks mighty much as if that boy, Howard Gregory, has come back, and come back like a real live champion. Yesterday he took up the burdens for the Oaks for the second time since his rest and did better, far better, than he did on the first come-back stunt, and well we know how good he was then.

Yes, Siree, Howard stood on that hill out at Freeman Park yesterday afternoon and pitched a ball game that was a ball game. Two times only did the Seals break into the hit column and nary a time did they break into the run column.

On the other hand, we'uns broke into the run column twice, while our hits were but four. Those two runs and four hits won that game, so it made no difference if we had made twenty runs and twenty hits.

And right now let us tarry and say that Cack Henley pitched a mighty classy game of ball himself and his teammates played mighty classy ball behind him.

But our boys played a bit classier.

ALL OF 'EM HEROES.

If we started to go down the line to pick out the hero of the game it would be unfair to leave any man's name off the list, for every fellow that took an active part in that contest did his best to please and bring home the long end of the score.

At that, though, most of the plaudits are coming to Howard Gregory. For some moons now there were clamors for the head of the silent one. Fans who hope the Oaks will be the pennant bearers were unkind enough to want B. Sharpe to sharpen up the pruning knife and put H. Gregory into the discard heap.

B. Sharpe, though, was generous and said "Give the boy a chance" and he did and Howard showed that he could and would come back.

BIG JAWN GETS FIRST HIT.

The first hit of the game was gathered in the third inning when Big Jawn drove one into leftfield past Wuffli that landed him at the initial sack. When Rohrer went out, Henley to Mohler, covering the first cushion, Big Jawn got to second but he died there.

For the Seals it was Hartley that got the first hit, a single to rightfield. Howard had walked before this and the pole was good enough to put him at third base.

MAKES DOUBLE PLAY.

Gedeon, next to the batting hill, drove one like a bullet to right field, but Billie Leard headed it off and tossed to Cook, who tossed to Teidemann in time to make a jim dandy double play.

As for the Seals' other bingle, Gedeon grabbed that in the seventh. After the Copper had fanned Gedeon drove one into center on a line that burnt the fingers of E. Zacher and the pole went in the records as a double.

Corhan was passed, putting two on the bags. Wuffli, next up, hit to right and B. Coy squeezed the ball.

Mr. Gedeon got fresh around second and dared B. Coy to throw the ball. B. Coy did and A. Cook got it in time to touch J. Gedeon before he could get his trilbies on the keystone sack.

Those were the only occasions in which San Francisco was dangerous.

NEEDED NO UMPLETS.

Yesterday was the Seals' day to shine in the sixth inning. Yesterday it was our day and let us pause to say that no umplets helped us out.

After Gregory had died at first base Chocolate Eclaire Patterson pasted one into rightfield for a safety. A sign went up for the hit and run play and with Patterson off for second Leard drove the ball past Corhan into left for a single and Chocolate being fleet of foot beat it to third, while Billie beat it to second.

Zacher hit to Mohler, one of those slow, tantalizing bounders, and Ernie, while [illegible] late to get Patterson at the rubber.

On the hit Billie went to third and when Coy pasted one at Corhan Billie romped to the rubber, while Corhan was putting Zacher out at second.

Our star thirdsacker must have left his war clubs at home, for he failed to hit the ball at all and the inning was over. Still we had two and two was more than plenty.

.·. Around the Bases .·.

The Oaks won a fast game of ball from the Seals yesterday, but the Seals need not feel bad about it nor need those fellows who sit down and write letters and are ashamed to sign their names to them.

It was just too much Gregory, that's all, and inability of the Seals to hit behind Cack Henley. This has always been the complaint of the elongated slabster and it looks as if his howl was a good one. San Francisco does fail to hit when he is on the hill.

One of those fans who lives in Oakland but can't see the home team at all, has sent a communication to the baseball man calling him down for saying that the umps were punk in Wednesday's game. Maybe the baseball man was in error, but if he was then a couple of thousand fans were in error, too.

That exclusive story in THE TRIBUNE Wednesday night that Oakland had asked for waivers on Outfielder Hoffman and Pitcher Durbin, caused no little discussion around baseball circles yesterday.

For some reason all hands from the president down to the bat boy took occasion to deny that it was a fact, and offered to bet all kinds of kale that the baseball man had been bunked.

The bluff didn't go, though, for the news was later verified by Manager Sharpe and others.

What object was had in denying the news that the public is entitled to is unexplainable, for the public pay to see ball players perform and they should be told who is to play with a team and who isn't.

That the asking of waivers on Hoffman and Durbin is but what is called a feeler was admitted by the boss of the Oaks. Hoffman is really too good a man to be sent on his way. The man simply had a slump in his hitting and the lay-off would do him good. Durbin, too, might be in need of a rest, for the young man has had many troubles during the last three or four weeks.

It was a high-class article of baseball that both teams played yesterday, and while the Seals lost they need not feel ashamed. Both Henley and Gregory pitched excellent ball and the fielding behind the two was all that could be desired.

Both of Oakland's runs were earned for both hits were clean and the two outs that helped score the runs were hard hit balls and were well handled by Corhan and Mohler.

Two double plays helped the Oaks keep the Seals off the score-board. That one that Cook, Leard and Tiedemann pulled off was a fast piece of work and cut off at least one tally.

The other double play was accomplished because Gedeon played bushy ball at second base. He was off the bag when Wuffli hit to right. Coy caught the ball and Gedeon tried to draw a throw. He drew it all right, and Coy got the ball to Cook before Gedeon could get back to the bag.

Chocolate Eclaire Patterson was the best of the Oaks' hitters, getting half of the tallies chalked up against Henley. Leard got one and Tiedemann the other. Hartley and Gedeon were the Seals' best stickers.

Wuffli went through the entire game without getting one chance at third base while his opponent, Gus Hetling, gathered in two pop ups, both in the ninth, while he had one assist.

Bill Reidy is game and wouldn't give up the ship until the very last man was out. He figured that Schmidt might do better than Mohler in the eighth and sent the catcher into bat, but he couldn't do any better than the little fellow.

In the opening frame Gilmore was robbed of a good two-bagger and maybe a three-bagger, for Zacher went almost back to the fence in center field and pulled one out of the air with his bare hand.

One day you are a hero and the next it is to the scrap heap. A short time ago the fans and scribes were chuck full of ginger in praising young Joe Gedeon, and they had him playing Ty. Cobb right off the boards.

Now the same scribes and the same fans are hot after the busher, and each day he is handed a gentle little roast about his indifference on the batlefield. Perhaps the prodding is needed and will do the boy some good.

Bud Sharpe had a wee chunk of charcoal doing the mascot honors, and today the little fellow is as chesty as they make them. He says that he put the jinks on Henley in that sixth inning and that is the reason the Oaks scored. Let's hope that he can put the jinks on 'em all.

* * *

Howard Mundorff was out of the game yesterday with a sore hand, and Gilmore took his place. The new fellow had a busy time out in right field, getting no less than five flies, and he had to do some tall hustling to get them at that.

The third inning was a big one for Gregory, for he fanned Berry, Henley and Gilmore in a row. That encouraged the boy and from then on he hurled better than in the previous rounds.

MITT WIELDERS ARE NOW READY FOR CALL OF REFEREE

Dennis and McFarland Top Off Well Balanced Card of Sunset Club.

One of the best boing cards of the season is offered the fans at Dreamland this evening. There are eight bouts on the list and the boxers include featherweights, lightweights, welterweights, middleweights and heavyweights.

The scrap between Eddie Dennis and Tommy McFarland is listed as the main attraction, though several of the others look equally good. But Dennis and McFarland are a little better known than the others and for this reason, they have been given the honored place on the program.

The appearance of Dennis in the ring again has stirred up quite a bit of interest among the fans. Eddie returned from a successful Eastern trip a couple of weeks ago and immediately started after Ritchie and Burns and the others who are well up. But being unable to catch on with any of these Eddie accepted the first match offered him, that with McFarland. He hopes that by winning this one he will be able to boost himself into the front ranks.

McFarland is a good boy, a very steady performer who manages to hold his own with the best of them. He has been steadily plugging along for the past two years and is now near the top of the heap. Dennis will be a heavy favorite over Tommy, but the latter stands an excellent chance of winning and if he does he will have a license to challenge the best of them.

TOM KENNEDY TO SHOW.

Those who like the heavyweight mix-ups should enjoy the battle between Tom Kennedy, the amateur champion of the Coast, and Joe Long, the veteran. Kennedy has decided to make a try for white hope honors and they picked out Long as the most likely man to oppose him. Big Tom has everything in the world save experience and a knockout tomorrow night will mean a great boost for him.

The middleweights, Walter Coffey and Montana Dan Sullivan shape up evenly. Coffey is the better boxer, while Sullivan is one of those rough and tumble fellows who keeps boring in all the time. Both have been up against the best middleweights in the country and know the game thoroughly.

The other mills are as follows: Manuel Vierra vs. Joe Azevedo, featherweights; Rufe Turner vs. Billy Holmes, lightweights; Ed Mack vs. Ed Shannon, welterweights; Jack Kelly vs. Young Ketchel, lightweights; Charley Lanum vs. Ted Harvey, featherweights.

Demetral Defeats Leon.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 19.—William Demetral, the Greek wrestler, was given a decision over Jack Leon here last night after the men had wrestled for three hours and three minutes. Demetral won the only fall of the match in one hour and 19 minutes.

ANNUAL DIPSEA RACE.

This date was decided upon last evening at a meeting of the originators of the affair. "Big Chief" Tim Fitzpatrick will as usual be the man in charge. The entries will close on September 8.

WOMEN ARRESTED FOR ATTACK ON ASQUITH

Eight Violent Suffragettes Must Answer for Vicious Assault.

DUBLIN, July 19.—Eight English women have been arrested by the police in connection with the outbreaks on the arrival of Premier Asquith, last night, by suffragettes, who have been constantly dogging the heels of the British official since he left England.

The women are charged with complicity in the attempt to burn the Dublin theater, where Asquith is scheduled to speak today. A blazing chair was thrown into the orchestra from a box occupied by two women, who then set fire to the curtains. The fire caused a panic.

The eight are also charged with complicity in the attempt to injure Asquith by throwing a hatchet at his carriage as the party was proceeding from the wharf to a hotel.

Mrs. Mary Leigh, one of the suffragettes under arrest, was identified as the thrower of the hatchet. It is alleged by the police that she intended to brain Asquith.

LEADER IN VIOLENCE.

Mrs. Leigh has long been a leader in the violent tactics of the militant suffragettes. As far back as July, 1908, she was arrested for breaking windows in a demonstration in London. At that time, on being sentenced to two months in prison at hard labor Mrs. Leigh told the court "the next time we [illegible] you can expect bombs."

A year later Mrs. Leigh again was sentenced to two months at hard labor at Birmingham, and, on being released, brought damages against the government for forcible feeding while in prison. The woman is described by the police as the "most troublesome suffragette" with whom they have had to deal.

Mrs. Leigh was convicted for the eighth time in London, last November, for smashing windows, and was sentenced for two months in jail without the option of a fine. The magistrate warned Mrs. Leigh that if she were again convicted she would be sent to jail for a term at hard labor.

One of the women arrested last night gave the name of Gladys Evans, and said she came from England.

The police found quantities of gunpowder, kerosene and other inflammable materials in the rooms occupied by the arrested suffragettes. The officials claim to have evidence showing that the plans of the militant women contemplated serious outrages.

TO ANSWER FOR CRIME IN GOTHAM

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Charles Reese, alias Chester Yates, alias Clayton, alias George Wright, arrested here by Patrolman Brasfield, was taken to San Diego on June 19, together with a woman companion, Maud Adams. He was wanted there for the alleged robbery of a guest at the Hotel Grant, in complicity with a man named Charles Sobey.

While in custody here it was discovered that it was Reese who was wanted by the New York police for the knocking down of an aged stock broker in the heart of the metropolis business district. The broker was robbed of $35,000. The package of money which he was carrying was taken from him and another, containing worthless paper, substituted. Charles Ross, alias Murphy, was Reese's alleged accomplice in the crime. New York detectives left San Diego three days ago with Reese, who is being taken east.

Recently two detectives employed by a private agency were sent here by the Hotelmen's Association in San Diego to recover some of the jewelry alleged to have been stolen by Reese there. One of them returned and the other one is alleged to have taken some of the gems and disappeared in Oakland.

CLARK TO QUIT SENATORIAL RACE

It was announced today that Assemblyman Will C. Clark of the old Fiftieth district has decided to withdraw his name as a candidate to succeed State Senator John W. Stetson. Clark will seek re-election to the Assembly.

The withdrawal of Clark's candidacy means that Arthur H. Breed will probably have a clear field among the Republicans to succeed Stetson.

CULTURE TAUGHT WHILE YOU WAIT

So-Called Baroness Brings Suit for Lessons Given Social Aspirant.

HILLSBOROUGH, July 19.—Means of transforming new rich into polished social representatives have been uncovered in a suit filed in the justice's court by the Baroness de [illegible], who conducts the conservatory of music and languages at San Mateo.

The Baroness has brought suit under the name of Mrs. E. [illegible]. The defendant in the action is Lillie E. Peterson, who according to W. Hector Jerrett, attorney for the Baroness, recently became the possessor of well filled coffers of gold and a ranch of no mean proportions, through an inheritance.

Employed as a companion by Miss, or Mrs. Peterson, the Baroness avers that the contract was to cover a six months. Miss or Mrs. Peterson was living at the Hotel Vendome in San Jose when the culture process was started.

Later she went to San Francisco and took apartments at the Bellevue Hotel. The Baroness accompanied the heiress, but was denied the privilege of managing her [illegible] the accomplishments necessary to attain the desired results.

Many young men of fashion about the city called at the apartments in the Bellevue, she alleges. Miss or Mrs. Peterson always insisted on receiving her callers without the presence of the Baroness. Squalls were frequent.

Miss or Mrs. Peterson had once told the Baroness she was seeking culture so that she could marry a rich man whom she had just met. When the Baroness remonstrated against such a proceeding the young woman replied that divorces were easy at Reno if she found she had made a mistake. This led the Baroness to believe her pupil had had previous experience in that haven of the domestically troubled, hence her inability to say whether her pupil was Mrs. or Miss.

Ten days after she accepted the position of lady's companion her pupil summarily dispensed with the Baroness' services and returned to San Jose where she at present is either on her ranch or at the Vendome hotel.

The Baroness brought suit for her first month's wages, amounting to $120. It is understood she will file a similar suit each month until the six months have expired.

BRITISH CREWS AFTER HONORS

STOCKHOLM, July 19.—Two British boats were left to fight out the final heat of the outrigged eight-oared shells race today. They were the Leander crew which had an unexpectedly easy victory over the eight representing the Berlin Rowing club in the semi-finals, and New College, Oxford, which rowed over the course.

Leander and Berlin, in their semi-finals heat, were on even terms for the first quarter of the distance. At the half the Britishers assumed the lead, which they held until the end. The Englishmen easily held the Berlin eight's plucky spurt and paddled home, winning by half a length in 6:16 1-5.

OPERATION SENDS HIM INTO FAINT

While watching an injured friend being treated at the Receiving hospital, C. W. Carlson, a Berkeley plumber, fell in a faint this morning and rolled under the operating table. The injured man, Arthur Johnson, 1029 Eighth avenue, had all the fingers of his right hand crushed by falling cement trays. Carlson brought Johnson to the hospital and stood by solicitously while Steward Sam Platt applied first aid.

Johnson did not seem to mind his injuries much but when the steward's back was turned Carlson suddenly disappeared. He was found finally in a dead faint under the operating table and Platt had two patients instead of one.

SUTER IS WILD AND HOOLIGANS SCCRE AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., July 19.—Harry Suter, erstwhile great southpaw of the Seals, was given his initial baptism as a Beaver yesterday afternoon and those Tigers gave him a four to nothing walloping although up to the ninth inning the visitors had made one run off his delivery. In spite of the fact that he passed ten men, a season's record here, he was hard to beat and should the hometers been able to dent the run off Stewart, another story might be told.

Stewart tried his best to balk the game away, committing two of these breaches of baseball etiquette, but even that didn't help the scoreless Beavers.

Again the Beavers started off like winners, but it was not in the cards for them to show anything. Doane got the first of his three hits and Chadbourne sacrificed. Lindsay's hard grounder to Burrell was turned into an out at second on Doane who couldn't get back to the bag. Rodgers singled and Kreuger was hit with a pitched ball, but Gus Fisher flied to Carlisle for the third out.

In the fifth chapter the Bengals were to be denied no longer. After Lindsay copped Hosp's foul fly, Brashear walked for the third successive time and went to third on Bayless' whang to right. When Rodgers made a one-handed stop and drop of Fisher's throw to catch Dave purloining, Roy cantered home for the first run.

With two out in the third Lindsay singled and Rodgers doubled, but Krueger grounded to Hosp. In the fifth after Doane singled Rodgers walked with two outs and the pair moved up on Stewart's first balk, but this time Kreuger fouled out to Agnew. In the seventh Doane singled and stole second and third, but the next three men went out.

Suter, who had been getting by pretty well, considering the fact that he is not in perfect condition, started the ninth by issuing his fourth straight walk to Carlisle. Kane beat out a bunt down the first-base line and Carlisle never stopped going till he reached third. He scored on Hosp's single to left.

Kane reached third after Doane's catch of Brashear's fly, whence he scored on Bayless' infield out, Rodgers to Rapps. Litschi singled through short and Hosp was over for the fourth run. Burrell arched to Bancroft for the third out.

Manager Mac put Fitzgerald in the ninth to bat for Suter in an effort to start a batting rally, but Fitz fanned, showing how Stewart was the master of the situation.

Score by innings:

WONDERFUL! SENATORS MANAGE TO GATHER DOWN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Let the flag wave at full mast in old Sacramento town. The Deacon's won a ball game and by a score of 6 to 3. Jack Gilligan had the Seraphs falling for him from the start off to the finish.

In the opening set-to the Angels stole a run when he was not looking and added two more to their tally in the seventh, but in all the other sessions they drew blanks.

The Sacks took the lead with two aces in the first half of the opening frame and held the lead throughout the crush. They hammered away at Slagle every inning and knocked him out of the box in the eighth. Chech, who went in on Slagle's recall, survived the ninth.

Shinn started the ball rolling Sacramento way with an infield single. Slagle handed Lewis free transportation and O'Rourke's sacrifice sent Shinn to third and Lewis to second. The Deacon himself expired going to first, but Sheehan drove out a single to left center that sent two aces over the plate. Miller popped out to Lober and the side expired.

After the fatal first Walter held the famished Sacks safe until the fifty, when Gilligan rambled home with the assistance of his own single, Lewis' double and Patsy's single. A rattling double play, pulled off by Heinie, Slagle, Brooks and Berger, caught Lewis sliding home and Patsy loafing down toward second. In the eighth inning the Sacks sent over two more aces and incidentally drove Slagle from the box. This inning cinched the game for them.

The Angels tallied one run in the first on Berger's infield single and Heinie's double against the center field fence, but they were unable to send another run over until the seventh, when, led on by the lusty yells of Cap Dillon, [illegible] and Slagle were sent over the pan on Slagle's single and Howard's triple down the first base line.

In the last frame Cap came yelling to the first base line wild for a great ninth-inning finish, but the Sacks would not stand for any of that tiger stuff and never allowed a man to reach second.

The score:

HITS AND RUNS BY INNINGS.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Sacramento	2	0	0	0	1	0	1	2	0	6
Base hits	2	1	0	1	3	0	1	3	1	12
Los Angeles	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	3
Base hits	3	0	0	1	0	0	3	2	1	10

Ten hits and five runs off Slagle; taken out in the eighth with runner on second and none out. Charge defeat to Slagle. Three-base hit—Howard. Two-base hits—Heitmuller, Lewis, Van Buren. Sacrifice hits—O'Rourke 2, Shinn. Bases on balls—Off Gilligan 2, off Slagle 2. Struck out—By Gilligan 1, by Slagle 2, by Chech 1. Double plays—Ireland to O'Rourke to Miller, Moore to Howard to Metzger. Wild pitch—Slagle. Hit by pitcher—Howard by Gilligan. Time of game—1h. 50m. Umpires—Townsend and Hildebrand.

AD WOLGAST WON'T BE READY TO BOX FOR 6 MONTHS

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—In a statement given out last night, Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion, removed the last hope for a return engagement between himself and Joe Rivers on Labor day by refusing to sign articles with any one for six months.

"In regard to the Rivers fight, I will say that I have never come to any definite arrangements with McCarey," said Wolgast. "I will fight Rivers when I get ready and have instructed Tom Jones not to sign with any one for six months. I will give Rivers my word that I will box him in six or seven months."

WHITE AND MORAN IN GREAT SHAPE FOR TOMORROW'S GO

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—With both [illegible] as anxious to win as if their meeting was to decide a championship, Owen Moran of England and Jack White of Chicago will battle for 20 rounds at the Vernon arena tomorrow afternoon. Both will weigh 133 pounds at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Since Ad Wolgast positively refused to meet Joe Rivers again for the lightweight title, the winner of tomorrow's battle is considered in line for a match with Rivers on Labor day. Important Notice to Voters of Registration

Office of John P. Cook, County Clerk, Oakland, Alameda County, California.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 1094 of the Political Code of the State of California, all voters of Alameda County must apply for re-registration in order to be able to vote at the primary election to be held on September 3, 1912, and for the general election to be held on the 5th day of November, 1912.

Owing to the fact that there is no provision of law granting assistance to the County Clerk in the registration of voters, it is important that voters should apply for registration at once, in order to expedite the work.

Such re-registration began on the first day of January and will be in progress at all times until August 3d, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the primary election, after which registration will again open and continue until October 5th, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the general election to be held November 5th, 1912.

The attention of voters is especially directed to the recent decision of the supreme court, in which it is held that all voters must have registered this year in order to join in the signing of any certificate of nomination in behalf of any candidates for public office to be voted for at the primary election, to be held September 3d, 1912.

Attention is further directed to the following provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to registration:

Section 1097. No person's name must be entered by the Clerk unless:

1. Upon the production and filing of a certified copy of the judgment of the Superior Court directing such entry be made.

2. If a naturalized citizen, upon the production of his certificate of naturalization, which certificate must be issued ninety days prior to the succeeding election, or upon his affidavit that it is lost or out of his possession, which affidavit must state the place of his nativity, and the time and place of his naturalization, together with his affidavit that he has resided in the United States for five years, and in this State for one year next preceding the time of application, and that he would be an elector of the county, or city and county at the next succeeding election; provided, however, if such naturalized citizen shall have been previously registered as a qualified elector in any of the counties or cities and counties of this State, and shall produce a certificate of such registration, issued by the party authorized by law to issue such certificate, which shall recite the time and place of naturalization of such elector, such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of his naturalization. In the event that such naturalized citizen shall state in his affidavit that he was naturalized in the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, or in the event that he was previously registered within the preceding eight years within the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, and his certificate of naturalization has not been revoked, he shall not be required to produce his certificate of naturalization, nor to make such affidavit of lost certificate in lieu thereof, provided, however, that in any county or city and county where the affidavits of registration have been destroyed by fire or conflagration, or other public calamity, the above stated provision as to previous registration within the preceding eight years shall in such county or city and county, apply only for such number of years past as there shall exist a record of previous registration, and not to exceed in any event said eight years.

3. If born in a foreign country, upon his affidavit that he became a citizen of the United States by virtue of the naturalization of his father while he was residing in the United States, and under the age of twenty-one years, and that he is or would be an elector of the county at the next ensuing election.

4. In all other cases, upon the affidavit of the party that he is or will be an elector of the county at the next succeeding election. Such affidavit must be made before the county clerk or officer charged with the registration of voters, or their deputy. If any elector is absent from the county in which he claims residence, he may appear before any judge or clerk of any court of record, or notary public, or if in a foreign country, before any minister, consul, or vice-consul of the United States and make and subscribe an affidavit as to his residence, specifying in what ward or precinct he claims residence; that he will be necessarily and unavoidably absent from said county, or city and county, on all the days allowed by law for general registration of electors, and setting forth in such affidavit each and all the matters required by section one thousand and ninety-six of the Political Code of the State of California, and forward such affidavit, duly authenticated as above, by mail, enclosed in an envelope, addressed to the county clerk of any county, or the registrar of voters in any city and county. Upon receipt of such affidavit by such clerk or registrar of voters within the time allowed by law for registration, it shall entitle the name of such elector to be entered by the clerk in the proper register in such precinct.

5. In every case the affidavit of the party must show all the facts required to be stated in the entry on the register, except the date of the entry.

Further notice is hereby given that affidavits of registration must be sworn to before the County Clerk or his deputies and that they cannot, owing to the provisions of the registration law, be sworn before any other officer.

The office of the County Clerk will be open for registration until further notice from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m. of each day, except Saturdays, on which day the office will close at 12 o'clock noon.

Dated: March 11, 1912.

JOHN P. COOK,
(SEAL) County Clerk.

GREAT QUANTITIES OF WHEAT SOLD

Closing of Dardanelles Results in the Transfer of Grain.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Huge quantities of wheat changed hands today due to the closing of the Dardanelles and the consequent blockade of grain exports from southern Russia. The market opened all the way from ¼ to 1⅛c higher than last night and for a short time held to the top level reached. A majority of dealers had previously been paying attention mainly to the big crops promised to the American Northwest and had been selling on a heavy scale. September wheat opened at 95@95¼c, a rise of 1⅛ to 2⅛c, but afterwards receded to 93⅞c.

Large export sales brought about a subsequent rally. The close was nervous, with September 1⅛c net higher at 94⅝c.

Corn showed a disturbance fairly equal to wheat. Reasons were identical. September started 1 to 2c a bushel higher, 65¼ to 66⅛c, and later fell back to 64⅞c.

The market afterward broke sharply owing to free selling by bear leaders but recovered when wheat made a fresh upturn. The close was unsettled at 65¼c for September, a net advance of a cent.

Oats were not so much affected as other grain. September opened ⅛@¼c up at 33⅝ to 33¾c, touched 33⅞@34c and then reverted to 33⅝c.

Interest was diverted from provisions on account of the excitement in grain. Initial sales ranged from last night's level to 15c higher, with September delivery $17.65 to $17.67½ for pork, $10.55 to $10.66 for lard and $10.47½ for ribs.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Cash grain: Corn—No. 2, 70@70½c; No. 2 white, 76@76½c; No. 2 yellow, 71@71½c; No. 3, 69@70¼c; do white, 75@75¼c; do yellow, 70@70½c; No. 4, 66@68c; do white, 72@74c; do yellow, 69@69½c.

Clover seed—$15@18.

RICHMOND NOTES

RICHMOND, July 19.—The ark lights in the annexed districts of the city are being installed by the Western States Co., and seven are now burning, while the rest of the twenty ordered will be in commission tomorrow or Monday. Considerable street and sewer work will also be done in the outlying sections during the fall.

Mrs. D. D. Whitbeck, mother-in-law of Librarian Alice Whitbeck of this city, and a resident of Sacramento, arrived in Richmond last evening dressed in clothing borrowed from people in Byron following the destruction of the Byron Springs hotel at an early hour yesterday morning. She lost all of her personal belongings and was forced to flee in her night robe.

John Bowman, who was arrested for failure to support a minor child, was released last evening when he agreed to contribute $10 a week for the support of his offspring.

LEADING ISSUES PILE UP RAPIDLY

NEW YORK, July 19.—The stock market today reflected further quiet accumulation of leading issues, with an especial inquiry for Union Pacific, which was the strongest of the active group. Other speculative leaders of prominence, including Reading, St. Paul and Amalgamated, with Steel, was barely steady, some selling accompanying the imminence of the publication of the Stanley committee's findings.

Conditions here were not at all affected by the London market, where Americans generally were lower. Business in the first hour was of fair proportions but later dropped down to extreme dullness.

Under moderate trading the market moved steadily upward in the late afternoon, at which time best prices of the week were recorded.

Bonds were steady.

The market closed strong. Profit taking was followed by another period of dullness and fractional recessions from best prices in the final dealings.

HARBOR, TUNNEL AND WHARF PLANS FINISHED

RICHMOND, July 19. — Announcement was made at the Board of Trade meeting by Mayor J. C. Owens that the plans for the municipal tunnel and wharf and the inner harbor have been nearly completed by Engineer F. A. Haviland of Oakland, consulting engineer of this city, and that they would be ready for submission to the city council within the next three or four weeks, so that the council may call a bond election, thus cutting out the expense of calling a special election.

The plans as prepared by the engineers are of a most comprehensive character and every possible detail that may add to their effectiveness in the development of the citys waterfront resources has been included.

STEFFENS KNEW OF M'NAMARAS' GUILT

Author Turned Over to Prosecution in Darrow Trial.

'I'M WORSE THAN ANARCHIST,' HE SAYS

Declares Crime Was Not Individual But "Social" One.

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—After a few questions relative to a meeting between himself and Clarence S. Darrow at which they were joined by Bert H. Franklin, Lincoln Steffens was turned over to the prosecution for cross-examination at the bribery trial today.

Franklin had testified that Darrow had handed him a jury list at that meeting with the remark, "That looks better," as he pointed to the names of George N. Lockwood and A. J. Kruger. Steffens said he recalled the meeting and that there was no effort at concealment by Darrow and Franklin. He did not remember the conversation.

District Attorney Fredericks immediately plunged into the negotiations for the ending of the McNamara trial. He asked the witness why no publicity was given the negotiations. Steffens replied that their object would be misunderstood. Subsequently, he said, this had been proved by the manner in which the country had received the news. He was certain that publicity before hand would have resulted in failure of the plan.

WORSE THAN ANARCHIST.

"Mr. Steffens," said the district attorney, "I believe you are an avowed anarchist."

"Yes, and worse than an anarchist," was the reply. "I am a great deal more radical; I believe in Christianity."

"Did not you say during the campaign here that if there was an anarchist running against Job Harriman, the Socialist, that you would vote for the anarchist?"

Above the storm of objections raised by the defense Steffens replied that he had said something like that and was asked to explain.

The district attorney did not want to let the witness explain his answer and Chief Counsel Rogers of the defense demanded that Steffens be given that right.

NOT IN COURTROOM.

"The witness' views would be instructive and enlightening," said Rogers. "We don't often get Christianity in the courtroom."

The prosecution withdrew its objection to an explanation.

Steffens said that the remark was actuated by the anarchism which was being enunciated at the time by the newspapers and even the ministers of the country. He said that he had brought money from New York to aid the Harriman campaign, but as an anarchist he did not believe in politics.

Returning to the so-called peace negotiations, Steffens said that during his meetings with the citizens' committee he had never intimated that J. J. McNamara would plead guilty.

"Did you know then that the McNamaras were guilty?" asked the district attorney.

"Yes; I learned it the third day after I got here. I called on John J. McNamara and I learned it from him indirectly."

WAS "SOCIAL" CRIME.

"Then, knowing a man was guilty, you tried to have him go free?"

"Yes, because the crime was not an individual, but a social crime—a revolutionary and not a legal crime, in which a great mass of people was involved."

The witness said that he believed that he would be justified in helping men after they had committed such crimes.

"In all my talks with the McNamaras," he said, "I urged upon them that labor was going at it in the wrong way, just as capital was—that violence was wrong."

Asked whether he would go to the extent of bribing jurors in assisting men accused of social crimes, Steffens declared with a smile:

"No, sir; my feelings toward bribery are just the same as they are toward murder or bribing legislatures."

CAUSE CANNOT SUFFER.

Asked whether he had labored so hard in behalf of J. J. McNamara in order to save the cause of labor, Steffens replied:

"The cause of labor cannot suffer. The great danger in a community like this was that it would come to think it had solved the problem of capital and labor."

Captain Fredericks then questioned the witness closely as to the status of the negotiations on Thanksgiving Day, two days after Franklin was arrested. He acknowledged that on that day he had expressed the hope in conversation with Harry Chandler that he could get John J. McNamara to "come through." Asked to reconcile this with his statement on direct examination that the McNamaras had agreed to plead guilty, the witness said he had hoped to the last that the elder McNamara could be saved from the penitentiary.

"There came a time when I had to drop the bluff," added Steffens.

"Did you ask Mr. Chandler that day to go to the district attorney and have the Franklin bribery cases dropped?" asked Fredericks.

"Yes, I did; I wanted the whole thing swept clean, so that there would be no more prosecutions connected with the case in order that the plans of the citizens' committee for new relations between labor and capital in Los Angeles could be consummated."

Steffens said he took that action on his own initiative without the consent of Darrow.

PEACE IS OBJECT OF DUBOIS' VISIT

American Minister to Colombia Arrives in New York.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The arrival in New York yesterday of James T. Dubois, American minister to Colombia, leads to the suggestion that his visit, while he is nominally on leave of absence, may have something to do with an effort to relieve the strained situation between the two countries, the result of the separation of Panama from Colombia. Dubois is expected in Washington for a conference at the state department.

BYRON SPRINGS OPEN TO PUBLIC

BYRON, July 19. — Despite the disastrous fire which destroyed the famous Byron Hot Springs Hotel yesterday, entailing a loss of $200,000, the management of the hotel has no intentions of closing up the resort, even temporarily. Accomodations for some sixty people may be secured in the cottages surrounding the ruins of the famous structure, and the baths and wonderful natural resources of the garden spot are still intact. Plans are at this time being considered for the early reconstruction of the hotel, under the same management.

Through the prompt efforts of the employes and guests of the hotel, in spreading the alarm in a quiet and orderly manner, every one had ample time to leave the burning structure in safety. No one was hurt nor were there accidents of any kind. The fire, it is presumed, was started in the kitchen, through some defect of the range or flue.

TEMPORARY STRUCTURES.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Passenger Traffic Manager Charles F. Fee of the Southern Pacific company received a wire this morning from the agent at Byron informing him of the temporary structures already being erected on the ground at Byron Hot Springs. Although the embers of the burned hotel are scarcely cold, there has already been erected a temporary kitchen and dining room and a large number of tents. The managers stated that within a week they will be able to accomodate as many guests as usual. The bath houses are intact.

FLAMES AND BOOSTERS MAKE WAR ON WEEDS

ALAMEDA, July 19. — Fire has come to the assistance of the Alameda Adornment league, an organization created for the purpose of ridding the vacant lots and sidewalk areas of weeds and grass, for within the last [illegible] weeks no fewer than 51 times has the fire department been called out and of these calls 47 were for grass fires.

The calls for grass fires have, of late become very irregular, due to the fact that most of the weeds and dry grass have gone up in smoke or have been pulled up by the adorners, and the horses and men are preparing to take a rest.

AUTOS ARE STOLEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Dr. J. Wilson Shields had his automobile stolen last night while he was at dinner and the police were notified of the loss this morning. The car is a Stevens Duryea runabout with license No 16514.

M. B. Charles of 346 Golden Gate avenue reports the theft of his car, a Marion, No 48953.

Grace Benson says: "Had anyone told me such wonderful results could be accomplished so quickly I positively would not have believed it. My arms and hands were covered with freckles, my neck was dark and wrinkled from the use of high collars; my hands were tanned and the knuckles red.

"All these defects were removed by one application of a free pre[illegible] I am pleased to give to anyone. It's just as simple as it is effective. Go to any drug store and get an empty two-ounce bottle and a one-ounce bottle of Kulux Compound. STEPFATHER TOO MUCH FOR BOY

Lad Runs Away From Home and Disappears in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Alfred Henry Huddart, aged 13 years, fled from his home in Agua Caliente because he objected to a stepfather and is in hiding somewhere in this city. The boy was last seen a week ago in a penny arcade at the foot of Market street but at sight of someone who knew him, fled and thus far has kept out of the way of searchers. Miss E. T. Huddart, a sister, who resides at 1327 Leavenworth street, fears for the boy's safety and this morning asked for police aid.

Alfred ran away about a month ago and was located on a ranch near San Rafael. There his mother pleaded with him to return and he promised to do so setting out for home the next day. While en route he met an automobile and prevailed upon the driver to give him a ride. He was taken to Petaluma where all trace of him was lost until he was seen here last week.
